NOT A LAW YET.

Yesterday the no longer terrified democracy of the house met in caucus and decided to surrender to the senate, to accept the senate bill. Before the vote was taken, Mr. Wilson, author of the bill, made the statement that he had been informed that the sugar trust had so firm a hold on the senate, and was so certain that the house would be forced to accept the senate bill, that it had purchased sugar of the value of $112,000,-000. That if the senate bill passes, the tariff imposed by it would give the sugar trust a clear profit of $40,000,000. Yet in the face of this both Wilson and Crisp, the speaker of the house, advised surrender. Advised giving the sugar trust $40,000,000 of the people's money at the dictation of Gorman. Time was when an American congressman would have rotted in his seat before he would have submitted to tyranny; when the have submitted to tyranny; when the house was jealous of its prerogatives and would have resisted to the death the attempt of the senate to originate a bill for raising revenue. That time seems to be passed. The senate first submitted to Gorman, and now the house submitting to the senate does the same thing.

The mongrel mixture of free trade and high, and distinctively protective tariff ideas of the bill as it now exists is neither the creation of the house nor senate. It is the handiwork of nor senate. It is the handiwork of Gorman. It is one man's bill, and that man an admitted mouthpiece and representative of the sugar trust. So when the matter is traced back to first cause, the bill is that of Havemeyer and the ferent grades. I now offer for sale all right shoulder; rather thin cinch sore sugar trust.

not, or at least has not been given to tinue till all are sold. submitting to anybody. He has said that the senate bill was a combination of "perfidy and dishonor." That he will become a party to those crimes does not seem reasonable. His reputation is made, he has nothing to gain further from the democratic party, and he has everything to lose by any act that may detract from his well-earned reputation for truth and uprightness.

The Gorman bill is not yet the law of the land.

SAID HE WAS NO DEMOCRAT.

Captain Samuel Bass, a leading democrat of Whatcom county, frees his mind after this fashion:

"Mr. Charles De France, secretary democratic state central committee-Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your favor requesting me to write to Henry Drum and others my opinion as to the time and place of holding the next state convention, and inviting me also to 'make such other recommendations as may suggest themselves to my mind as helpful to the cause of democracy,' etc.

"It strikes me that your letter, so far as I am personally concerned, is rather an astonishing exhibition of gall, in view of the fact that the first time I had any talk with you about politics you told me you knew more about the political situation in Whatcom county than I did, and the next time you had the impudence to tell me that I was no democrat, although I was helping to fight the battles of democracy when you and Wallace and Drum were wearing breechclouts; and long before trickery, disregard for principles and pledges and for party fealty, were considered the primary qualifications for party leadership in this state, and especially in this

"If you don't consider me a democrat why do you want my opinion? Why don't you ask some tin horn gambler or some shyster judge? They are the sort present the same at once to the underof people who seem to have the most in- signed. finence with the party organization in this state, and, I am sorry to say, with the administration, also.

"As far as the next convention is concerned I don't care where it is held. To accommodate the class of democrats who seem to be running the machine now it might be a good idea to have it in h-l, but wherever it is I will try to obliteration of the hair follicles, which be there, and if the privilege of free cause baldness, use Hall's Hair Respeech is not overridden I may then ex. newer. press my opinion as to what would be 'helpful to the cause of democracy' and

"Samuel Bass, a democrat."

The senate bill passed the house last night at 6 o'clock, by a vote of 162 to 105, so that all that remains to make the bill a law is the signature or silence of the president. The house has allowed the senate to make a revenue bill accepting the entire 634 amendments made by that body. It remains to be seen whether 0 50 the president has any sand or if his address all communication to "THE CHRON- backbone like that of Crisp and Wilson is also made out of sugar.

Elevators for the Queen. troublesome and sometimes painful Address either to ascend or descend a staircase. This difficulty has lately increased so much that an elevator has just been placed in the private apartments of Windsor castle for her majesty's use, and another is to be fitted up at Osborne. The queen has a greater number of steps to ascend at Osborne than at any other of the palaces, as her own dress or call on apartments are in the pavilion near the top of the house. Elevators are also being made for Buckingham palace and Balmoral, which will be ready for use in the spring. There was one in Buckingham palace for some years. which was made for the duke of Albany, although after his death it was removed.

S. P. SMITH, of Towarda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."
