BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

The jury in the Savage case returned a verdict tonight of larceny, fixing the value of the stolen goods at $14,000.

The ladies Guild of the St. Paul's Church will meet with Mrs. L. Clark, tomorrow, Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

The weather prognostications for tomorrow are warmer, rainy. Mr. Brooks tells us that the barometer is lower today than he ever saw it and still falling. At 3:30 it stood at 29.16. This indicates a heavy storm, not necessarily here, but probably on the coast.

An alarm of fire about 4:30 yesterday afternoon was caused by a small blaze at Jos. T. Peters planing mill. The engines were called out, but a couple of buckets of water had effectually subdued the flames even before the alarm was fairly turned in.

The "Uncle Tom's Cabin" troupe was to arrive here on the freight from Pendleton this afternoon, but the engine broke down at Blalocks, delaying them so that they will not arrive before 6 o'clock. The play will not be interfered with, and the curtain will rise promptly on time.

The case of the State against Savage was given to the jury last evening at about 4:30. There seemed to be a general impression that the jury would fall to agree, an impression that the action of the jury is justifying, as at the hour of going to press they were still out. There is a rumor that the jury is pretty evenly divided, standing seven for conviction and five for acquittal, but whether there is any foundation for the rumor it is hard to say.

Yesterday in letting a car down the incline at the Cascade Locks the brakes were taken off before the cable was fastened to the car and it sped down the incline, which has a fall of about one foot in three at a mile-a-minute gait. It struck the guard of the wharfboat near the end cutting it off squarely. This checked its force, somewhat, enough that as it struck the pile at the foot of the incline it resisted the blow and threw the car back on the bank by the side of the river.

Coroner's Inquest.

Patrick Farrell died at the Columbia hotel last night of heart failure. Coroner Butts summoned a jury which returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury impaneled to inquire into the cause of the death of a man who died at the Columbia hotel, in Dalles City, Oregon, Dec. 5, 1894, find as follows:

"That the name of said deceased was Patrick Farrell, aged 59 years. That he has two daughters, their whereabouts at this time being unknown. That he was a discharged soldier of the U. S. and served as a private in Company G, 14th regiment, United States Infantry, and drew a pension from the U. S. government at the rate of $12 per month. We further find that the cause of the death of said deceased was heart failure.

Hood River Incorporated.

Hood River held an election yesterday to decide if it should be incorporated. Eighty-four votes were cast of which 49 were for and 35 against incorporation. The following officers were elected:

- Mayor, C. M. Wolfard; councilmen, S. E. Bartmess, F. H. Button, O. B. Hartley, L. E. Morse, J. E. Rand and J. F. Watt; recorder, C. P. Heald; treasurer, M. H. Nickleson; marshal, E. S. Olinger.

We are pleased indeed to see the spirit of progress evinced by our thrifty little neighbor. In spite of a strong opposition incorporation was carried by a handsome majority. The fears of those opposed to the measure, that there would be great expense following incorporation we believe are utterly groundless. There will be some expense, it is true, but there will be vast benefits. Grades can be established, so that he who desires to build will know where to place his building. The water supply of the town can be acquired, and hundreds of other things necessary to the growth of the town can be accomplished. Hood River will grow more rapidly than any town in Oregon for the next ten years, and she is incorporated none too soon. May she grow and prosper until the whole beautiful slope whereon she rests is a busy mart of trade, is the earnest and honest wish of THE CHRONICLE.

Scott and Sorenson Arrested.

The Portland Sun this morning says: "On complaint of I. R. Birt, formerly manager of the now defunct Cape Horn Telegraph Company, Harvey W. Scott, of the Oregonian, and A. Sorenson, manager of the Telegram, were yesterday arrested on a charge of criminal libel and marched to the Mount Tabor justice court as any ordinary prisoners. Upon paying their respects to the court the two prisoners were released upon their own recognizances to answer to charge at 10 o'clock this morning.

The article upon which the charge of libel is predicted appeared in the Evening Telegram about a month ago. In it, so Birt alleges, appeared false and malicious statements against him and Mrs. Johnson, a telegraph operator formerly in his employ, with whom he was alleged to have eloped.

It is understood that Mr. Scott will prove an "alibi" on the ground that he is not connected with the Telegram and has no control over its management.

Mr. Sorenson's defense will be a lack of intent, as he claims that the article was received in good faith and published as a news item.

The case will no doubt prove an interesting one and may lead to some development not yet down on the programme.

Rusco & Swift's Big "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Wednesday night, Dec. 5th, at the opera house, Rusco & Swift's big "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will hold the boards with the best company that plays this ever popular favorite with special scenery, band and orchestra. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" never grows old; there runs through it a vein of pathos peculiarly touching and sweet; it speaks the universal language of the heart; it reflects like a prism the innermost phases of human emotion; it is more than a play; it is a moral classic; it argues for two of the greatest themes that can engage the mind; human liberty and immortality of the soul: This company is headed by Miss Coral Deming, the greatest living

Topsy and the only lady who plays this part in her bare feet. The special features are the beautiful Shetland pony, who took the premium at the world's fair for being the most perfect marked animal in the world, and the Egyptian donkey from the streets of Cairo. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents.

The success that has attended the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment in the relief of pain and in curing diseases which seemed beyond the reach of medicine, has been truly remarkable. Hundreds supposed to be crippled for life with arms and legs drawn up crooked or distorted, their muscles withered or contracted by disease have been cured through the use of this remedy. Price 25c, 50 and $1.00 per bottle. For sale by the Snipes-Kinerly Drug Co.

We have made arrangements with the San Francisco Examiner to furnish it in connection with THE CHRONICLE. Having a clubbing rate with the Oregonian and N. Y. Tribune for our republican patrons, we have made this arrangement for the accommodation of the democratic members of THE CHRONICLE family. Both papers, the Weekly Examiner and SEMI-WEEKLY CHRONICLE will be furnished for one year for $2.25, cash in advance.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.
