A lady who is more devoted to farm life than that of the city, called upon a photographer recently and wished to know how long after leaving her measure she must wait to receive her picture.—New Bedford Journal.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, Ohio, is of the opinion that there is nothing as good as children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always kept a bottle of it in the house. After having the grippe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

At Prayers.—Minnie (in loud whisper)—Jimmy, wot makes Uncle Eben shet 'is eyes w'en he's prayin'? Jimmy (in louder whisper)—Mebbe he's ashamed ter look th' Lord in th' face.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshon, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

Briggs—My doctor has ordered me to eat as little as possible for a week. Griggs—Is that so? Come around to my boarding-house and take Thank-giving dinner with me.—New York Herald.

When persons are weak and languid, from sickness or overwork, feel debilitated and depressed, it is an indication that the blood is out of order, and they need help to throw off the miserable feeling. The best remedy for this purpose is Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It restores lost strength, gives vigor to circulation, promotes good appetite and a flow of cheerful spirits. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by the Snipes-Kinnersly

Customer—What has that gentleman to do who sits behind the counter yonder? Clerk—He has got to make the flourishes to our employer's signature.—El Imperial.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

"Why do you not stop begging and try to get some work." "Because I do not wish to give up a sure thing for an uncertain one."—Paris Figaro.

We have made arrangements with the San Francisco Examiner to furnish it in connection with THE CHRONICLE. Having a clubbing rate with the Oregonian and N. Y. Tribune for our republican patrons, we have made this arrangement for the accommodation of the democratic members of THE CHRONICLE family. Both papers, the Weekly Examiner and SEMI-WEEKLY CHRONICLE will be furnished for one year for $2.25, cash in advance.

It is strange that some people will suffer for years from rheumatism rather than try such an approved standard remedy as Ayer's Sarsaparilla; and that, too, in spite of the assurance that it has cured so many others who were similarly afflicted. Give it a trial.

"Ah, how I feel for you!" said Jagsly, as he fumbled around for the keyhole.—Syracuse Post.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County.
 Joseph May, plaintiff, vs. J. T. Delk, Sarah E. Delk, and H. Fleckenstein and S. Julius Mayer, partners doing business under the firm name of Fleckenstein & Mayer, defendants.
 To J. T. Delk and Sarah E. Delk, of the defendants above named: In the name of the State of Oregon, you and each of you are hereby notified to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before Monday, the 11th day of February, 1895, and being the first day of the next regular term of said Circuit Court following the expiration of the time prescribed in the order heretofore made for the publication of said summons; and if you or either of you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, judgment for want thereof will be taken against you, and the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in his said bill of complaint, to-wit: For a decree ordering a foreclosure of the mortgage of plaintiff, described and mentioned in the plaintiff's complaint, and that the premises mentioned therein, proper in Wasco county, Oregon, be sold in the manner provided by law; that from the proceeds of such sale the plaintiff have and recover the sum of $750.00, and interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent. per annum since the 4th day of January, 1893, and the further sum of $100.00 reasonable attorney's fees, together with the costs and disbursements of this suit, including subsequent and accruing costs and expenses of sale; that upon such foreclosure and sale, all of the right, title and interest of the defendants, or of any or either of them, and of any or all persons, claiming or to claim through, or under them, or any of them, be foreclosed and forever barred of the equity of redemption; that plaintiff be allowed to bid for and to purchase said premises at his option; that the purchaser thereof have the immediate possession of the same; that plaintiff have judgment against the said J. T. Delk and Sarah E. Delk for any sum that may remain unpaid on said note after the foreclosure and sale of said premises; and for such further and other relief as to the Court may seem to be just and equitable.
 The service of this summons is made upon you by publication thereof in THE DALLES CHRONICLE, a newspaper of general circulation, published weekly at Dallas City, Wasco county, Oregon, by order of Hon. W. W. Bradshaw, judge of the said court, which order was duly made at chambers in Dallas City, Oregon, on the 6th day of November, 1894.

H. H. RIDDELL,
 Attorney for Plaintiff.

Assignee's Notice of Final Account.
 Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as assignee of the estate of W. E. Garretson, insolvent debtor, has filed his final account in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Wasco county, and that the same will come up for hearing in said court on Monday, the 12th day of November, 1894, at which time said assignee will ask for an order distributing said estate and discharging said assignee.
 Dated this 17th day of October, 1894.
 A. R. THOMPSON,
 Assignee of Estate of W. E. Garretson.

DEFIES HEAT AND COLD.

A New Kind of Glass Unhurt by Violent Atmospheric Changes.
 The new German glass is a new and singular departure in that line, disregarding as it does the ordinary principle that good glass must contain, together with silica and a divalent or trivalent metallic oxide, the oxide of a monovalent metal—an alkali metal or thallium—but while thus free from alkali can be worked before the blow-pipe, and has a small coefficient of expansion. The inventor, says the New York Sun, was led to the production of this compound glass by studying the cause of strain in ordinary glass vessels and tubes cooled in contact with air. As a hollow glass vessel, cooled in contact with the air, has its outer skin in a state of compression, while the inside is in a state of tension, it is easily damaged on the outside; a hollow glass vessel, if introduced when cold into warm air, has its outer skin thrown into a state of compression, but if, when it is hot, it is exposed to cold air, its outer skin is thrown into a state of tension—this being the reason why cold air causes glass to crack more readily than hot air does. The inventor succeeded in throwing the outer layer into a permanent state of compression by covering the glass vessel with a thin outer layer of glass which has a small coefficient of expansion. The flasks made of such glass can be filled with boiling aniline and immediately sprinkled on the outside with cold water—glass dishes, too, can be heated over the naked Bunsen flame without cracking. Pressure tubes of this compound glass are also made to meet all the requirements of practice and have been kept in continuous use on locomotives for five months.

IT IS NOT SLANG.

The Term "Gent" and its Modern Application.
 The word "gent" nowadays, seems to wear its hat cocked on one side of the head and to walk with a caddish swagger of vulgar self-importance. But I know a worthy old lady in the country, writes Edward Eggleston in Century, who calls her husband the "old gent," a thing it as a title of respect, and such it was in her childhood and long before. In 1784, Rev. Samuel Davies, afterward president of Princeton college, traveling in England, describes Rev. Dr. Lardner as "a little pert old gent." epithets that would not be flattering to a minister to-day, nor even dignified for a minister to use. "Pert" here has the sense of "lively"—much as a Kentuckian might use "peart" or a New Englander "perk." Indeed, I suspect that Davies gave the word the sound of "peart." That Davies used "gent" as a term of respect is shown by his characterization of another reverend doctor as "a venerable, humble and affectionate old gent." It will not do, therefore, to account a word recent because of its slanginess. When a snobber professes fondness for "the weed" he does not dream that he is using an epithet applied to tobacco by King James I. in 1620, and that nearly two hundred years earlier than James, in the reign of Edward VI., the hop-plant just coming into England was called "the wicked weed." What plant had worn this title of contempt before the hop I do not know.

A FATAL SUPERSTITION.

Mexicans regard Smallpox as a Divine Visitation.
 The poor and ignorant class of Mexicans have an unquenchable superstition about smallpox. On a recent visit to the interior of Mexico, says a writer in the New Orleans Picayune, I saw mothers carrying around in their arms babies whose little bodies were almost eaten up by smallpox. I was, of course, shocked at the frightful spectacle, and even offered one deluded mother money if she would take her terribly afflicted child home and call in a physician to attend it. But she refused my proffer with scorn, and began to croon some weird incantation as she tenderly caressed the little half-clad sufferer in her arms. I afterward learned that the ignorant class of Mexicans consider an outbreak of the red pest in their miserable hovels a visitation of Divine wrath for some sin they have committed. So set are they in this belief that they will do nothing whatever to check the ravages of the disease, except when it attacks their infants, to take the victims in their arms, press them closely to their breasts and pray devoutly and continuously to God to forgive them for their wickedness. Of course the small-pox runs its course after awhile, though never before claiming several members of every family as victims, but not until it does so are the afflicted parents purged of their sins.

Equality of Sex.

It is natural for a woman to resent the imputation that the feminine mind is not so strong as the masculine, and this spirit of independence was early manifested in a schoolgirl living in a Massachusetts town. She had, too often, perhaps, been made to acknowledge the superiority of her brothers. One day her mother remarked upon the apparently utter lack of intelligence in a hen. "You can't teach a hen anything," she said. "They have ruined more of the garden than a drove of cattle would. You can teach a cat, dog, or pig something, but a hen—never!" "Hm!" exclaimed the child, indignantly. "I think they know just as much as the roosters!"

Adirondack Echoes.

There are some remarkable echoes in the wood-circled Adirondack lakes. A single whoop will be tossed about a dozen times from a bit of woodland edging the lake, and when the last echo seems to have died away some more distant woodland will suddenly take up the call with increased loudness, and the sound will at length fade out in extreme distance. The number of echoes seem to be filled with the indescribable freshness of the woodland, and it is hard to believe that the sound is mere airy mimicry of the human voice.
