PROOF POSITIVE.

The great question that is agitation the minds of Portland's citizens just now is, "Were Mrs. Potter and Mr. Bellew in the Rev. Wallace's church when that gentleman made his attack upon them?" Of course it doesn't much matter whether they were or not, for they have not only managed to beat the Oregonian, but also the Telegram, out of some of the best advertising that was ever put up on the coast. Looked at from a business standpoint, one would almost believe Mr. Wallace was a party to the scheme. We do not mean to say that he was, for in fact we do not believe that way, but he can console himself with the reflection that his ill-adwised attack will cause hundreds to visit the theater where the Bellew-Potter combination shows.

Mr. Wallace says both Mrs. Potter and Mr. Bellew were in his church when he denounced them. Mrs. Potter, Mr. Bellew, Mrs. Emery and others say they were not there. It is quite probable that the Rev. Wallace was mistaken, and indeed there is no reason why any of the parties should deny their presence in church on Sunday, if they were present. If they were, it is to be supposed that they will not repeat the offense in Mr. Wallace's church.

The plot of the play which so aroused Mr. Wallace's ire is of the stereotyped Deamess Cannot be Cured order, not worse than "Camille," not By local applications, as they cannot worse than "Frou Frou," both old-The really ludicrous part of the comedy is supplied by our contemporary, rives at the conclusion that Mrs. Pot-ter's statement that she was not there is true. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. Borneo's Fishes

More than three hundred species of fish hitherto unknown to naturalists are described by M. Leon Vaillant as inhabiting the lakes of Borneo. Many other fish are identical with species living in the waters of the Sunda islands and of Indo-China. The Oregon Weekly Democrat, published at Salem by E. H. Flagg, gives notice in its issue of August 3d, that that will be the last copy of the paper, it suspending and with no intention of resuming. The editor (as most democratic editors do) quits cheerfully saying that to maintain the paper was using up his means, and that a democratic paper could not live in Marion county. If our democratic friends will keep up their wise course in Oregon, in another year or two it will be a close race between them and the prohibitionists for the honor of chasing the political procession.
