HOT POLITICAL POT

Two Speakers Assaulted in Indianapolis.

ONE A DEMOCRAT, ONE A POPULIST

Harrison to Speak in New York Next Week—McKinley There Now—Congressman Wilson's Tour.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 25.—There were two political riots in this city last night, and feeling has not run so high since the days of the great Garfield-Porter campaign in Indiana. Milton Turner, a colored orator who has gained notoriety in recent years in the Western states with his democratic speeches, was brought here to address the colored people of Indianapolis at the Yellow bridge over the canal. This is a colored republican locality, and in 1890 a couple of democratic orators were mobbed and nearly killed there. Turner was greeted with an immense crowd of colored citizens. He began with a tirade against ex-President Harrison, when the displeasure of the audience burst forth and a rush was made for the stand. Turner was dragged down and pounded in spite of a squad of police present. Heads were clubbed, but the mob could not be driven off the man. Finally he was dragged out under guard of the police. In spite of this the enemies of Turner chased him six blocks and came near killing him. The other riot occurred at Agnes and Morris streets, on the south side, where Allen Jennings, a populist, invaded a democratic community. Jennings heaped all the contumely he could think of on Congressman Bynum, when on a signal a shower of stones was rained on him. He escaped from the fury of his pursuers with little damage, save to his clothing. A number of heads were cracked by stones, and one little girl near the speaker's stand was badly cut over the eye.

An Ovation to Breckinridge.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 25.—Colonel Breckinridge received an ovation at Mount Sterling yesterday, and spoke to a courthouse full of people, among whom were about 30 of the best ladies of the city. He was met at the depot by about 200 men, who cheered to the echo when he came out of the coach. He was driven to the hotel in a carriage with Judge French, Henry Woodford and Joseph Scott, all prominent citizens. The carriage was preceded by a brass band. The colonel's appearance at the courthouse was greeted with loud applause. He spoke for an hour and forty minutes, urging all democrats to vote for Judge Beckner and Joseph Kendall, the short and the long-term candidates for congress from the tenth district. Colonel Breckinridge's speech contained nothing sensational, but his delivery was so impassioned and he treated the dry political subjects in so eloquent a manner that he was applauded almost continuously toward the close. Were he a candidate for congress from the tenth district, democrats say he would have no opposition. The strength Breckinridge has outside of his own district is remarkable, and his fitness to represent Kentucky in the senate is being more and more discussed.

Once a Millionaire, Now a Burglar.

DANVERS, Mass., Oct. 25.—Marcus T. Spring has stepped from palace to jail. He was reared in luxury, and had all that the income from $5,000,000 could procure; today he is in jail, charged with breaking and entering. He did not give his real name when arrested. He tried hard to conceal his identity under the name of Joseph Jones. His offense was said to be breaking into the Boston and Maine railway station at Plaistow, N. H. He was arrested in Manchester, N. H., but he was recognized by an old acquaintance. He is the son of Jacob E. Spring, of Danvers. The father made $5,000,000 in South America, and returned to spend his remaining days in Massachusetts. He built Porphy hall, on Summer street, one of the most beautiful residences in the country, the building without furnishings costing over $100,000. The structure was purchased by the Bavarian Brotherhood in 1892, and is now known as St. John's college. Owing to bad investments, Mr. Spring's colossal fortune melted away, and the family were obliged to leave the palace and abide in less pretentious quarters. It is alleged that Marcus is involved in several burglaries.

Horrible Story of Cannibalism.

DUNDEE, Oct. 25.—At the beginning of August the whalers Aurora Balaena and Esquimaux were in Prince Regent inlet searching for white whales. They steamed in Elvin bay, and a party from the Balaena went on shore. They had not gone far when they came upon a ghastly ring of corpses, the remains of Esquimaux who had evidently died of starvation. Clean-picked bones and partly devoured bodies revealed a story of cannibalism. One corpse had been beheaded, and the head was found 30 yards away from the trunk at a place where some one had evidently made a meal upon the flesh and brains. It is supposed the party while traveling found their progress choked by the setting in of winter. One by one they had succumbed to hunger, and finally the stronger in the futile efforts to save their own lives were driven to eat the others.

The Czar Improperly Treated.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A St. Petersburg dispatch this morning says there is a general feeling of indignation against Professor Zarscharin, whose mistaken diagnosis in the first place, it is claimed, was rendered more injurious to the patient by the professor's negligence and lack of medical skill. Professor Zarscharin will be severely blamed according to these advices, by Professor Leyden, and it is asserted that should the czar die it will be because proper treatment was not undertaken in time. The dispatches add that since the crisis, the czarina has been subject to continual trembling and syncope. Yesterday the condition of czar varied between drowsiness and comparative cheerfulness. During one of the latter periods the czar said he had been left alone with the czarvitch an hour, and had directed the leaving of a message of farewell to Russia, which will be issued upon his death.

Preparing for an Execution.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 25.—United States Marshal Baldwin arrived here today to arrange for the execution of Thomas St. Clair, one of the three condemned murderers belonging to the mutinous crew of the American bark Hesper. St. Clair will be executed in the county jail here November 2d. Sparf and Hanson, his accomplices in the murder of the Hesper's mate, Fitzgerald, have also been sentenced to death, but have appeals pending in the United States supreme court. A death watch was placed over St. Clair this morning. Baldwin says, although St. Clair is a United States prisoner, the provisions of the state law regarding executions will be strictly followed, and only the necessary legal witnesses and attendants will be admitted. The marshal says reporters will be excluded.

The Man Under the Bed Found.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—A burglar entered General A. L. Hart's residence in this city last evening, while Mr. Hart was absent from the city, and hid under his bed. With the exception of two other ladies, who slept down stairs, Mrs. Hart was alone in the house. She took her revolver in her hand and looked under the bed. Catching sight of the burglar, she fired three or four shots at him in rapid succession, and fled downstairs and out of the front door, where she found a special policeman, who went upstairs and arrested the man before he could escape. The burglar had not been hit by the pistol shots.

McKinley in New York.

DYRKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Governor McKinley arrived today. Before leaving Ashtabula, early this morning, he signed the requisition papers for the surrender of the Morganfield trainrobber to the Virginia authorities. He will deliver two addresses here, and speak this evening at Buffalo.

The Czar knows the Worst.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says that the czar heard the intimation of his physicians that his case was hopeless, with great bravery. He at once ordered the settlement of the matter of the succession to the imperial throne, and expressed a wish to bestow his blessing upon the czarvitch and Princess Alix.

Harmonious New York Democracy.

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va., Oct. 24.—W. L. Wilson and party left Wheeling at 8 o'clock this morning on a special train over the Ohio River road. No addresses were made until Proctor was reached, at 9:30 o'clock. There a large number of farmers had assembled, and Wilson made a 10-minute address, entirely upon the agricultural aspects of the tariff question. At New Martinsville there was a very large crowd, Ohio being largely represented. Wilson spoke nearly half an hour, and was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm.

Princess Alix Draws the Line.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—A Livadia dispatch confirms the reports that Princess Alix steadfastly refused to anathematize her former faith in obedience to the rites of the orthodox Greek church. Even the efforts of the czar have not shaken her determination.

The swelling of the czar's feet increases, but drawing off the water from them his body is much relieved.

A Conscientious Office-Holder.

OMAHA, Oct. 25.—Thomas Kilpatrick has returned the warrants issued to him for his salary for the past three months as park commissioner. Mr. Kilpatrick says that as he spent these months in Europe he cannot accept pay. The comptroller does not know what to do with the warrants. The council has passed a vote of thanks to Mr. Kilpatrick.

Marriage Trappings and Mourning Coaches.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A Yalta dispatch says the state carriages, trappings, etc., to be used on the occasion of the marriage of the czarvitch and Princess Alix, together with the mourning coaches, garments of woe, etc., to be used in the event of the czar's death, have arrived at Livadia.

Harrison to Speak in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A republican mass meeting has been arranged for next Wednesday night, at which ex-President Harrison will speak.

The Czarina is Worse.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—A Livadia dispatch says the Czarina is worse, and a catastrophe is greatly feared.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure in the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.
