AUGUST AUGURINGS.

Leaves from the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Leslie Butler is building a barn on his property on Fourth street.

The Oregonian today says the tariff matter is as far from settlement as ever.

We are pleased to note that T. N. Joles, who has been very sick, is recovering. He was on the street today for the first time in nearly two weeks.

Owing to the fact that the wharf boat has to be taken out of the canal at the Cascades, and that no transfers of freight can be made, the Regulator will not make another trip until Monday.

The weather today has been cloudy and sultry, threatening rain, but at the same time withholding it. It is much the same condition as this democratic congress—starting the sweat on all of us, and not doing anything either.

The Regulator took down 400 bales of wool this morning, about fifty tons. This has been going on for some time, but still there seems to be almost as much wool in the warehouses as at first.

Articles of incorporation were filed today by the Cascade Water Company, the object of the incorporation being to furnish water to the town of Cascade Locks. The incorporators are H. A. Leavens, D. L. Cates, C. G. Hickok, T. C. Benson and E. P. Ash.

The Heppner Gazette says: Last Saturday, while switching in the Heppner yards the engine of the branch was derailed. The accident, we are informed, was caused by a misplaced switch. An engine had to be brought up from The Dalles to straighten up the wreck. No one was hurt, and little damage was done to the engine.

We have been asked whether we meant what we said the other day, that 45 pounds of wheat could be bought in the Caucasus for a cent and three-quarters. That is exactly what we meant to say; in other words, that a bushel of wheat could be bought for about two cents and a half. That is not strange, however, for it can be bought in the stack, last year's grain, around the Palouse, for six cents a bushel.

Mr. Ed Martin and a party of three others will leave Monday for the Mattoles for a month's outing. Ed has been all over that country, knows all the choicest trout streams and good hunting grounds. Besides he knows how to run a camping outfit, can eat lots of fish, as well as catch them, and will have just a splendid trip. He has promised to catch the modarch of the creek for us, and to eat him too, which is as near as we will come to ornamenting a trout stream this democratic summer.

Fatal Shooting Near Pomeroy.

Jasper A. Mills, brother of Mrs. Theodore Cartwright of this city, was killed near his home, twelve miles from Pomeroy, Garfield county, Washington, August 1st. He and a neighbor had been having trouble over water for an irrigating ditch, which was taken from a creek on Estes land, and on the day in question, he had gone to turn the water into the ditch notwithstanding the command of Estes that he refrain from touching it. Both men were armed and in the quarrel ensuing began to shoot at the same time. Mills was shot through the heart and killed instantly. The meeting was accidental, and the fact that both were armed, caused the death of Mills and the imprisonment of Estes. All a pistol is good for, any way is to get its owner in trouble.

Sherar, the property known as the Finnegun ranch, in Sherman county. Larkin Lamb to Michael Dichtenmiller, right of way through part of section 1, tp. 2 n., r. 11 e.; $20.

Teachers' Examination.

The teachers' examination will be concluded tonight. Some bright Oregonian reporter got hold of the list of questions used in the examination Wednesday and they appeared in that paper yesterday. In consequence Superintendent Shelly was compelled to change the questions in arithmetic and some other branches, lest the guileless young ladies, who are supposed to answer them, should take advantage of the information, and work their examples at home. We judge from the list in the Oregonian that the list of questions is an exceptionally hard one.

During the dog-day season, the drain of nervous and vital energy may be counteracted by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, it acts as a superb corrective and tonic, and enables the system to defy malarial and other climatic influences.

The Trespass Law.

The last session of the Oregon legislature enacted a trespass law, the provisions of which are not generally known, and sportsmen may profit by reading the same over carefully. We publish the law by request in full.

SECTION 1.—It shall be unlawful for any person other than an officer on lawful business, being armed with a gun, pistol, or other firearm, to go or trespass upon any enclosed premises, or lands without the consent of the owner or possessor thereof.

Sec. 2.—It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot upon or from the public highways, or to shoot at any animal, bird, or beast, or to shoot at any person, being armed with a gun or other firearm, to cause, permit or suffer any dog, accompanying such person, to go or enter upon any enclosed premises without the consent of the owner or possessor thereof; provided, that this section shall not apply to dogs in pursuit of deer or varmints.

Sec. 4.—Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not less than $15 nor more than $50, and in default of the payment of the fine, imposed shall be committed to the county jail of the county in which the offense is committed, one day for every two dollars of said fine.

Sec. 5.—Justices of the peace for the proper county shall have jurisdiction of the trial of offenses herein defined.

Market Reports.

FRIDAY, Aug. 10th.—The business of the week has somewhat fallen off in all lines. The markets are steady. Country produce is in full supply and prices are nominal. The fruit movement is fair. There are no changes in quotations.

The wool market has been active during the past week, and sellers have realized from 9 1/2 to 10 cents per pound. The final action of the conference committee on the tariff measure is believed to have caused a shrinkage in values. There has been a steady shipment and buyers have improved the opportunity of purchasing these purchases into the Eastern markets.

The wheat question is unsettled, and the markets are lifeless. The demand for export has not, as yet, given any activity or encouragement to the market. The outlook for an early advance is far from a realization of facts, and a cheap loaf is the promise.

The Salmon Catch.

This is the last day of the salmon fishing season. Although it was so disastrous in the beginning, the season has been better than last year, the catches being about 385,000 cases last year, and about 330,000 this. On the lower river the unprecedented floods made the season short, and also decreased the catch by carrying away a number of traps and filling settling grounds with drift; yet the phenomenal run sufficed to overcome this. The loss of three-fourths of the wheels here was a serious one, though the stage of water would have prevented their being used the greater part of the season. However, the cannery was kept running to its fullest capacity, and the catch would have been larger if it could have been handled. Many of the wheels will be replaced as soon as the stage of water will permit, and the fall run will add considerable to the total catch.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Ed Martin and T. A. Hudson arrived home today from a trip through Sherman county. They tell us harvesting is being pushed rapidly, and the crop is an immense one.

Mr. James B. Crossen leaves for Portland tomorrow, and thence for California for a month's visit. We tried to get him to adopt us and take us along, but not wanting to start a famine in Southern California on top of the other misfortunes, he refused.

Chinese Packers Driven Away.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 10.—Trouble has occurred at the Rudolph fruit packing warehouse. The owner of the establishment, which opened today, had procured about 100 Chinese from Sacramento for packing fruit, and a large crowd of white men met them at the warehouse. The Chinese were driven from the building. The manager was forced to send them away from the city.

Still Thinks That Can Win.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—The great Corlies engine in the Pullman shops was operated today for the first time in three months. Two more departments were opened. About 650 men are at work. The strike leaders have sent telegrams to almost every labor organization in the country stating the strike would be won if it can be continued awhile, but they are starving.

The Woodland Train.

Woodland, Cal., Aug. 9.—In the train wrecking case this morning the session of court was devoted entirely to arguments of attorneys relative to the admissibility of telegrams sent by strikers during the trouble. The prosecution insisted the telegrams were good evidence in substantiation of charges of conspiracy.
