FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1894

INTRINSIC VALUE.

Men talk about the intrinsic value of gold. The word "intrinsic" has a colden sound about it. The intrinsic value of anything is what it will do for you in your hour of peril.

SOME QUEER LAWS.

"Bunco" Kelley's trial at Portland is dragging slowly along. Yesterday Prosecuting Attorney Hume and Judge Caples, who is conducting the defense, had a lively little row.

Mr. George McCoy, a real estate dealer of Portland, and an old-time job printer, thinks the newspapers should devote more attention to real estate, and not so much to China.

Our esteemed contemporary, the East Oregonian, does not favor the issuing of bonds covering the soil, but thinks that bonds covering the improvements are right and proper.

A "Bunch of Western Clover," called from the verdant slopes of Mt. Parnassus by Mrs. Ella Higginson, found its way to our table recently.

Our Portland contemporaries have given The Dalles a gentle dig or two lately. It was perhaps needed, but as we peruse the daily papers of that city today the broad smile that accompanies a base though not wicked revenge, spreads over the countenance of every reader. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is going to show there.

Portland is liable to have a new steamship line to China and Japan. Four companies are said to be figuring on the situation and one of them will surely stick.

What this country needs is an elastic currency, so that when a poor devil is hard up he can take hold of a dollar bill and stretch it into a "twenty."

Dr. and Mrs. Brosius of Hood River, after a brief visit here, returned to the new city today.

Mr. Wallace, editor of the Skamania county Pioneer, one of the brightest of our exchanges, is in the city.

Near this city, Dec. 7th, to the wife of John R. Cook, a daughter.

AN OUTLAW FORTRESS. The cliff from which the Sizemore Band shot down travelers.

On the left bank of the Holston river in Hawkins county, Tenn., is a cliff which has some local fame. It is of solid stone, perpendicular from the base up, and is something over a hundred feet high.

Trying the Mind Cure. A New York merchant is reported by the Tribune to have found his office boy weathering one of the terribly hot days of last summer in a manner highly philosophical, and therefore worthy—in his spirit, at least—of general imitation.

German Tramp Cards. A modification of the German system of cards for men tramping in search of work has been introduced in England.

PORTLAND EXPOSITION. Opens December 1, 1894, and closes January 15, 1895.

During this time the Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company will sell tickets from The Dalles to Portland and return, including two meals on the steamer Dalles City at $2.50.

The regular subscription price of the WEEKLY CHRONICLE is $1.50 and the regular price of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is $1.50.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure.

Married man—Yan, I'm afraid I shall have to build soon. You see, my family is getting so numerous I shall have to throw out a wing.

The Discovery Saved His Life. Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life."

Notice. On and after Dec. 1st, 1894, all county warrants issued by the county clerk will be made payable to order, and no county warrant will be stamped or listed by the county treasurer unless endorsed by the party to whom said order is issued.
