BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

The literary society will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the lecture room of the Methodist church.

About 150 men are employed in rebuilding Grant, Murray and Rufus. The distillery is about completed and will probably start up in a couple of weeks.

Everybody can make their own crayons by taking a few lessons from Mr.
Moretti. Lessons 50 cents. Rooms the Gilhousen Art Gallery on Court street.

Rev. B. Wistar Morris, bishop of the diocese of Oregon, will hold services in St. Paul's Episcopal church, this city, Sunday next at 11 o'clock a. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

The concert Tuesday night promises to be the event of the season. It has been well advertised and the fact that Signor Ferrari one of the great vocalists of the times is to appear, will undoubtedly cause a very large attendance.

Our neighboring town of Grant is being strung along the railroad track from the old site to Rufus. It has the same trouble Josh Billings complained about in the anatomical construction of the fish-worm, "Its tail is too long for its body."

The city recorder had one individual up for examination this morning. He obtained permission to "see a man" to get money enough to pay his fine, but up to this writing has evidently not found him. The presumption is fair that the man he is looking for is a democrat, so, it is probable he will not be back until some time next year.

A. J. Carter, the man who took a dose of morphine yesterday morning for the purpose of shuffling off the mortal coil, got left in the shuffle, and this morning is out of danger. His back is said to be just one big bruise where he was pounded with a board in the efforts to keep him awake, but as soon as these heal, he will be "as good as ever."

G company give their first annual ball in their new armory in the Grant building, corner of First and Washington, tomorrow night. The occasion is in honor of moving into their new quarters, a sort of a house warming to which the boys invite all their friends. G company wishes it distinctly understood that this is their affair and costs the visitors nothing.

Mr. Taylor Hill came in from Prineville this morning. He brought 250 head of beet cattle for shipment which he left yesterday near the bridge but which will be in today. He says they are an exceptionally fine lot. Taylor is a democrat from way-back but he told us this morning that he thought the republican party contained most of the good men of the country, since it has captured most of the democrats.

In conversation with Mr. H. M.
Montgomery, of the engineers who are surveying the boat railway route, he told us the work well in hand and would be completed in a week or ten days. The route as surveyed is eight and four-fifths miles long. Concerning the fright of way, he said all the land owners were disposed to be reasonable, asking only what the land is worth.
There will be some heavy rock work, but with all the money available at once, Mr. Montgomery thinks the work could be completed in a year.

Real Estate Transactions.

Proclamation.

TO ALL SIWASHES IN WASCO COUNTY RESERVATION AND ELSEWHERE:

At the last regular meeting of Wasco Tribe, No. 16, I. O. R. M., held at the wigwam in the seventh sun beaver moon, G. S. D. 408 (Nov. 7, 1894,) it was decided to give a grand masquerade ball and social pow-wow on New Year's eve, Dec. 31, 1894. The following siwashes were appointed a committee of arrangements: W. H. Butts, F. H. Wakefield, D. S. Dufur, J. J. Wiley and F. W. L.
Skibbe.

A test of hog-feeding is now in progress on the Corvallis college farm. It began about five weeks ago and ends January 1st, covering a period of thirteen weeks. Eight pigs, divided into lots of four each, are being fed—one lot on chopped wheat and the other on mixed chopped wheat, shorts and chopped oats. The experiment will be made the subject of a bulletin.

THE CHRONICLE prints the news.

The Markets.

The wheat market has made quite sharp advances since the month opened, the local price running up from 31 cents to 33, and as high as 34 cents, for a few choice lots. The quotations in London are a cent and a half higher than a week ago. By most dealers it is thought the advanced rate will not be maintained.
In Portland the change is not noticeable, and the Valley has failed to get the benefit of an advance. It seems that the advance has served to wipe out the difference in price between Valley and Walla Walla, wheat selling here at the same it is bringing in Salem.

The question of feeding wheat to stock has become a national one, and valuable experiments are being or have been made. As the success of this movement will affect the wheat market seriously and find a means of disposing of a troublesome surplus, we give the result of the examinations made by the Kansas board of agriculture:

"The general conclusion reached by the Kansas board of agriculture are that wheat is superior to corn, pound for pound, as a grain to produce healthful, well-balanced growth in young animals; mixed with corn, oats or bran it is superior to either alone for horses; is very much superior to corn as a milk producer when fed to cows; is a profitable food for swine of all ages, both as to framework and flesh; and has a high value as part of the grain rations for cattle especially when judiciously mixed with bran, oil cake, or other albuminous foods, tending to balance the too carbonaceous nature of the clean wheat. It is a superior food for fowls and cannot be surpassed as a promoter of the maximum of egg production. It is more profitable in all cases to break the grain by coarse grinding, rolling or crushing, as perfect digestion is thus better assured.
When this cannot be done soaking for 24 or 36 hours is advised, but in this case it should be fed slowly to insure thorough mastication. On the important question whether it will pay to sell the wheat or feed it to farm animals, the board says:
"With corn and wheat approximately the same price per bushel, it is not unprofitable to feed the wheat, yet, if it can be ground, crushed, or in some way broken, at a total cost of not to exceed 5 to 7 cents per bushel, to feed it whole is unwise."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Brother Armworthy of the Wasco Observer is in the city.

Mrs. A. H. Jewitt came up from White Salmon on the Regulator last night.

Rev. A. Horn came up on the Regulator last night, returning from a trip to the Camas Prairie section.

Mrs. Byrket and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Coleman, went to Portland from White Salmon yesterday.

Dr. F. C. Brosius and son Estey, came up on the local today from Hood River and spent a brief hour in the city.

Mr. James Roberts came up from Hood River last night. He has been enjoying the extraordinarily good fishing at Winans. He caught eight beauties yesterday and his brother, C. G., almost the first cast hooked a twenty pound salmon, which after a long and exciting battle broke the line and made its escape.

DIED.

At the residence of her daughter, Mrs.
J. E. Johnson, at Zillah, Wash., Nov.
1, 1894, of typhoid fever, Mrs. Margaret Rohrer, aged 67, mother of Mrs. F. B.
Stevens of Condon and Mrs. M. J.
Churchill of Salem.

Mrs. Rohrer was an old and highly respected citizen of Mt. Vernon, Ill., and at the time of her death was visiting her daughters on the coast.
