ANOTHER CULTUS BOARD.

The case of the State of Oregon against Dr. Deitrich was called in Justice Davis, court Monday afternoon and after examination into the matter the defendant was dismissed. The doctor was arrested charged with practicing medicine without a license. Without pretending to argue the merits of the case one way or the other it is proper to say that the doctor has a certificate, properly signed, but the paper on which it is written is torn in two places, or more properly speaking is worn out, in those places. The printed matter of the certificate is not however damaged. The case was brought through the state board of medical examiners, who claim that in those worn spaces, they had written in the time for which the certificate was good. The truth of the matter is that the board had no right to limit any certificate. The law provides that upon passing a proper examination or the presentation of a diploma from colleges of a certain standard the board must issue the certificate, absolutely and without any qualifications. They have no right to issue any special permits. As far as the case has gone, about the only thing demonstrated is that the state board of medical examiners has been doing business on its own hook regardless of law or consequences. It is another of those boards of commissioners that the legislature can practice on with its little ax, just to try its temper.

CANNOT BE DRIVEN.

The drain of gold from the treasury goes on handsomely, and already the $58,000,000 gold received for bonds sold this month, $12,000,000 have gone back into the possession of those who loaned it to the government. At this rate, by the middle of February another fifty million of bonds will have to be issued. It looks as if the whole scheme was to get the total non-interest bearing debt of the government transferred into an interest-bearing debt, with a special promise to pay it in gold. Of course the specious plea is made that the lenders having loaned gold have a right to be paid in like money. As a matter of fact they have not loaned gold, but have taken advantage of the law and the situation, to gather up the greenbacks and, first getting the gold from the United States treasury, sell it back to the government for interest-bearing gold bonds.

There are two remedies—one to retire the currency, the other to make it like the first issue of greenbacks, "a full legal tender, which will be received in payment of customs and internal revenue." The latter scheme is not now popular, but the gold-bugs are rapidly making it so. No matter what views the American people may have about finances, let them once understand that the money power is forcing them, or trying to force them, into a certain course, and they will go the other way. That evidence of forcing is becoming visible, and already the people are beginning to look for a good point at which to make a square about-face.

HE BUMPED HIS HEAD.

Parson Davies, commenting on the killing of Bowen by Lavigne, in a prize fight at New Orleans Saturday, says: "Had Referee Duffy stopped the fight between Lavigne and Bowen there would have been great dissatisfaction. Lavigne fought a fair and manly fight and had the battle won from the tenth round. It has been found that Bowen's stomach was in bad condition, filled with undigested food, including peas, onions and pieces of meat. Had the ring been padded Bowen would now be alive. I examined the platform Thursday and objected to canvas covering. I was informed that the padding had been removed at the request of one of the contestants. I spoke to Ryan about it, and he said if it suited others, it suited him."

As Davies admits the man would not have been killed if the floor had been padded, what had the "peas, onions and pieces of meat" found in the dead man's stomach to do with the matter? The truth is, Bowen was beaten to death, and the short-haired gentry are simply trying to cover the murder up. There is an explanation in the first few lines of Davies statement, and the fight was not stopped because there would have been "great dissatisfaction."

If anything were wanting to emphasize the fact that Portland is a tough city, that want is supplied in the attempt of Geo. P. Joseph, an attorney, and John A. Carr, a broker to "fix" the jury in the Bunco Kelley case. These gentlemen were arrested Saturday on indictments found by the grand jury the same day. It seems that they approached Mrs. Huntington, whose husband was one of the jurors, and Carr told her, so it is claimed, that if her husband voted for any other verdict than acquittal, he would be murdered. He also gave the woman $100 to give her husband, and told her there was $200 more, and if that was not enough, he could fix his price. It is needless to say that Huntington was not of the bribetaking kind, and brought in such verdict as his conscience dictated. If Joseph and Carr are guilty, they should be punished to the full extent of the law.

In the prize fight at New Orleans Friday night between Kid Lavigne and Andy Bowen, the latter was knocked out by a terrific blow in the neck. In falling, the back of his head struck the floor with such violence that it caused contusion of the brain, and Bowen died Saturday morning. If the prize-fighters keep up their record of killing one another, the business will soon become as dangerous as modern foot-ball.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.
 Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Snipes & Kinerly.

A Secret.
 If all the ladies knew the simple secret that a had complexion is due to a disordered liver, there would be fewer pale faces and blotchy skins. This important organ must be kept active and healthy to insure a clear and rosy color. Dr. J. A. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm as a purifier, beats all the creams and lotions in existence and will produce a more permanent effect. Removes bad taste in the mouth, offensive breath, yellow tinge in the skin, wind on the stomach and that dull, bilious feeling which so surely indicates the torpid liver. Price $1.00 per bottle. Snipes & Kinerly, Drug Co.

Stubling & Williams have at their sample rooms, corner Second and Court streets, a fine lot of claret, port and zinfandel wine, which they will sell to the trade or at retail at lowest possible prices. Dec 13.

President of the French Chamber.
 PARIS, Dec. 18.—M. Brisson, chosen prime minister on the fall of M. Jules Ferry, in 1885, was elected president of the chamber of deputies in succession to the late M. Budeau today, by a vote of 249 to 213 for M. Meilne, French protectionist leader.
