MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.

There should be a limit to all crankiness, a place where the wheels should cease to go round. People are entitled to their opinions and the expression of them on all subjects, but there are some things that make the public weary. We are far from being a prohibitionist, yet we freely admit that outside of politics what might be called the prohibition order has done much good. But the action of the Pittsburg ladies in the matter of the christening of the St. Louis has passed the limits of common sense. Just what those ladies thought and what they said is told in the dispatches of yesterday as follows:

"Pittsburg temperance women are severely criticizing Mrs. Cleveland, wife of the president, for her action in using wine in christening the new ocean steamer St. Louis, last Monday, and not following the request that was made to Mrs. Cleveland by the officers of the W. T. C. U., that she use a bottle of water to break over the bows of the vessel instead of the customary bottle of champagne. Mrs. Jane Collins, who was at the head of the W. T. C. U. of Allegheny county during the stirring times of the crusade of 1874, when women went about the city praying in front of saloons, yesterday said Mrs. Cleveland's action was a slap at the W. T. C. U., and an insult to the memory of the wife of President Hayes. She also protested against christening vessels, claiming it is a sacred ceremony, and should only be done in the name of the Trinity. Other temperance women indorsed what Mrs. Collins said, and stated they will act at their next convention."

Did the good ladies object to the waste of the wine, or what was the cause of all their anguish? And since when has the christening of a vessel become a sacred ceremony? Just such foolish actions as the above bring the order into disrepute.

IT WORKS TO A CHARM.

Another $50,000,000 bond issue is to be made. It now transpires that when the other bond issue was made a large sum of gold was drawn out of the United States treasury to purchase the bonds with. It would seem from this that as long as the system of keeping a reserve fund in gold is pursued, the money lenders have the power at any time to force a bond issue. When silver certificates or any other money is presented at the treasury it seems gold can be procured for it. The gold reserve then being run down another bond issue must follow, and the speculators put the gold back taking bonds for it, and so the game can be kept up until the government redeems every dollar of money except gold, and issues bonds for it. It looks like a scheme of the moneyed men to force a large bond issue payable principle and interest in gold.

BEGINNING YOUNG.

The course of true love is indeed far from smooth. The following dispatch from Chicago yesterday shows the tribulations that loving hearts must bear: "Willie Johnson and Mand Cooper, 11 and 9 years of age, eloped yesterday with the intention of getting married. They lived in the same house. Their mothers were away yesterday, and when they returned they found a note from Willie telling of the elopement. He had stolen all the money he could find, and all his mother's jewelry. When the little couple called on a minister and stated their case he called the police. Willie ran off when an officer appeared, and his fiancée fell into the hands of the enemy. Willie later returned home very crestfallen, with only 85 cents left.

The shooting at Washington Court-house, Ohio, has produced some queer results. The civil authorities demand the possession of Colonel Coit, who commanded the troops that did the shooting, that he may be tried. The Col. declines to go without an escort, and claims he will be lynched as soon as he delivers himself up. Governor McKinley doesn't know what to do, as he declines to send him under military protection, or to sacrifice him to the mob for doing his duty.

If silence is golden, Cleveland ought to be able to start up the mints and save that bond issue. He has stock enough to run the country on, without help from any one.

Cleveland would not sign the Wilson-Havemeyer-Gorman bill, and by the way, he hasn't made a sign since. Can it be possible that he is dead and has not found it out yet?

The Nicaragua canal convention met in San Francisco yesterday, for the purpose of adopting resolutions urging congress to act at once in guaranteeing government support and assistance.

Many letters have been received, and one from Senator Walsh of George, indicates that he thinks it the greatest enterprise now occupying the attention of the world.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature to do its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address:

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welschton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

SQUELCHING A PASS FIEND.

The Agent Was Willing to Pass Him Out of Town.

I called upon the general passenger agent of one of the big railroad lines running into the city, says a writer in the Buffalo Enquirer, and was ushered into his private office. He was engaged in conversation with a gentleman when I entered, and after a few minutes of abrupt questioning took a small book from his desk and began writing. An expression of intense delight crept over the visitor's face as his eye followed the agent's pen, and I immediately surmised that he was about to receive a pass. By this time two other persons came in, presumably on the same mission. They sat down in the opposite side of the office, and realizing the situation cast wistful glances at the fortunate man. The agent continued his writing and asked the man where he wanted to go.

"Make it New York city this time," responded the man, who had evidently deadheaded before.

A few finishing touches were applied, and the pass was handed over to him. He thanked the agent very politely, and assured him that he would not bother him again. He examined the ticket and started for the door, when he noticed that it was good for only one way.

"Why, I guess you have made a mistake," he said, in a tone of surprise, "this ticket will only take me one way." "Did you expect to return?" asked the agent, unconcernedly. "Well, I should say I do." "All right, hand me your ticket." The man gave the agent his ticket, and was astonished to see him tear it up. "Well, if you're coming back you can't get any ticket from me. I thought I was going to get rid of you for sure this time." Without further ceremony the chronic pass seeker took leave, and the other two persons, having seen enough, followed in his train.

The regular subscription price of the WEEKLY CHRONICLE is $1.50 and the regular price of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is $1.50.
