AN EVIDENCE OF GENIUS.

We stated Saturday that the genius of the Americans acknowledged no limit to its powers, and gave a specimen of its latest efforts in opening graves and stealing the coffins which were resold. At the same time another case crops up, it being that of a Mrs. Geisicker, whose husband died some time ago and whose body was cremated. In the course of time the widow became financially embarrassed and applied to a friend, a Mrs. Beisner, for a loan of $25. Mrs. Beisner was strictly business and demanded security, but Mrs. Geisicker was short of securities as she was of money. She was a thrifty woman, however, and the pinching of poverty are conducive to the inculcating of shifty ideas. Mrs. Geisicker therefore offered to deposit with Mrs. Beisner the little box containing the ashes of the late lamented Mr. Geisicker, to be held in trust until the $25 was forthcoming. This was acceded to and the remains were handed over to the money lender to hold until the sum was returned. Whether a cold mercenary idea struck Mrs. Geisicker that she had let the ashes go too cheap, or whether her conscience troubled her for having the old man's remnants in soak at any price cannot be told, but anyway Mrs. Geisicker caused a warrant to be issued and Mrs. Beisner was arrested. The judge was somewhat puzzled, but advised Mrs. Beisner to return the husband to the wife, and then to seek her remedy by a suit at law to recover the money.

It will be seen from the cases cited that neither the cemetery nor the crematory are a safe asylum for the dead, and beyond the reach of American genius.

A PLAIN REMEDY.

The attention of inventors is being turned to devising some protection against train-robbing. Two of the most recent suggestions is a steel cage arrangement surrounding the safe in the express so that when the robbers go inside, the messenger touches a spring, a gate closes and the robbers are fast. Another is an arrangement for the protection of passenger cars, by which, when a robber sets his foot on the steps of the coach a rapid-firing gun, worked automatically, begins to pump bullets into him. These are but two of a hundred or more suggestions. The real remedy is not even hinted at; that is in the law and its strict enforcement. Every train-robbler, like almost every burglar, goes prepared to commit murder, and determined to do it rather than be caught. So that his crime is at least as near in its gravity that of murder as it can be.

Let the government then, or the state government, make the offence punishable with death, and see that the law is strictly enforced. It would then be a question of time only, and a very short time at that, until train-robbing would be a lost art. As it is, with light punishment, if caught, and large rewards, if successful, the robber calculates the chances and finds it about the least dangerous and most profitable of all criminal pursuits left open to him.

A Secret.

If all the ladies knew the simple secret that a bad complexion is due to a disordered liver, there would be fewer sallow faces and blotchy skins. This important organ must be kept active and healthy to insure a clear and rosy color. Dr. J. A. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm as a purifier, beats all the creams and lotions in existence and will produce a more permanent effect. Removes bad taste in the mouth, offensive breath, yellow tinge in the skin, wind on the stomach and that dull, bilious feeling which so surely indicates the torpid liver. Price $1.00 per bottle. Snipes & Kinnersly, Drug Co.

PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

Opens December 1, 1894, and Closes January 15, 1895.

During this time the Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company will sell tickets from The Dalles to Portland and return, including two meals on the steamer Dalles City at $2.50. Tickets limited to ten days from date of sale. Regulator will leave at 7 a. m. and the Dalles City will arrive at Portland at 5:30 p. m. Quick transfers at the locks.
