Dufur Doings.

The New Year was christened by a heavy snow storm that makes it very bad for all stock that are not under shelter.

Now is the farmers holiday, but he accepts it with ill grace, seemingly begrudging the time that he has to be idle.

Mrs. J. Craft is confined to her bed by sickness, and the two children of Mrs. Laura Hinman are sick with the scarletina.

Mrs. Polk Butler is spending the holidays on the Ridge at their farm, leaving Omer to act as "chef" and Roy to wrestle with the pots and kettles.

The W. L. S. bonbon social Saturday night was enjoyed by quite a crowd of young and old. A spicy literary program, interspersed with music and singing, commenced the exercises of the evening.

Waldo Brigham read a comic selection of "An Old Darks" lecture on Apples." Ruby Slusher recited "Her First Letter," which was nicely done for the first attempt.

Pearly Woodford spoke "Small Dress-making."

Little Toody Warren, only 3 years old, recited "Dickory, Dickory Dock," without a blunder.

Katie Whipple and Jennie Moore spoke their pieces with credit to themselves.

Albert Haynes deserves mention. He recited with great distinctness for one so young.

One of the striking features of the evening was a recitation by Amy Johnston, which is a very pathetic piece and was executed in a manner deserving much praise.

New Year's night was celebrated by the masquerade ball. A large assemblage of spectators and maskers crowded the hall. The scene was one of grotesqueness, composed of a fantastic mixture of gaily-dressed, nimble-legged clowns, fair brides, dainty flower-girls, Japanese ladies, sailor boys, yachting girls, bootblacks, negroes, negresses, and almost every character, imaginable, was here represented.

Among some of the most noticeable was a costume as "Sunflower" by Mrs. Mary Vanderpool, which showed much skill and taste in the arrangement.

T. H. Johnston represented a cavalier of the 16th century, and well did he do it. Mrs. Laura Johnston was "Sleighbells," and received a prize for having the prettiest ladies' costume. She was dressed in white, dotted with snowflakes and frost, while a string of silvery sleighbells responded to every movement of the wearer.

Ann Neal represented "Dufur Flouring mill." She was dressed in a plain dress entirely made of flour sacks the latter side out. She gracefully balanced a sack of flour on her shoulder, while miniature sacks were hung about her. It was one of the best sustained characters. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Dufur went as King and Queen Cotton, and took one of the prizes. James Staats acted a negress, and he did it to perfection, for very few knew him. It was well worthy of note. The "German Doctor" was effectually carried out by A. Howie. Dan McDonald was dressed as an old lady, and received the booby prize, which was a Chinese doll. He looked very motherly as he administered the proper chastisement to the inoffensive doll. Mrs. Ed Bohna received the first prize for the best sustained ladies' character. She was a Japanese lady. Thos. Glavy received the first prize for the best gentleman character, as an "Irish lord." Over seventy-five numbers were sold, and dancing was carried on until the "wee sma' hours" of the night. QUIZ.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old Mother Urged Me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was 12 years of age I was afflicted with Eczema. I spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs, and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S. S. S., and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible Eczema was gone, not a sign of it left; my general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. CHILDHOOD recommended S. S. S. to a number of friends for skin diseases, and have never yet known a failure to cure. GEO. W. IRWIN, Irwin, Pa.
