FOR CONVENIENCE ONLY.

The International Religious Liberty Association, with headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich., have sent out a circular calling attention to the treatment of Pastor H. P. Holser, who is the "American representative of the Seventh-Day Adventists in Central Europe and director of their publishing house at Basel," who is serving a sentence of sixty-one days in jail for running his print shop on Sunday.

Mr. Holser belongs to a religious sect which, as its name implies, believes in keeping the seventh day of the week, or Saturday, instead of Sunday. That every man, everywhere, should have the right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, needs no reiteration, and that Pastor Holser has a right to continue his labors on Sunday, is undoubtedly true. The weak spot in the contention is that the seventh day is merely a matter of guess work, as no one knows what day of the week time began on.

It is said that the government's cash balance was reduced $12,500,000 in the last month. What we would like to know is, how long ago was the debt created for which this money was paid out? Every man who has ever done any work for the government, or whom the government owes, knows that it does not pay up in the same generation in which the debt was created.

The administration is borrowing money again but fortunately the credit of the nation is good, and will probably remain so until the "old man" gets home and takes charge of things again. Children and fools, the old adage says, should never be trusted with edged tools, and it is equally true that they should not be trusted with the bank books or business of their elders.

Senator Cogswell is catching it over his bill, now a law, concerning the branding and ear marking of cattle. The complaint is made that as no two ear-marks can be alike, the animals' ears are too small to permit of variation in the marks.

Our new contemporary the Sun, has discovered a great-grandson of George IV of England, and devotes two columns of its valuable space to proving the fact that he is in Portland. What with Dr. Wallace and the committee of One Hundred, Portland is getting an unenviable reputation, but if the Sun doesn't stir the royal Bengal tiger too much she can still stand it.

It is said that the policy of the dead czar will not be pursued by his successor towards the Jews. Nicholas II has a modern Esther who has found favor in his eyes, and the Russian Hamans need to govern themselves accordingly.

Lieutenant Charles E. Robin of Salem, is mentioned as the probable successor to Adjutant General Mitchell. We have no acquaintance with Mr. Robin, but have no doubt that he is the upright and capable gentleman his friends claim him to be. In spite of this we do not believe Mr. Robin will get the appointment. Geography is against him. Salem has the governor and that ought to be enough. Besides we have up here in Eastern Oregon a man who was and is evidently intended for that office; a man who saw years of active service, who is thoroughly posted on military matters and one whom Eastern Oregon almost unanimously pushes forward for the place. That man is Capt. John W. Lewis, and we defy the "Lord" to find a better.

PERSONAL MENTION. Mr. Henry Troh was in the city yesterday, coming from Camas Prairie. Mr. H. Wells and family left for Portland this morning, and expect to remain there permanently.

DIED. Near Nansene, Nov. 6th, 1894, Mrs. Mary A. Harris. She was born in Marion county, Tennessee, in 1821 and came to Oregon in 1875. She lived a consistent member of the Free-will Baptist church for 57 years. Her husband survives her, and three sons and two daughters are left to mourn her loss.

It Should Be in Every House. J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpshurg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "la grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good.

Head of the family—Well, well! This paper says the most of the big refineries are closing, Grandma—Ain't that just too bad. People don't seem to want to be refined these days.—Philadelphia Press.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshon, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer.

"You are charged with having voted five times in one day," said the judge, sternly. "I am charged, am I?" repeated the prisoner. "That's mighty odd. I expected to be paid for it."—New York Sun.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia.

She—I like this place immensely since they have had the new French chef. He (weak in his French, but generous to a fault)—Waitah, bring chef for two.—Harlem life.

We have made arrangements with the San Francisco Examiner to furnish it in connection with THE CHRONICLE. Having a clubbing rate with the Oregonian and N. Y. Tribune for our republican patrons, we have made this arrangement for the accommodation of the democratic members of THE CHRONICLE family.

The regular subscription price of the WEEKLY CHRONICLE is $1.50 and the regular price of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is $1.50. Any one subscribing for THE CHRONICLE and paying for one year in advance can get both THE CHRONICLE and the WEEKLY OREGONIAN for $2.00. All old subscribers paying their subscriptions a year in advance will be entitled to the same offer.

Do you want THE CHRONICLE and San Francisco Examiner for a year? If so send us $2.25 and you can have them, 156 papers for $2.25 or less than a cent and a half a piece. If you would rather have the New York World, we will send you that and the SEMI-WEEKLY CHRONICLE one year for $2.25. The World is also a semi-weekly so you will get 308 papers for $2.25.

For the many accidents that occur about the farm or household, such as burns, scalds, bruises, cuts, ragged wounds, bites of animals, mosquitoes or other insects, galls or chafed spots, frost bites, aches or pains in any part of the body, or the ailments resulting from exposure, as neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Strangulation a Coveted Honor. Strangulation is considered an honorable death, in China, and very much merited in thought to be shown the condemned in permitting it, instead of decapitation. This, because the method does not involve mutilation of the body, which, to the Chinese mind, is the height of disgrace in death, since the body in recomposing itself in the spirit world may get a head or members not belonging to it. It is not unusual to see women put to death by strangulation; in such cases the frail creature is held down by two brutal ruffians while a third fiend at her back is slowly twisting a cord which runs around her neck and forces out tongue and eyeballs.

"Gentlemanly Ladies." It was in a country horse car that a true son of Ireland sat with his tin dinner-pail going home from work. The Boston Gazette gives this story of his ride: The car was crowded and two young ladies on getting in immediately put their hands into the straps and prepared to stand; but Pat jumped up and offered his seat. "But I don't want to take your seat, thank you," said one, smiling but hesitating. "Never mind that," said the gallant Hibernian, "I'd ride on a cowcatcher to New York for a smile from such gentlemanly ladies." And the girl considers this as pleasant a compliment as the ever received.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature to do its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.
