ONCE MORE SUGAR

Quay Wants the Differential Removed.

SO LIKEWISE DOES GERMANY

Japan and China are Trying to Agree—
A Buffet State Will Probably be Made.

Germany and the Sugar Duty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The report of the secretary of state mentioned in the president's message upon Germany's protest against the discriminating duty of one-tenth of a cent per pound on sugar coming from countries paying an export bounty thereon, was transmitted to congress today. Gresham says the protest is based upon the fact that such a measure could not be reconciled with the most favored nation clause, and adds, the German ambassador says:

"The granting of an export duty is a domestic affair of Germany. An intent not to fulfill its treaty stipulations based upon the most favored nation clause cannot therefore be inferred from this by any other country." He declares that "the interview which has been manifested by the legislative bodies of the United States would render the effects of the most favored nation clause illusory."

Gresham contends that the payment by a country of a bounty on the exportation of an article of its produce or manufacture for the purpose of encouraging domestic industry can no more be considered as discrimination than can the imposition of a practically prohibitive duty on the importation of articles of a foreign country for the same purpose be so considered.

Japanese and Chinese Skirmishing.

HIROSHIMA, Dec. 5.—A dispatch from Field Marshal Yamagata, dated Antong, December 3, says the Japanese scouting party sent in the direction of Ling Shang Kwang engaged the Chinese outposts on the summit of Motien Ling, November 15th. One Japanese soldier was killed and three wounded. The scouting party was reinforced, and occupied a position at Sokako, where it was attacked by the enemy in large force. Over forty Japanese were killed. A company of infantry sent to reconnoitre Kwan Tien and Saibarhu was attacked by a large force of Chinese November 20th, at Tascowan and compelled to retreat, with the loss of several killed. Field Marshal Yamagata adds measures have been taken to clear the country around Kwan Tien and Saibarhu. Detachments under General Tachimi and Colonel Nissynia have reached their destinations, after slight resistance. They attacked the enemy at Saikabon, November 23d, and compelled the Chinese troops to retire. Two detachments are now returning to Antong.

Married Her Twelfth Husband.

ELKHART, Ind., Dec. 5.—The story comes from Marshall county that Mrs. Blackwood, whose remarkable matrimonial career has been given wide publicity, is about to be married to her twelfth husband, she having been divorced from husband No. 11. Mrs. Blackwood was married, when 15 years old. One husband has succeeded another in rapid succession until her matrimonial career is without parallel in the divorce courts of this state. Six of her husbands were divorced, one was killed and four died. Romance and pathos have a part in the story of her matrimonial conquests. One of her husbands was an ex-convict, whose pardon she secured from the Joliet prison and whose death shattered a happy union. The man who had worn the stripes was her third husband, whom she chanced to meet on a visit to the Illinois prison. Mr. Blackwood is only 40 years old. She is well educated and socially popular.

The Carmen to Blame.

OAKLAND, Dec. 5.—The inquest on the body of Miss May Coats, who was killed in the accident last night when the local train ran into the San Pablo avenue cable car, will not be held until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. An examination of the cable shows that the accident was not caused by a broken strand, as reported last evening. All things go to indicate that it was the fault of Carmen Josephs and Wilson, the motorman and conductor. They apparently attempted to cross ahead of the train so as not to be delayed. They have both been arrested, charged with manslaughter.

Senate Bills Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—In the senate, among the bills introduced this morning were the following: By Hunton, to remit "time penalties" on the Yorktown, the Baltimore, the Philadelphia and the Newark; referred. By Berry, to provide a temporary government for that portion of Indian territory occupied by Indians, to be known as the territory of Indianola: laid on the table. By Dolph, to exempt from payment of duties articles of foreign exhibitors at the Portland (Or.) exposition: laid on the table. A resolution was offered by McPherson, instructing the committee on education and labor to report as to the availability and advisability of establishing a "national unit of value of labor" wherewith to regulate wages automatically; referred.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—In the house Blair presented a resolution calling on the president for all correspondence with the governments of China and Japan relating to the pending war between those countries; referred. The house agreed to the conference report on the printing bill. A resolution was then adopted making the bill to permit railroad companies to pool their business a continuing order of business until disposed of, and the bill was laid before the house.

Resolution Modified.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—In the senate Lodge's resolution requesting the president to furnish information as to the delivery to China of two Japanese for execution, was referred to the committee on foreign relations. The senate then agreed to Peffer's resolution asking an inquiry by the judiciary committee as to the legality of the recent issue of bonds. The cloture resolution ordered yesterday was modified so as simply to instruct the committee on rules to report the cloture rule on or before the 15th instant. The resolution was placed on the calendar. The senate subsequently went into executive session.

Nicaragua Canal Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The senate committee on foreign relations met today for the purpose of considering the Nicaragua canal bill. No quorum was present, but the matter was discussed. A senate bill will be passed, and then the differences between the senate and the house bill will be settled in conference. The senate bill appropriates something like $6,000,000 to reimburse those who have invested that amount of money up to the present time in the undertaking.

Armistice Arranged.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 5.—It is rumored here that a ten days' armistice has been arranged between China and Japan. It is said the terms of peace, which are still under consideration, are to include an indemnity and the formation of a buffet state, consisting of the country now held by Japan. China now fears the winter more than Japan, as her supplies of rice have been kept back too long.

The Sugar Question.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Senator Quay today introduced an amendment to the sugar bill passed by the house and reported to the senate, providing for striking out of the one-eighth of a cent per pound differential on sugar. He said this amendment would bring the democrats face to face with the sugar trust and put them on record.

and started on a trip to Daredo, Tex., to make researches. Yesterday a skeleton was found a few miles north of here, which has been identified by the clothing as that of Dr. Renbaugh. It is the opinion that the Mexican servant killed the doctor for robbery.

Another Life Insurance Swindle.

TOPKA, Kan., Dec. 5.—W. N. Nichols of Valley Falls is authority for the statement that John W. Hillmon, supposed to have been killed in 1878, shortly after having taken out a very heavy insurance on his life, is alive in a little town near Tucson, Ariz. Nichols is on the way to Tucson to identify Hillmon.

A Masked Robber.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—L. Stenner, a grocer, doing business at 425 Amelia street, was robbed last night by a masked man, who entered the store, and presenting a revolver demanded his money. After going through the money-drawer and securing $2 and an old watch, the robber fled and made good his escape.

DOWN THE ANDES.

A Rough and Exciting Ride on the Transandine Railway.

A correspondent sends an interesting description of a crossing of the Cordillera de los Andes, in the present state of the Transandine railway. The letter says:

"By seven a. m. we were at the first inn on the Chili side. We there chartered a four-horse carriage to drive us to the end station (on this side) of the railway, which feat was accomplished in two hours' time. I call it a feat because the road is all along the river cut into the mountain side, and often there is hardly room for four horses abreast to pass, and when I looked out of the window into the roaring river below I often wished I had been on my mule. We did the distance between the two end stations in about half the time usually employed, only being on horseback for seven hours and two hours in the carriage. At the station we were told that there would be no train to Los Andes till three p. m. next day, but we might telegraph for the contractor's engine to take us down, which we did. We had only to pay thirty dollars for it and saved a whole day by doing so."

"At about ten a. m. the engine arrived, and a very flimsy thing it looked. We were put on a small bench at the back of the boiler, the driver and stoker standing in front. We were soon spinning along, through tunnels, over bridges and round curves on a track of about two feet six inches gauge at a rate of thirty miles an hour, and it was all that we could do to hold on to the jolting and rattling little machine. I don't believe I ever passed a worse half-hour, expecting every moment to see the engine leave the track and to be dashed into the river below. Stones on the line, which made us all jump off our seats, animals running across the rails, sudden desperate curves round the corners of the rocky cliff—nothing seemed to daunt our driver, and the noise was so great that it was impossible to ask him to slacken down. After we had gone half way, however, he lost a kettle overboard and stopped to pick it up, and then I remonstrated with him and told him to slacken speed, as I did not care to risk my life for the sake of getting to Los Andes a few minutes sooner. He said there was no danger, but drove more slowly, and we got into Los Andes an hour and two minutes after mounting this infernal machine, and right glad I was when we drew up alongside the platform with our bodies and luggage safe and sound."

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at Snipes & Kinerly's drug store.
