AUGUST AUGURINGS.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Collection day Saturday.

Milton Morris, while feeding a threshing machine near Wapinitia yesterday, got his arm caught in the cylinder and torn to pieces.

Harmon Temple, No. 4, will dispense ice cream and cake at 10 cents a dish on Friday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock, location given later.

On and after September 1st, 1894, the office hours of the Pacific Express Co. will be from 8 to 12 and from 1 to 6 o'clock. The office will not be opened Sunday.

Prairie chickens are said to be more plentiful this season than for years past. Hunters kill from thirty to sixty in a few hours, and then quit because they couldn't carry them home.

A log rolled on John Lenz, who was working at the Oregon Lumber Co.'s mills last week, but he crawled away without any broken bones when his companions took it off him.

Mr. Taffe, the grand duke of Celilo, is preparing to do some fishing as soon as the season opens. If the silver side run keeps up he will add several thousand cases to the salmon crop this fall.

Mr. Victor Moretti, the famous fresco artist, has been engaged by the Sisters to do some ornamental work in the chapel, and will be here next week. This will furnish an opportunity for others to have work done in that line.

Those attending the tournament at Oregon City will leave here Sunday. Engineer Brown has painted and ornamented the old hand engine, and it will be taken to Oregon City and take its place in the parade.

Work on the Clear lake canal is being pushed rapidly. About 150 men and forty teams are at work steadily. The canal will be eighteen feet wide on top, twelve feet on the bottom, and four feet deep, and besides this it will prove of inestimable value to the country tributary to it.

The O. R. & N. made quite a settlement for the death of Mr. Moore of Hood River, who was killed by a pulley falling from a pile driver while repairing a trestle near that place a few weeks ago. Yesterday Mr. D. E. Hall, claim agent for the company, met Mrs. Moore here and paid her $1700 in full settlement of all claims for damages.

Mr. A. Titzer of Oregon City, formerly a druggist in the employ of Blakeley &

Houghton of this city, was severely burned about the hands and face by the explosion of about two drachms of ether he was using in filling a prescription. His clothing was set on fire and it was only by great presence of mind that a catastrophe was averted.

The hole knocked in the Regulator shrunk considerably during the night. The reports today show that the hole was 12 by 4 inches instead of that many feet as reported yesterday. It may be possible the story grew on its way up, the prolific soil and fine climate of Hood River giving it a boost as it passed by. At any rate, the hole was 144 times larger when the news reached here than it was when it left the Locks.

Hood River is in hard lines, and her goodly citizens today are going unshaven and unshorn just because some evil-minded burglar burglarized the barber shop and made a clean-up. He took two dozen razors, five or six pairs of clippers, all the scissors, and in fact everything in the shop except the chairs, mirrors and stove. The shop belonged to Grant Evans.

Robert McDonald, who was working with a threshing crew on Mr. Patterson's place on 8-Mile, was struck on the head by a derrick fork yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock and remained unconscious for about three hours. Dr. Hollister was called and did everything possible for the unfortunate man. Unless the unforeseen happens Mr. McDonald will be all right in a day or two.

Sam Klein and Charley Hall started on a fishing expedition down the Columbia this morning in a small boat. The start was made from the Regulator wharf, and as Sam undertook to place a box of provisions in the boat he stepped on some loose object and slipped, rolling into the water. He turned over as he fell and grabbed the wharf so that he only went in up to his neck, but he held the grub high and dry. As he and his precious load were pulled ashore he remarked that it was "a blamed fine start anyhow."

Worse and Worse.

O. C. Chrisman got the returns for twenty-five crates of plums this morning with a bill for $10 67 balance of expenses. But it is all right, all things work for the best for those that love the Lord. He has sold two fruit driers this morning and expects to sell eight or ten more as soon as the rest of the shippers get their returns.

Sanders & Sturdevant, Dentists.

Dr. Sanders has associated with himself in his dental practice Dr. Sturdevant, who is a graduate of the dental college of the University of Michigan, and has had six consecutive years in the practice of dentistry, having spent over one year of that time running an office for himself.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

To Locate at Antelope.

Dr. Victor Hawthorne Smith, son of W. K. Smith of Portland, graduate of the University of Virginia and of Bellevue hospital of New York and at present assistant house surgeon at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, went out to Antelope yesterday. It is quite possible that he may locate there. Besides being well up in his profession, Dr. Smith is a great believer in athletics, being himself a first-class kicker, but only in the foot-ball line. He is a member of the Multnomah foot-ball club. Should he conclude to locate at Antelope, that section will take the lead in sporting matters, with the boss footballer, Shutt, the boss ball club, and the leading foot-ball player. But, more important than all, Antelope will have a first-class physician.

For a City Union.

THE DALLES, Aug. 28, 1894. Representatives from the Christian Endeavor societies and the Epworth League met this evening in the vestry of the Congregational church, to consider plans for forming a city union of these societies, that more efficient work may be done for our master, Jesus Christ. Alfred Hoering was elected chairman of the meeting and a pleasant though informal talk was engaged in by those present. It was decided to defer the organization for the present and hold a union prayer and consecration service, the thought being to hold this union service one week from next Sunday evening, in one of the churches, and if deemed advisable to call a meeting for organization some time in the week following. PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. H. A. York of Hood River is in the city.

M. F. Loy came up from Hood River this afternoon.

Mrs. George Mathias of Hood River leaves for the Argentine Republic, Thursday.

Mr. Ralph Rowland left for Missoula this morning to take a position on the Northern Pacific.

Mrs. Emma McCullough arrived from Murray, Idaho, this morning and is visiting her father, Mr. A. G. Johnson.

Mr. Ernest DeBral, who has been visiting his college mate, Mr. Roger Sinnott, leaves this afternoon for Portland and from there over the Northern Pacific for the Yellowstone Park.

Mr. S. Blumauer came up from Portland last night, he says to get away from the heat. While this section can no doubt put up with weather during the day, the nights are cool and that is more than can be said for the weather west of the Cascades.

MARRIED.

At the Catholic church, Monday evening, the 27th, Rev. A. Brongeest officiating, Mr. John Dunn and Miss Eliza Keyser, both of Condon.

The newly-made couple were passengers on the Regulator yesterday morning and so struck a wreck early in their married life.
