

Wednesday, Dec. 12th, We will commence Our Annual Fall Sale.

As this has been our practice since the beginning of our business, we offer no apology or give any further reason for this

GREAT SMASH IN PRICES.

This year our sale will be far more important than ever before, as our stock is fuller, more varied, and owing to our taking advantage of Tariff changes and the business depression, allows us to offer more tempting prices. Now is the time to get out your savings and invest them to good advantage. While a Dollar in our house is not any bigger in size than anywhere else, it looks so because it will buy so much more. This is not a sale of old goods carried over from year to year, for at the commencement of the year our stock was extremely low, and this has allowed us to be liberal buyers. This is strictly a sale of Fresh, Choice and

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANDISE,

Bought as Low as Cash will Purchase, and Now Offered at Unheard-of Prices.

We are not dissatisfied with our goods; they are all right, for our business during the present year has been extremely satisfactory, beyond any sanguine anticipations we might have formed at its commencement. We therefore owe something to our friends and customers, and will endeavor to show our appreciation of their kindness by giving them an opportunity of selecting from our stock, goods at away below regular prices. As every article in the house will be marked down it will be impossible for us to be ready until Wednesday. To avoid confusion, goods will be sold at regular prices until then.

Of course, if you haven't a cent in the world, these reduced prices will be of little service to you. Or if you have so much money that you don't know how to spend it, then reductions are not an inducement. But if you are like the majority of people, with just a little money and inclined to make it go as far as possible, then our figures are interesting. We want in this sale to see how much more we can make a Dollar buy than it used to.

Terms of Sale, - Strictly Cash.

Stubling & Williams have at their sample rooms, corner Second and Court streets, a fine lot of claret, port and zinfandel wine, which they will sell to the trade or at retail at lowest possible prices. Dec13.

Stubling & Williams have received a fine assortment of imported liquors during the week, consisting of brandies, whiskies and wines, which they will offer over their bar, and will retail at very low prices. Only the best wines, liquors and cigars kept at their sample rooms, corner Court and Second streets.

Much complaint is made concerning the action of a large number of boys who filled the back end of the opera house last night. Their noise and talking were very annoying. Parents should not allow their children to attend public meetings of this kind without either being with them or having some one else look after them.

Miss Augusta Schiller, a bright, pretty and captivating soubrette, with a voice both beautiful in quality and cultivation, has introduced successfully into the Anderson's bran new farce, "Jolly Old Chums," which will be presented here Dec. 15, some very superior music, not heard outside comic operas now-a-days without burlesque frills. This speaks volumes for Miss Schiller.

The Markets.

There is little or no change in the staples, wheat maintains its price, but the bears knocked it down temporarily at Sound points a cent or two a bushel last week. The arrivals here have fallen off largely on account of the bad condition of the roads, and the further fact that the larger portion of the crop has been delivered.

Potatoes are firm, but prices remain unchanged rating from 50 to 60 cents per sack, the former being the usual price, the latter for a small lot or two of extra quality.

Hogs have fallen off, $3.50 per hundred being the standard price, though one small lot from Klickitat, in extra condition brought Wednesday $3.60.

Eggs are quite plentiful at 30 cents.

There is an abundance of vegetables, cabbage, cauliflower, beets, turnips, carrots, onions, celery, sweet potatoes and some radishes and young onions.

Oranges are plentiful and cheap considering the earliness of the season, as are also lemons and bananas.

Apples are at all prices because they are of all qualities, so that it is impossible to set a price. They range from 50 cents to $1.50 per box and even higher.

For the many accidents that occur about the farm or household, such as burns, scalds, bruises, cuts, ragged wounds, bites of animals, mosquitoes or other insects, galls or chafed spots, frost bites, aches or pains in any part of the body, or the ailments resulting from exposure, as neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment has proved itself a sovereign remedy. Price, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. For sale by the Snipes-Kineraly Drug Co.

BORN.

In this city, Dec. 10th, to the wife of Frank B. Stevens, a son, weight 10 pounds.

DIED.

In this city Dec. 10, Caswell, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Stevens.

Teachers' Institute.

Owing to some lack of preparation, and the absence of two of those on the program, it was not carried out as printed for the afternoon. However, Miss Sears gave a most interesting talk in lieu of her promised paper on "Busy Work in Primary Classes." Profs. Gorham and Frazier being absent, Prof. Gavin promptly came forward and gave one of his admirable talks on "The Use of the Globe." There was little or no discussion during the afternoon session. The presence of a number of pushing agents of rival publishing houses adds life and interest to the institute.

EVENING EXERCISES.

The overcrowded condition of the opera house long before the beginning of the exercises, showed the urgent need of a larger hall for such gatherings. The singing was very good; recitation by Bessie French extra good; but the doll drill was just good, gooder, goodest! The address by Professor Chapman, of the State University, was most earnest, able, and a scholarly plea for higher education. Perhaps the most noteworthy point in the address was the emphasis given to the necessity of acquiring the ability to express one's self correctly, forcibly and fluently in the English language.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

The teachers were rather slow in assembling. Several new faces were to be seen, among them being Prof. A. Frazier and Miss Edith Peabody, of the Dufur school. After some excellent singing and roll call, the critic made her report. While some mistakes were noted, the warm commendation of the many excellencies of yesterday's work must have been a balm for all wounds made by the criticisms.

The discussion of the "County Course of Study in Ungraded Schools" showed that the teachers of the county are alive to the necessity of some system of grading schools, whereby uniformity and definite results shall be secured. The greatest difficulty found in trying to use the present course has been on account of opposition on the part of parents.

The appearance of Supt. McElroy on the platform was greeted by looks of quiet satisfaction on the part of acquaintances.

The remarkable stillness of the room was a just tribute to the worth of Miss Nan Cooper's paper on "A Quiet School - How Secured."

The same may be said of the finely composed essay on "Silent Force in School Government," by Miss Everhart. Lack of time cut short any discussion of these very important subjects. The suggestions of the essayists were however so thorough and appropriate that further discussion seemed unnecessary.

The time was too limited for a profitable discussion of map drawing, yet the talk and blackboard illustration of Prof. Asa Stogedill were interesting and instructive, and excited some valuable comments.

R. A. Galley read a well composed eulogy on the value of mathematical study.

There was one almost inexcusable mistake in yesterday's report, wherein it was stated Miss Callison was organist. This was wrong as Miss Hollister presided at the organ. P.
