A SOCIETY CIRCUS.

Portland is to have a circus, gotten up by local talent, with a menagerie of local lions and other animals.

Cleopatra will be represented, of course, by some handsome journalist, and the charioteer will be Mr. Scott.

Besides all this there are to be peanuts and peach-bloom lemonade, and everybody's going, and we wish we could be there.

AROUND THE CIRCLE.

Politics are running high in the East, and there is a grand swinging around the circle act, that has not been equaled since Andy Johnson's time.

At New York last night General William Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, was formally welcomed in Carnegie music hall.

And now Congressman Breckinridge is making stump speeches in Kentucky. The redoubtable colonel is dead, but he is so blamed tough that mortification couldn't touch him.

Another Call.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19, 1894. The democratic managers are still very much at sea as to Mr. Cleveland's real attitude towards Senator Hill.

It seems odd that the democrats have one scheme that they invariably try to work just before every national election, whether congressional or presidential and congressional combined.

Vice-President Stevenson's recent statement that the sugar trust had gone all to pieces and that sugar was to be cheaper than ever as a result of democratic tariff legislation, was astonishing news in Washington.

Another democratic reform was this week semi-officially announced by those connected with the administration. It is that the excellent policy inaugurated by the republicans, of detailing army officers to serve as Indian agents, is to be abolished.

Much has been said by democrats about the great reduction in salaries paid by the government which were made by the democratic congress.

The regular subscription price of the WEEKLY CHRONICLE is $1.50 and the regular price of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is $1.50.

All county warrants registered prior to January 1, 1891, will be paid on presentation at my office.

PROFITABLE BAZARS.

England and America have both raised large sums by them.

On May 5, 1845, a bazar was opened in the Covent Garden theater which realized $25,000, says London Tid-Bits.

On May 17, 1864, at the close of the Metropolitan fair held in New York, John H. Gourlie, chairman of the finance committee, transferred to George T. Strong, treasurer of the United States sanitary commission, the sum of $1,000,000 as the "first installment" of the proceeds of the fair.

ENDING A FAMILY ROW.

A Wife's Stratagem for Getting Even with Her Stubborn Husband.

The other evening, says the New York Recorder, as a muscular person was passing a house, a lady who stood at the gate called out to him: "Sir, I appeal to you for protection!"

"What's the matter?" he asked, as he stopped short. "There's a man in the house and he wouldn't go out of doors when I ordered him to."

"He wouldn't, eh? We'll see about that." Thereupon the man gave the woman his coat to hold and sailed into the house.

"Now, then, you brass faced old tramp, you move on or I'll finish you!" "Tramp! Tramp!" shouted the victim as he got up. "I'm no tramp! I own this property and live in this house!"

"You do?" "Yes, and that's my wife holding your coat."

"Thunder!" whispered the muscular man, and he gazed from one to the other and realized that it was the wife's method of finishing a row she had been having with her husband.

Mrs. Ray—How does your husband express himself when he comes home late from the club? Mrs. Bay—He doesn't express himself at all. They send him home in an ambulance.—The Toper.

Miss Prudeleigh—Sir, how dare you? Mr. Rattler (who has stolen a kiss)—Excuse me, I never would have done it in my sober senses. Miss Prudeleigh—Oh, indeed!—The Malaprop.
