BRIEF MENTION.

The sleighing is said to be fine out in the Kingsley neighborhood. There will be a pigeon shoot on the beach at 2 o'clock Christmas afternoon.

The glad yule tide will occasionally leave recollections that are not always pleasant, though the lesson may have been profitable.

The Union Whist club held its regular meeting last night, being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Peters.

At the Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday, Dec. 23d, the morning theme of the Rev. J. Whieler will be "The Glad Tidings;" in the evening "Some Scientific and Moral Phases of the Temperance Question."

The special rate to Portland, made by the O. R. & N., caused a number of our citizens to visit the metropolis yesterday.

The streets present a more than usual bustling appearance today, caused by the farmers and their wives being in town, bent on providing little remembrances for Christmas.

Salvation Army. The ship "Glad Tidings," laden with good things, for whom it may concern, will be on exhibition at the opera house on the evening of the 26th of December.

Mr. Andrew Keller, the confectioner, has a beautiful display of Christmas goods in his line.

He Means Business.

The following letter was received by the county clerk of Gilliam county recently, and was printed in the Condon Globe yesterday.

"Sir—To aid me in completing pending negotiations for the completion of a portage railroad around the dalles and a line connecting steamers. It is necessary for me to show that the traffic tributary to Columbia and Snake rivers is sufficient to pay the expense of their operation and interest on the investment.

Also how large a percentage of the total products would be hauled to the river with an open river at rates of freight from one-third to one-half the rates now charged by the railroads.

As it is the intention to have our project completed by the time the Cascade locks are finished, an early answer will be important. Yours truly, PAUL MOHR,

A Wise Suggestion.

Senator Turpie in discussing the Morgan Nicaragua canal bill made a wise suggestion when he said that "before any of the provisions of the act are enforced, the president is to appoint three competent engineers, two of them from the engineer corps and one from civil life, not interested in the canal company, to make a survey and estimate of the expense of construction of the canal on the route proposed."

Any one who has knowledge of the present canal company knows that it has not been managed on a basis to engender confidence. The books of the company have been "cooked" for the purpose of deceiving. Let the investigation of the canal be made without any aid from the company.

pendent of the Maritime Canal company.

The charter of the company will expire shortly and Nicaragua will not renew it, having had all the trouble with a company that she desires. It is an outrageous shame that this government should be bamboozled into paying $7,000,000—and for what?—nothing.—Walla Walla Statesman.
