BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

A good boy can secure steady work and fair wages by applying at this office.

Suit was begun this morning by Charles E. Gill against T. J. Watson, trustee, T. J. Watson, May G. Watson and D. M. McLachlann, to foreclose a mortgage on property at Hood River, known as "Idlewild Annex."

Edmund Smart was arrested yesterday charged with threatening to kill the partner of his joys and sorrows, principally sorrows, and was taken before Justice Davis for examination.

This is the shortest day of the year, and it is about the most pleasant one. The sun shone brightly for several hours and the air is as balmy as the very gentlest spring.

There will be an entertainment at armory hall on Christmas night, for the benefit of St. Paul's Sunday school, consisting of recitations and songs, also a magic lantern show with a large lantern, casting a view twelve feet in diameter.

fore night. After drawing the money he went to John Collins store, and from there rode on a coal wagon with a friend to the home.

Hood River Park Addition.

A gentleman writes from Seattle to the county clerk to the effect that he is administrator of an estate that owns a lot in Hood River Park addition to The Dalles, and requests information as to how far it is from this place, and its probable value.

A Small Business.

Complaint is being made that every morning shortly before the Regulator leaves, a freight train is stopped on the Court street crossing, and is not cut in two, so that it is almost impossible to get to the wharf.

Sweets to the Sweet.

Mr. Andrew Keller, the confectioner, has a beautiful display of Christmas goods in his line. Fancy candies, in endless varieties, cakes plain and ornamental, and the thousand of things "just too sweet" make up the outlay.

The Congregational Concert.

It is a pleasure to write up a program like that given at the Congregational church last evening. Every number was a gem. The audience, though fair in size, was not so large as it should have been to merit such an entertainment.

Whenever the church choir sings there is sure to be good music, and it was especially so last night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Myers read a dialogue, which was very well received by their hearers.

Little Lela Kelsay sang a solo in a winning manner. She is but a little girl, but has a remarkably voice for one so young.

Jamie Huntington recited about "Hanging Up Baby's Stocking" in a captivating way. His face beamed with good nature, and he was not in the least afraid of speaking in clear good tones.

A song by the male quartette was well liked by the audience. Mr. B. S. Huntington favored the auditors with reading a selection about the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

The performance of the little children took the house by storm. Wearing paper caps they marched on the stage and sang their songs as cunningly as only children can do.

tell which enjoyed it the most, the children or their admirers.

PEASE & MAYS.

The evening was indeed a pleasant one, and those who staid away missed something they would have enjoyed.

Now is the time for our fruitgrowers to look after the San Jose scale and wooly aphis. The state board of horticulture in bulletin 8 strongly recommends winter spraying, and the following mixtures for winter use, both for the extermination of the woolly aphis and the San Jose scale:

- Sulphur, unslacked, 30 lbs. Sulphur, powdered, 20 lbs. Salt, stock, 15 lbs. Water, 60 gals.

Directions—Place 10 pounds of lime and 20 pounds of sulphur in a boiler with 20 gallons of water, and boil over a brisk fire for two hours, until the sulphur is thoroughly dissolved.

- Sulphur, 100 lbs. Lime, 100 lbs. Blue vitriol, 8 lbs.

Directions—Slack the lime with enough water to make a thick paste. Dissolve the blue vitriol in hot water and add to the slacked lime.

PEASE & MAYS.

A lodge of I. O. G. T. was organized at Cascade Locks on Saturday, Dec. 15th, by District Deputy H. U. Welch of Portland, with the following staff of officers:

- John Aldrich, C. T.; Miss E. Frizzell, V. T.; Rev. Wm. Hoskins, P. C.; Frank Hall, chaplain; Alvin Benson, secretary.

The membership includes many of the leading young people of the town and the lodge will doubtless do good work here for the Good Templar's cause.
