NEWS OF THE IVANHOE

Probable Fate of the Missing Vessel.

WENT DOWN WITH ALL ON BOARD

The Ship Was Seen in a Fierce Gale in Distress, and Then Suddenly Disappeared.

SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—The lumber schooner Fanny Datar, Captain Peterson, arrived at Port Blakely yesterday. She reports that the missing Ivanhoe, with F. J. Grant, ex-minister to Bolivia, on board, probably sank on the afternoon of September 30.

"We left Port Blakely," said Captain Peterson, "on September 26 last, bound for Santa Barbara with lumber. We sailed out under a light wind and arrived at the cape on the 30th, where we found a strong southeast wind blowing. We saw a tug tow out a ship that same evening and drop her off the cape. That night it rained very heavily, and there was about a 60-mile-an-hour wind coming up over the ocean. About 12 o'clock I think it was, that same night we saw a ship to leeward of us. It continued blowing heavy from the southeast all night, and kept on till about 11 o'clock of the morning of the 30th, when it moderated. A ship was in company with us, but too far away for us to make out her name or what her cargo. She appeared to have a terrible list to starboard. At about 12:30 o'clock I was on the port tack and the other vessel was on the starboard tack, distant. I think, about four miles. She was apparently hove to with lower topsails. We could see that something was wrong with her, for her list was in the wrong direction, I was not concerned much about her, for I expected we would run nearer together soon, and, having been up most of the night before, I went below about 1 o'clock and turned in. Twenty minutes later, or, as nearly as I can tell now, at 20 minutes past 1 o'clock, my first mate, Harry Staunton, came below, and, calling me, said that the ship had disappeared. I hastened on deck at once. The horizon was clear, and the ship had disappeared as if by magic. After looking for her from the deck without seeing her, I ran up into the rigging and swept the horizon in the direction the vessel had before occupied, but there was not a sign of her presence visible. I then kept the schooner off for 20 minutes to see if any ship's boats appeared on the water, or if any wreckage of any kind could be sighted. We could see nothing of this kind, so I went to work and hove the schooner to again in double-reefed sails, but while we were in the vicinity we could see nothing of any boats or wreckage. The latitude we were in, as shown by the schooner's log, was 47-53, longitude 127-01 west, Cape Flattery bearing N.E., 1/2 E., and distance 95 miles."

It appears that Captain Peterson had not heard that the Ivanhoe was overdue, and probably lost, until he got back to Port Blakely, when hearing it spoken of, he at once connected her with the ship he saw founder at sea. The Fanny Datar, instead of towing, sailed out and did not reach the cape till the 29th, one day later than the day the Ivanhoe is reported to have been cast off by the tug Tice. A storm is reported to have risen the evening of the 28th off the cape, and the Ivanhoe must have been unable to make any headway against it and remained close reefed not far off the cape.

Captain Peterson had no means of knowing if the vessel he saw on the afternoon and night of the 29th was the same that was near him on the morning of the 30th, but the presumption is that it was one and the same ship, and that ship must have been the Ivanhoe. She was a full-rigged vessel, without distinguishing features.

Capture of Fort Arthur.
YOKOHAMA, Nov. 2.—It is announced here that the investment of Fort Arthur by the Japanese forces by land and sea has been completed, and a forward movement of both Japanese armies in the direction of Moukden is being rapidly pushed. A portion of Field Marshal Count Oyama's force will attack Kir-Chow, on Gulf Lia-Tung, which is occupied by Chinese troops. Meanwhile General Nodsz' advance column is approaching Fung Wung, a fortified town on the main road between Wi-Ju and Moukden, to which all the Chinese troops retreated after leaving their positions north of the Yula river. The Japanese expect to defeat the Chinese at both places and then unite their columns before the walls of Moukden.

Rumored Trouble at Peru.
VICTORIA, Nov. 2.—Rumors have been afloat the past few days that the Pacific squadron had been ordered to Peru, that the British consulate at Callao had been attacked by revolutionists, and that members of the consul's family had been murdered. Although these reports cannot be traced to an authoritative source, the fact that H. M. S. Champion and the flagship Royal Arthur leave today for Callao would imply that there is some foundation for them. There has been an urgency about the movements of these war vessels during the past few days that can only indicate that their mission south is at least of important if not serious nature.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Inquiries made at the admiralty and foreign offices today shows no orders have been issued for the British warships to depart from Vancouver or elsewhere. It is asserted no information has been received at these departments of the revolutionary trouble in Peru.

Newspaper Comment.
LONDON, Nov. 2.—All the French and German papers pay a high tribute to the memory of the czar, and especially praise him for maintaining the peace of Europe. The Kreuz Zeitung says: "He leaves an army such as a Russian ruler never before could boast, powerful and ready for battle."
The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The czar was self-willed, dogged and abrupt, but just. He abhorred all foreign influence, but especially that of Germany."

Chinese Victory Reported.
SHANGHAI, Nov. 2.—The native papers announce that the Chinese troops have re-taken Kiluen Chong after heavy fighting. The Japanese are said to have been driven out of that place with a loss of 3,000 men. It is reported on good authority that the Japanese are leaving Port Arthur and vicinity and are proceeding to join the main body of the Japanese troops marching upon Moukden.

Only a Case of Jim-Jams.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—August H. Appiarus, the grocer and liquor dealer taken into custody yesterday while barking, snarling and otherwise acting like a dog, was more violent this morning, and was placed in a padded cell. The doctors have diagnosed his case as that of delirium tremens, one of Appiarus' friends stating that he has been in a state of intoxication daily for two years.

McKinley's Dozen Speeches.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—Governor McKinley spoke to 45,000 people, making about a dozen speeches, today. Last night he went from Sandusky to Erie, Pa., by special train, and spoke there this morning to 2000. The country within a radius of 50 miles from Erie, was represented by large delegations. Tonight he spoke at Akron, to a crowd of 6000.

He Blames Cleveland.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—In an interview today ex-Governor Waller said: "Cleveland is acting like a great big boy. When the party is in danger personal differences should be cast aside. By his failure to support the party in New York, Cleveland has lost the respect of the democrats of the country."

A Heavy Sentence.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—James Coyne and Thomas O'Keefe, two young men, were sentenced to twenty years in the state prison by Judge Belcher this morning for beating and robbing an old woman named Mary Haggerty of $6.50.

Killed His Mother and Father.
BUREALO, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Without any provocation, William Gipps, a railway car inspector, shot his mother to death and fatally wounded his father today. He escaped.

Women would be of little use on board a leaking ship, they couldn't man the pumps.—Lowell Courier.

'I do not Eat Pastry.'
How often you hear this expression, and the explanation that usually follows: "I am troubled with dyspepsia." The explanation is not far to seek. In the past lard has been used as the principal shortening in all pastry, the result—dyspepsia. The dyspeptic need no longer be troubled, providing is substituted for lard in the preparation of all food. It is composed strictly of highly refined vegetable oil and beef suet. When used as a shortening, it produces wholesome and healthful pastry. Physicians and expert cooks indorse it. Refuse substitutes. Send three cents in stamps to N. K. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for handsome Cottolene Cook Book, containing six hundred recipes, prepared by nine eminent authorities on cooking. Cottolene is sold by all grocers.

Made only by N. K. FAIRBANK & CO., ST. LOUIS and CHICAGO, NEW YORK, BOSTON.

Although we nearly always hear the church choir tenor spoken of as a heart-breaker, there is little room for doubt that the other fellow is the bass deceiver.—Buffalo Courier.

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature to do its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Gent—How came you to put your hand in my pocket? Pickpocket—Beg your pardon. I am so absent-minded. I had once a pair of pants just like those you are wearing.—Bellage.

When persons are weak and languid, from sickness or overwork, feel debilitated and depressed, it is an indication that the blood is out of order, and they need help to throw off the miserable feeling. The best remedy for this purpose is Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It restores lost strength, gives vigor to circulation, promotes good appetite and a flow of cheerful spirits. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by the Snipes-Kinersly Drug Co.

To Over-Young Ambulance Surgeons: The difference between skull fracture and plain drunk is the difference between your head and the other fellow's.—New York Telegram.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back.
