Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than made good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, Coughs and Colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at Snipes & Kinnersly's Drug Store.

The only thing about some churches that points to heaven is the steeple.

There is no more foolish foolishness than worry.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, Ohio, is of the opinion that there is nothing as good as children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always kept a bottle of it in the house. After having the grippe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

There is no use in talking any higher than we live.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welisart, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

Every lie is the assassin of somebody's happiness.

When persons are weak and languid, from sickness or overwork, feel debilitated and depressed, it is an indication that the blood is out of order, and they need help to throw off the miserable feeling. The best remedy for this purpose is Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It restores lost strength, gives vigor to circulation, promotes good appetite and a flow of cheerful spirits. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by the Snipes-Kinnersly

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens. I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons Liver Regulator, with good effect.

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens. We have made arrangements with the San Francisco Examiner to furnish it in connection with The Chronicle. Having a clubbing rate with the Oregonian and N. Y. Tribune for our republican patrons, we have made this arrangement for the accommodation of the democratic members of THE CHRONICLE family. Both papers, the Weekly Examiner and SEMI-WEEKLY CHRONICLE will be furnished for one year for $2.25, cash in advance.

Gord Wood. We again have an abundant supply of dry fir and hard wood for immediate delivery at the lowest rates, and hope to be favored with a liberal share of the trade. Jos. T. Peters & Co.

SPENT MUCH MONEY.

The Children of a Vienna Banker Who Had Money to Burn and Burned It. Princess Ypsilanti, who died in Vienna a few days ago, belonged to one of the oldest families in Austria and was born in Vienna March 15, 1845. Her father was the late Baron Simon Sina von Hodos and Kizdia, and her mother a member of the famous Roumanian family of Ghika. Baron Sina was the son of George Sina, the wealthiest banker in Vienna. Baron Sina received on his father's death 90,000,000 florins, or $45,000,000. This immense sum was divided on the death of Baron Sina between his three daughters, each receiving nearly $15,000,000. One of the daughters married George Mavrocordato, a member of one of the noblest families of Greece. The second married the spendthrift Duc de Castries, a relative of the late Marshal McMahon, of France.

The third daughter, Helene, November 23, 1862, when she was but 17 years old, married Prince Gregory Ypsilanti, a native of Epirus and son of Demetrius Ypsilanti, whose valorous deeds during the Greek revolution made the name of Ypsilanti famous throughout the world. During the siege of the city of Nauplia, Demetrius, with a small body of Greeks, one night sallied forth and attacked the enemy, creating such terror among the Turks that they raised the sally the next day.

Prince Gregory Ypsilanti was the Greek envoy in Vienna for many years. He was a man of independent means, aside from the great fortune brought to him by his wife, and served his country for honor alone, refusing all compensation for his duties as its diplomatic representative in Austria.

Prince Gregory Ypsilanti died in Paris on February 20, 1886, and was succeeded as head of his family by his eldest son, Prince Emmanuel, who is now a lad of 16. Three weeks after his death the bankruptcy of the princess was announced, to the amazement of the aristocratic circles of Vienna and Athens. Prince Gregory had been a man of apparently quiet and retiring disposition, but he and his wife had managed to get rid of $25,000,000 in ten years, and the widowed princess found herself $4,000,000 in debt.

A QUEEN'S PERQUISITES.

Whales Captured on the British Coast Belong to Victoria. Among the most curious of Queen Victoria's perquisites is her right to every whale or sturgeon captured on the coast of the United Kingdom and brought to land. Both of these perquisites date back to the days of the Norman kings, and it appears that in the case of the whale the monsters were divided between the sovereign and his consort, the queen taking the head in order that her wardrobe might be replenished with the whalebone needed for the stiffening of her royal garments.

Another of the queen's perquisites, says the Chicago Times, is a certain number of magnificent cashmere shawls, which are dispatched to her every year from the kingdom of Cashmere. They vary in value, as a rule, from sixty to two hundred and fifty pounds sterling apiece, and the queen is accustomed to present one of them as a wedding present to every young girl of the aristocracy in whose future she is in any way interested. Every tailor holding a patent of "purveyor to her majesty," if he conforms to ancient tradition and usage, should present her with a silver needle each year.

Another class of royal purveyors is called upon to present to her annually a tablecloth, while from other sources again she is entitled to an annual contribution of currycombs, fire tongs, scarlet hoisery, nightcaps, knives, lances, and crossbows. Moreover, at the coronation the lord of manor of Addington must present to the sovereign a "dish of pottage" composed of "milk of almond, brawn of capons, sugar, spices, chickens parboiled and chopped." At the same ceremony the lord of the manor of Hoydon is obliged, by virtue of his tenure from the crown, to present the monarch with a towel, the lord of the manor of the workshop giving the sovereign a "right-handed glove." These are only a few of the various requisites to which Queen Victoria is entitled by tradition and usage.

A Cockatoo's Peculiar Whim.

In the exhibit of Mlle. Mariska Miklosy, attached to Hagenbeck's trained animal show, there is a cockatoo that appears to have an aversion to Old England. One of the features which help to make Mlle. Miklosy's trained cockatoos a welcome item on the programme consists of the hoisting of a number of national flags. The third flag to be hoisted is that of Great Britain. Until recently the patriarch of Mlle. Miklosy's flock, one "Gringolre," did the hoisting. Recently, however, another cockatoo, named "Vert-Vert," has been doing the work instead. "Vert-Vert" does his work splendidly, except in one instance. At every performance he positively refuses to hoist the English "Union Jack." Neither threats nor bribes can induce him to elevate John Bull's banner. He runs the red, white and blue and the red, white and black aloft with neatness and dispatch. He sends the stars and stripes upward in gallant shape, but when he gets to the flag of England he strikes work.

The Largest Window.

The largest opalescent glass window in the world is in the new St. Paul's church at Milwaukee. It is what is known as a nave window, the lower half being composed of three immense panels and the upper half of a splendid rose and tracery in a semi-circle of brilliancy. This monster window in its extreme measurement is thirty feet and one inch in width and exactly twenty-four feet in height. It is beautifully executed, the subject being the crucifixion—in fact it is an exact copy of Don's masterpiece, "Christ Leaving the Praetorium." There are over two hundred life-size figures represented on this wonderful window.
