BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Take the little ones and give them a treat by visiting the bird show.

Birds of all kinds and description and wonderfully trained are to be seen at the bird show.

The East End has a lively look today. The street in the neighborhood of the warehouse is full of unloading teams.

Don't forget, while taking in the sights, to see the bird show at the corner of Second and Washington streets.

Owing to increase of business and putting in a stock of dry goods, M. Honey will have added thirty-five feet to the length of his store.

The directors of our public schools have decided to make Friday of this week a holiday in order to allow the pupils to attend the fair.

The trial of J. H. Hastings, who was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, upon information filed by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Phelps, resulted in the defendant being bound over for further action by the grand jury.

Mr. J. A. Pratt brought to the CHRONICLE office today a fine specimen of broom corn grown by B. F. Bonny, on the farm of J. C. Pratt near Wamic. Judging from this specimen that district is well adapted for the raising of this product.

The November term of the circuit court for this county promises to have a full criminal docket, if the grand jury finds true bills against those who are awaiting its action. There are quite a number of unfortunates in jail or under bonds, charged with criminal offenses.

The wisdom of building a new grade up the hill by what is known as the old Thompson place on 5-mile has been fully proven. The many wheat teams which daily come over this road find no difficulty in making the ascent when formerly on the old grade it was attended with great hardship.

A grand ball will be given Saturday evening at the pavilion. It will be under the management of the fair association and every effort is being made to make it a great success. The full orchestra will be present and proper committees will be on hand to help make the affair pleasant to all participants.

The battle between the Chinese cruiser, Yang Wei, and the Japanese battleship, Matsushima, is the first real battle between modern armored and armed vessels. As such it is of deep interest, and hence we print the description as given in the dispatches. A portion of the article will be found on our editorial page today, and the balance tomorrow, it occupying too much space to be given in one issue, especially that the fair is in progress.

Do not forget that 25 cents will get you a nice lunch. Boston baked beans and brown bread, hot potatoes, cold ham, tongue, cake, doughnuts, pickles—all the good things that go to make a square meal; also hot tea and coffee. Lunch from noon to 2 o'clock. Dinner from 5 to 8—hot meats, vegetables, sauces, with beans and brown bread, etc., thrown in. Chicken pie tomorrow from 5 to 8. All meals 25 cents. Served by ladies, of M. E. church, next door to First National Bank.

A Happy Wedding.

Promptly at noon today a happy wedding took place at the residence of Hon. John Marden, in this city. In the presence only of the immediate relatives Rev. W. C. Curtis pronounced the words which bound Martin Donnell and Grace Marden together in the holy bonds of marriage. Many were the congratulations and heartfelt good wishes that were poured in upon the happy pair. Both the young gentleman and young lady are so well-known and respected by those with whom their lives have been spent that this event has caused more than ordinary interest. Their youth from babyhood to a vigorous manhood and a lovely womanly character, have been spent in The Dalles and as from out our midst these two voyagers have gone to sail on the sea of life the blessings of all their friends follow them.

Martin Donnell was born and raised in The Dalles and has only recently moved to the neighboring town of Goldendale. He has earned in this community a reputation for honor and integrity that will be to him an augur of good future. He is every inch a man and carries with him the respect and admiration of a host of friends. His father, the late Hon. Z. M. Donnell, was one of the most respected pioneers of this country and his mother is highly beloved for her many virtues.

Miss Marden, now Mrs. Donnell, is one of the sweetest and loveliest in disposition of The Dalles' fairest young ladies. She is one of The Dalles' best products and her winning ways and kind disposition have brought to her many friends. She comes from a most respected family.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnell left on the afternoon train for Portland, from thence they will go to Tacoma and Seattle and to Victoria, returning in about ten days. They will make their home in Goldendale, where Mr. Donnell is proprietor of a prosperous drugstore. In the general expression of congratulations THE CHRONICLE extends its best wishes for happiness unbounded and unmarred.

Strayed.

From the fair grounds, one black mare, white hind foot, small white spot in forehead, and one light sorrel horse, white hind foot, small white strip in face and saddle marked, both branded A on left stifle. Horse also branded A on the right hind leg. A liberal reward will be paid for information which will lead to their recovery, by the undersigned.

Probably the oldest bicycle rider in New York state is Mrs. Margaret Ploster, of Schenectady, who is 93 years of age.

A BETTER ATTENDANCE

SECOND DAY OF DISTRICT FAIR

Yesterday's Races--At the Pavilion--Tonight's Musical Program--Exhibits Added--Notes.

Today's attendance at the fair was much better than that of yesterday. The good weather continues, and the good roads accounted for the presence of quite a number of country people. Many carriages, with their occupants, were lined along the fence of the track; the grand stand was well filled, and altogether the sight was much better than yesterday.

The stock sheds and stalls are full of premium-takers. Some fine animals are to be seen by walking among the stock. Mr. Robt. Kelly, our genial deputy sheriff, has some imported stallions, which are noble-looking animals. Montford and Verney, 4-year-olds, are entered in the sweepstakes for percherons. He also has, in the class of graded draft animals, two mares, Bluet and Dell, and one stallion named Kingsley. In the cattle exhibit are found under Mr. Kelly's name, one Devon bull, 3 years, one breeding cow, one heifer and one bull calf. Mr. Kelly's exhibit is a very fine one and calls forth much interest.

Sheriff Driver keeps up his end by a good exhibit of cattle. They comprise one short horn bull, 4 years old, one short horn cow, 14 years, one calf, 3 weeks, one yearling heifer, (short horn), one Devon bull, one Devon cow, one mare and colt.

Truman Butts has a very nice exhibit of some Dunrock pigs, 5 months old, three Guinea fowls, two bronze turkeys, three geese, and 1 half-blood Jersey cow. Owing to lack of space in today's issue a more extended notice of the stock will have to wait till tomorrow.

The first race today was a 3/8 mile and repeat. The first heat was run by Blue Jay, Jim Crow second, Tampa 3rd, Rockland Boy 4th, time 27 1/2. The remainder of the races will be told in tomorrow's CHRONICLE. The entries for the pony race are Nailer, entered by A. Allen; Nelly Bly, entered by Chas. Snelling; Tommy, by J. T. Drepps; Pet, by T. Maloney, and Celilo, by A. Allen.

AT THE PAVILION.

The pavilion opened its doors to the public at 5 p. m. yesterday. In the evening, when the large arc lights were turned on, the building presented a brilliant appearance. Nearly all the space is taken, and more exhibits are continually arriving. The crowd was not so large as the management expected, but the first night is not usually the best one, and it is confidently expected the succeeding nights will see the pavilion filled, as it should be, with interested spectators. The orchestra dispensed sweet music, and added fresh laurels to its already full crown. Lavish as may the praise be, too much cannot be said appreciative of the music. The selections were of a high order and rendered with a grace and expression that placed the orchestra beyond the limits that mark the amateur. The Dalles is fortunate, unusually so, in having in its midst such an organization that is a source of so much pleasure to all lovers of the harmonies of music. Our orchestra should be given every encouragement, and those who pay the price of admission can be sure of receiving fully their money's worth. The program for this evening is as follows:

MUSICAL PROGRAM.
1. March—"Liberty Bell."
2. Overture—"Plantation Medley."
3. Selection—"Echoes of the Day."
4. Waltzes—"On the Rhine."
5. Selection—"A Night in New York"
INTERMISSION.
6. Overture—Fest.
7. "Spanish Dance."
8. Selection—Faust.
9. Polka—"Distant Bells."
10. March—"Our Flirtation."
THE EXHIBITS.

Among the exhibits which came in during the afternoon is a beautiful collection of painted china ware from the hand of Miss Besse Lang. This exhibit is much admired, and justly so, and each piece shows skillful work.
Mrs. Barrett receives much praise for her collection of oil paintings. They make an impression of which she may well be proud. Two were especially noticeable, one a painting of the "Mount of the Holy Cross," the other a marine, showing a brilliant sunset at sea, with a steamer passing a rocky headland upon which the surf is dashing.
Mrs. C. F. Stephens has a nice exhibit of paintings, some oil and some water colors.
Two tables, neatly set and covered with jars of preserves form the exhibit of Mrs. Dr. Shackelford. They look very inviting for a feast.
Mrs. Hoppner and Miss Heppner have some pretty studies in oil on exhibition, which are possessed of much merit.
Mrs. J. Wycke and Mrs. Byrne have an exhibition of canned fruits, jellies and preserves, their first venture in this branch of culinary art. They certainly are good beginners.
Farmer Southwell has some bee-hives, which show the bees making honey.
The Diamond Mills have a pyramid of flour, which shows the product of Eastern Oregon and Washington hills and valleys made ready to be shipped abroad.
Mr. Emil Schanno has a variety of figs, which shows for what varied fruits our climate is adapted.
Ben Southwell has quite a number of boxes containing dried fruit. He also shows some whopper sunflowers and different varieties of grains.
W. J. Davidson, who lives on 8-Mile creek, brought in a large assortment of potatoes, big fine-looking fellows. Around a pillar he has placed specimens of wheat, barley, oats, and other grains, which show better than words could of Wasco's productiveness.
Mr. Horn, from Thompson's Addition, shows some luscious grapes, which grew in that locality.
Mr. Cooper, another of Dry Hollows successful farmers, shows some fine bunches of grapes.
One corner of the pavilion is devoted to the display of H. L. Knuck. A fine array of saddlery and harness outfits make a neat exhibit.
