THE EXPOSITION.

It is indeed good news to learn that an effort is being made to redeem the exposition building, and to put the society on its feet. Us country folks have a very has been spoken but once and that just warm corner in our hearts for the ex- as she passed out of the Straits of Fuca. position, for there our products were ex- The vessel is now eleven days overdue, hibited in such a way as could not be and fears are entertained that she is lost. done at home. We realize how much good it accomplished and how fine an advertisement it was for us, giving us an opportunity to display our products and we want to add that we patronized it too, and that liberally. Thousands of people visited Portland every fall, on purpose to see the display, who but for it would have remained at home. By all means let the buildings be redeemed and the exhibits again made.

The very important suit entitled State of Oregon ex rel A. C. Taylor, respondent, vs. Sylvester Pennoyer et al., appellants, which is the case involving the right of the state to erect a branch insane asylum in Eastern Oregon, has been decided. That is to say, the preliminary decision has been made, which in the course of time may finally lead to a real settlement of the question. The court reversed the order of the lower court on a technicality, it being that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to call into requisition the restraining powers of a court of equity. The supreme court intimates that the questions presented are in effect the same as those involving the location of the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg and that the final decision would be the same, but refused to pass upon the constitutionality of the act, as long as it could dodge it.

Governor Lord, in an interview at San Francisco, gives the credit of his large majority to the free silver attitude of the party, and insists that Oregon is a free silver state. If the governor is correct, then the election of the members of the legislature is due to the same cause, and that body can, or at least should, be set down as friends of silver. The question then arises, whom will it elect to the United States senate? Senator Dolph is an able man, and it is generally conceded that he will be his own successor, yet the senator is perhaps one of the strongest of gold-bugs, that is, he is opposed to any attempt on the part of the United States to restore silver without an international agreement. Now either Governer Lord has mistaken his premises, or the legislature is placed in an embarrassing position with regard to re-electing Senator Dolph.

The struggles of Wellman and his little party to reach the north pole combine the pathetic with the ludicrous. After abandoning their steamer and taking to the ice the party reached Walden's Island July 22d. August 6th, struggling heroically forward, they sighted the ship Berntine, which had been cruising much further north than they were, and was on its return trip. The party hired the ship to take them back to Tromsoe. So they made the return trip in two days, and then just think of the poor fellows' feelings struggling over the ice when they run across a ship that had been sailing far to the north of them.

The latest news from Hawaii is to the effect that the government fears a royalist uprising assisted by the British, all caused by those who fear annexation to the United States. There is probably no cause for fearing British interference. This country may or may not annex Hawaii, but there is no doubt but that it will never permit any other country to take charge of it. As a matter of self protection this country will insist purifies the blood. And through the upon the absolute freedom of Hawaii, and does not doubt her ability to enforce her demands against the world.

Portland is agitating the removal of the remnants of the late fair held at Tacoma, to her own limits, and the setting up of final tail-ender exhibition. When the fair started at Tacoma we suggested that when it ended the remnants be taken to Celilo, and there lulled to rest by the noise of rushing waters, that it be allowed to finally twinkle out. This seemed to us a fitting ending of its tapering off; but if Portland enters the field as a rival to Celilo, the latter will have to surrender.

A friend of ours insists it was a democrat that captured the money from the express office. He says: "If it had been a populist, he would have taken the eilver and left the gold, and if it had been a republican, he would have carried off the other thousand, or broken his back trying; but that a democrat, not being able to take everything in sight, would, from force of habit, accommodate himself to his opportunities.

with the full decision of the supreme court in the branch asylum case. It is right in the swim, and will make the older papers get a move on for state news, or else get left.

Having suggested Celilo as the proper place for holding the last remnant of the world's fair, in the interest of harmony, now that Portland has swiped it, we withdraw our candidate and suggest that when Portland is through, the last sad, but welcome rites be performed at General Lew Wallace is in Portland. As a soldier and diplomat General Wallace is at the top notch but his fame will where others than Oregonians might see be imperishable not from these qualities We appreciated the exposition but from his supremacy as a writer. Ben Hur will live when the records of brave deeds and wise statesmanship are lost in oblivion.

> Governor Pennoyer expresses himself as well satisfied with the decision of the supreme court concerning the branch asylum, and it is intimated that the deal will now be closed for the land at Union, but that nothing further would be done, the whole matter being turned over to Governor Lord.

GYMKHANA IN LONDON.

How the English Are Amusing Themseives with an Indian Sport.

The gymkhana, a sort of gymnastic hash, in which the participants are expected to exercise their ingenuity in devising all sorts of unheard of performances, has been introduced into England from India. The sport is very popular in that part of the orient, but is little known in western countries.

The idea was launched in London the other day, and according to the papers there the lovers of sport have gone crazy over it. The most amusing event on the programme was a cos-tume race. Seated on side saddles and attired in dresses of the gayest colors and the most startling cut five men went round the course, which included a bushed hurdle. Two ballet girls (both men) covered their ponies' quarters with voluminous skirts, a Dolly Varden and baby in bed gown and sun bonnet, and raced for the fence, and Charley's Aunt brought up the rear. Another feature of the day was the obstacle race, in which a variety of obthat attracted people most was the series of paper screens through which the ponies had to force their way. The head-to-tail race and the handkerchief dash were mirth-provoking features. In the former men rode at lively speed with their faces toward the horses' tails, and in the latter a rider dropped a lady's handkerchief on the ground, then at a gallop picked it up without leaving the saddle.

The Impudent Weasel.

Impudence seems to be the leading characteristic with the weasel in his relations with man. Perhaps the creature has confidence that his long, slender body can always be snatched away into safety before the ordinary human being can do him harm. At any rate, the weasel will coolly sit in the chink of a stone wall and watch the doings of men within a short stone's throw of his asylum, and after nightfall the beast will crawl about fearlessly within a yard or two of any human being that may approach his haunts.

Both Ways Across the United States. The greatest length of the United States from east to west is on the parallel of 45 degrees north latitude, that is to say, from Eastport, Me., on the Atlantic coast, to a point on the Pacific exactly 52½ miles due west of Salem, Ore. On the above parallel it is exact-ly 2,768 miles long. Its greatest width from north to south is on the 97th degree of longitude, which extends through the United States in an almost direct line from Pembina, N. D., to Point Isabel, Tex. The greatest width is 1,6111/4 miles.

Writes Postmaster J. C. Woodson, Forest Hill, W. Va., "I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary medicines, and advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as being especially adapted to all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines a special study, and I have come to the conclusion that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminent over other medi-cines of the class."-Chas.
