BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

County commissioners court tomorrow. There will be a meeting of Jackson Engine Company, at the council chamber at 7:30 this morning.

Owing to a snowslide at Oneonta last night, the local passenger from Portland did not leave that place today.

It was raining at Pendleton this morning, and we may look for that same kind of weather here tonight, or tomorrow.

It commenced snowing again at an early hour this morning, and the prospects for another blockade are exceedingly good.

Friendship Lodge, K. of P., installed its officers for the ensuing term last night, and also raised four Esquires to Knighthood.

Just cast your eye, one of them is enough, on M. Honywill's new ad., as it will appear tomorrow. You will find something to interest you.

Nine carloads of hogs arrived here from Weiser, Idaho, and other points east of us on their way to Troutdale. Many of them are dead, and the smell is enough to stop the ice in the river.

The new telephone system seems to be getting a large number of subscribers and it is probable there will be nearly 200 phones put in. It will be extended to any point in the city limits, and will be operated day and night.

There were but few sleighs on the streets today and the tinkling bells were unheard. All morning the snow came down steadily and all afternoon a light drizzling rain fell. In consequence the streets and sidewalks have been deserted all day.

D. L. Cates, or "Curg," is in the city, shaking hands with his friends, which means nearly everybody in the city. He is much pleased with the Locks, though he says it is dull there now on account of the work being shut down by the snow.

Sometime since, the Gibbons, husband and wife, were tried before Justice Davis for a trifling offense and found guilty. As they expressed a desire to leave the county, the Judge suspended sentence, but told them if they came back they would have to take their punishment. As they returned a day or so ago, a commitment was made out for them today. It is quite probable that their next move will be to the insane asylum.

The river is blocked with ice this morning from Crates's point up to the Regulator wharf and is steadily filling up above that point. The Regulator got up steam this morning, and forcing her way through the shore ice went into winter quarters at Hungry harbor above the city.

Today the sentence imposed by the white man's laws on Caroline, expires, and she will be again given the wild freedom of the forest, if she wants it. However, the chances are that the falling snow and dreary landscape will cause her to eschew the liberty of the foothills and to drown her sorrows and forget her woes at the first opportunity.

Rev. W. H. Sellick on Sunday evening preached a sermon from the theme "The Dance of Death." He treated the general subject of dancing and then took up the charity ball to be given at Frazer's opera house. The persons who are active in making preparations were referred to in severe terms as contributing to the recognition of an institution which is productive of immoral results. His remarks were most emphatic and he scored the charity ball idea very severely.—East Oregonian.

The English Literature class, with a few invited friends, were entertained by Mrs. A. R. Thompson and Miss Ruch at the home of the former last evening, when the reading of "Macbeth" was the principal feature of the evening. The different parts were well rendered, that of Macbeth being taken by Mr. Nicholas Sinnott and Lady Macbeth by Miss Melissa Hill. Food for the mind was not the only kind partaken of, for a dainty lunch was served after the reading, and then games occupied the latter part of the evening, which served to divert thoughts from murderous deeds and the vision of Banquo's ghost.

A Wedding and a Death.

We clip from the Antelope Herald the three items following:

Married on Christmas day, December 25th, 1894, at the residence of the bride's parents, on Hay Creek, by Rev. Wade, Mr. Joseph McCollum to Miss Lydia Dunham. The happy young couple attended the New Year's ball at this place.

As we go to press the sad news reaches us of the death of Mrs. O. S. Boardman, one of the best known and highly respected ladies of Mitchell. She was ill only a few days. She leaves a husband, son, daughter and sister-in-law to mourn her death.

Last Wednesday, January 2d, was the worst and most disagreeable day this section has witnessed for years. Early in the morning a heavy snow storm, or we might more appropriately say, a Dakota blizzard, set in, and kept it up with great fury until late in the night. Next morning fifteen inches of snow covered the ground—more than has fallen at one time since '90. As we go to press (Friday morning) a glorious Chinook is blowing and the "beautiful" congealed element will probably be all gone in a few days.

Twenty-Five Cents to the Pan.

A rancher living on Sutton creek a few miles southeast of Baker City, brought a dozen chickens to town the other day and disposed of them to Mr. Walter Fernald, of the First National Bank, reports the Democrat. In dressing one of them gold particles were found in the craw. A few days after the rancher came to town again and Mr. Fernald informed him of the find and suggested that the rancher had better do a little prospecting for diggings in the vicinity of his home. The rancher on his return home began a search for gold in a gulch near by and has been rewarded by a prospect of twenty-five cents to the pan. With the coming season Mr. Rancher proposes to turn his attention to placer mining.

Needs a New Bone.

Four inches of snow fell this morning, and the barometer went down 38 points since 5 o'clock last night, standing at 2 o'clock at 29.80. The lowest thermometer last night was 10 above at 9 o'clock at which time a fog settled down over the city and the temperature commenced to rise. Shortly after noon it began to rain with the temperature at 26.

The weather forecast from Portland for this place today was fair, which is as near as that office has come to being correct in 96 straight guesses. It is to be hoped that when the sugar schedule is settled, and the gold reserve gets fortified again, Uncle Sam will buy the signal service office at Portland a new goose bone, for it needs it badly.

U. S. Fomologist Coming.

Professor Heiges, chief of pomology of the horticultural department at Washington, D. C., who is an old schoolmate of John E. Hough, has written Mr. Hough that he will during the strawberry season visit here a few days and in the meantime inspect the young commercial orchards on the Nessly tract. The visit of such a high functionary is indeed gratifying, for the professor is acknowledged by all scientific fruit-growers to be the best authority on fruits in the United States. He will deliver a tree lecture on fruit-growing at the opera house, which will be of great value to orchardists.—La Grande Chronicle.

Great Oaks

From little acorns grow, so also do fatal diseases spring from small beginnings. Never neglect symptoms of kidney troubles; if allowed to develop they cause much suffering and sorrow. Dr. S. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm is a certain cure for any disease or weakness of the kidneys. A trial will convince you of its great potency. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly, druggists.

In the 30s: An envious contemporary (to Miss Budlong)—And so you are really engaged to Mr. Timid Smithkins? Miss Budlong (quite provokingly)—Yes, dear; and I want you to suggest something sweet tender to go in my engagement ring. Envious contemporary—If I were in your place, I'd just have the simple word "Eureka."—Tid-Bits.

Many stubborn and aggravating cases of rheumatism that were believed to be incurable and accepted as life legacies, have yielded to Chamberlain's Pain Balm, much to the surprise and gratification of the sufferers. One application will relieve the pain and suffering and its continued use insures an effectual cure. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

"How is young Blaggles doing in business?" asked her father. "Splendidly," was the confident reply. "He says that he considers himself very lucky at the store." "Have they raised his salary?" "N-no; but they threatened to discharge him and didn't do it."—Washington Star.

He (at the trysting place)—What a time you have kept me waiting! She—Quite the contrary. It is only 8, and I did not intend to be here before 7. He—Just so; but you have mistaken the day. I have been waiting here since yesterday.—Humoristische Blaetter.

"Mariar" said the Mormon gentleman, "ha'n't you kep' them letters I wrote you when I was courtin'?" "Yes," said the wife. "I allowed you had. I wish you would git 'em out so I can use 'em, I got another wife in view."—Indianapolis Journal.

Little girl—Our baby is smarter than yours. Little boy—Tisn't. "Yes 'tis. Your baby can't say the first word yet. Our baby is beginnin' to talk." "Y-e-e, but your baby is a girl."—Street & Smith's Good News.
