THE SAME THING OVER AGAIN.

The public is aware no doubt with the continuous harping on the tariff muddle by the newspapers, but that weariness is mild compared to that of those who have to do the harping.

We have been told for more than two months "A vote will be reached tomorrow," or that "An agreement has been reached," or some other promise that the end was at hand has been made.

The situation is similar to that between the railroads and the strikers. The house stands firm, and says it has nothing to arbitrate, and the senate has struck.

The salmon can now seek the headquarters of the Columbia undisturbed, provided the fish protector Mr. McGuire can keep the fishermen's union, which by the way is composed almost entirely of foreigners, from running their nets.

And now Pendleton is having a squabble over its scouring mills. Sait has been brought, or rather arrests have been made, of the managers of the mill for maintaining a nuisance.

It is said that Russell Sage intends to leave $25,000,000 to charitable institutions when he dies. It is quite natural for a fellow to leave his wealth when he dies, because he can't take it with him.

And now the house and senate are disputing as to which is entitled to the possession of the Wilson bill. There have been some short, but acrimonious speeches made concerning it, but in this case the house has the best of the argument.

Miss Madeline Pollard is to appear on the stage sometime in October. We judge from the testimony adduced in the trial of the suit between herself and Breckinridge that she has most of the qualifications that go to make a successful modern actress, very largely developed.

It doesn't matter to China how many of her soldiers are killed in battle. With nearly 100,000,000 men capable of bearing arms, she can spare more killed every year, and not miss them, than were engaged in the civil war on both sides.

Brother Shutt, of the Condon Globe, has our thanks for some valuable advertising. Quoting an article from this family journal, concerning the girls kissing one another, he "did us proud" by printing our name as being the fellow that wanted to be a girl. That's all right, brother, as long as we can't be a girl we will try to get along by being as near one as we can.

YOUNG WIDOW PENSIONERS.

Capt. Skinner Finds the Old Soldier Marketable for Matrimony. United States Pension Agent Skinner has discovered that there are many blushing into marriage contracts with veterans who have passed the three score mark.

This state of things, in the Pittsburgh district, at least, though not throughout the country, indicates that the payment of pensions will furnish valuable assistance to many handsome widows for at least half a century to come.

Agent Skinner has just completed his report for the quarter ending January 4, and also a report for the month of January. The report for the quarter shows that 44,595 pensioners were paid, the amount disbursed being $1,638,864.28.

This makes a net increase of 23, and Mr. Skinner says that it is due to the marriage of old soldiers to young women. The husbands die and then the wife gets a pension, sometimes when her husband did not.

"There is no way of telling from the records just how many cases of this kind there are," said Capt. Skinner. "but the number must be very considerable and will cause the pension roll to remain large for many years to come."

Continuing, the genial agent described a case of one of the young widows from a neighboring town who he had learned was married on January 4, probably immediately after getting her quarter's pension.

She could have married at any time and drawn her pension down to the day of her marriage. She evidently wanted the whole amount, which was $30, and delayed the happy day to get it. Setting her voucher certified under a different name, and for a fractional amount of her quarter's pay, so that it was probably on the whole best to get married on pension day.

From the laughing manner in which Capt. Skinner told this story, it is evident the happy ex-widow would not have been grudging her little dowry from Uncle Sam had she announced her intention to marry immediately on receiving it.

The captain did not say so, but it is probable the government will solve the question of increase in the pension rolls through young widows of old soldiers by encouraging them to imitate the example of the practical lady who got married on pension day.

PRACTICAL PHILANTHROPY.

Institution for the Training of Jewish Youth at Hanover.

A novelty in practical philanthropy is described by W. C. Fox, formerly consul to Brunswick, Germany, who has just returned to Washington. "During my visit to Hanover," said Mr. Fox in the course of a recent conversation with a St. Louis Globe-Democrat correspondent. "I examined an institution for the training of Jewish youth. The institution is something entirely new. It has been established by Alexander Moritz Simon. Mr. Simon is the American vice consul at Hanover, where he is also a prominent banker. Those who have knowledge of the situation in Russia and Germany to-day fully understand that one of the chief causes of the anti-Semitic movements in those countries is that the Jews are solely dealers and traders.

"Mr. Simon told me," continued Mr. Fox, "that in his visits to the United States in 1882 and 1890, he remarked the distressing conditions of the Jewish immigrants, arising mainly from the fact that they were unable to perform such work as they could obtain from labor. Knowing no mechanical trade, they were of necessity driven to peddling. Mr. Simon, some time ago, became convinced that if many of the Jewish youth in Russia and Eastern Persia were properly taught trades, it would be the best answer to the chief argument of the anti-Semitic agitators.

Actuated by this belief, he founded this institution. He has purchased some seventy acres of land near the city of Hanover. The necessary buildings have been erected so that sixty boys can be accommodated. The prime object is to teach agriculture, gardening and fruit culture in all their branches. Carpentering, locksmithing, shoemaking, baking and other trades will be taught. The movement and the institution have already received the hearty indorsement and assistance of prominent Israelites in Europe. There is every evidence that the experiment will prove successful and pioneer the way for similar institutions in other parts of Europe."

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 150 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."
