BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Read Kirby's ad. in this issue, and profit thereby.

The Carlisle currency bill was knocked out yesterday by a vote 124 for and 129 against. This is a decided victory for the silver men.

The snow is in excellent condition for snow-balling today, as many a person who has "got it" in the back of the neck, or had his hat knocked off, can testify.

It is almost certain that the Pacific Insurance Union will go to pieces in the very near future. When it does there is going to be a wild scramble for business and a reckless slashing of rates.

The commissioners have been doing a lot of preliminary work and examining of accounts, but have completed but little business. They have matters in shape however, that when they commence to grind tomorrow there will be a large grist, quickly handled.

Waucoma Lodge, K. of P., of Hood River has installed the following officers: L. N. Blowers, C. O.; J. A. Soesbe, V. O.; W. H. Bishop, P.; G. T. Prather, K. R. and S.; J. B. Hunt, M. W.; C. D. Smith, M. of F.; C. L. Gilbert, M. of E.; G. S. Evans, M. at A.; R. Husbands, I. G.; Scott Peterson, O. G.

Yesterday the big boiler used at the pumping station at Cascade Locks, exploded with terrific force. At the time there were quite a number of men, probably sixty, in the immediate vicinity of the boiler, and though fifteen of these were thrown to the ground, no one was injured.

Five hundred dollars expenses for bringing a prisoner from Harney county to Portland in order to try him for selling a pint of whiskey to an Indian, seems like a high price for the punishment of the offense; but that is what the last case cost the government. The prisoner will lie in jail until June, and the total cost of trying him will be about $1,000, which is a big price for a pint of whiskey.

The sleighing last night was very good, there having been travel enough to get the snow pretty well packed. This being the case, it was taken advantage of by a large number, and the jingle of bells and toot of horns were heard until a late hour. Among other turn-outs were three or four four-horse rigs, and all loaded. The parties in the big wagon beds seemed to be having the most fun—at least they made the most noise.

A Jacksonville correspondent says: The contract for the survey of the Rogue River Valley railroad from Medford to Eagle Point was let to W. E. Coul, and the survey was begun Wednesday. Mr. Harvey Man, the president of the company, has been in Jacksonville the past week making arrangements for the preliminary survey. The line between Jacksonville and Medford has been successfully operated the past four years, and the extension will carry the line through a fine body of fruit and grain lands up to the timber belt on the eastern side of the valley.

Sleighing Party.

Last night at 7:30, a big sleigh drawn by four horses, and under the guidance of genial Tom Ward, proceeded to gather up a cargo of ladies and gentlemen bound for a visit to Mr. Wm. Floyd's place, and to have a general good time and a dance. The following made up the party: Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Baily, Miss Allie White, Misses Mattie and Mamie Cushing, Miss Lay, Miss Minnie Lay, Miss Cheese and Messrs. Porter, Fisher, Weigle, Fritz and H. A. York.

The roads were in excellent shape and the ride was thoroughly enjoyed. Arriving at their destination a warm welcome greeted them and the time was spent in games, dancing and paying proper attention to an elegant supper. The party arrived home about 2 o'clock this morning.

Most Wise Judge.

The following account of a trial the decision in which ought to be an example for the real courts, is given by the Portland Sun:

"An exciting and interesting meeting of the moot court of the law school was held last evening in Judge Hurley's courtroom. As a preliminary officers for the ensuing term were elected, as follows: D. A. Grout, president; F. S. Grant, secretary; W. Q. Buffington, treasurer, and I. J. Sweet, sergeant-at-arms. Judge John L. McGinn, in an exhaustive opinion, decided that the young man arrested for dropping a nickel to which a string was tied, in the slot of a cigar machine, and then withdrawing the money, after the receipt of the cigar, was not guilty of larceny as charged, as the owner of the nickel-in-the-slot machine had intended to part with the title to the cigar as long as a person complied with the direction to drop the required nickel.

A jury trial which, for its bickerings, personalities and irrelevant innuendoes would do justice to a first-class murder trial then followed. Contrary to custom Mr. J. B. Mullay was excused because he knew absolutely nothing and Mr. S. B. Riffin was accepted for the reason of his defiant affirmation that he was a professional juror. Mr. Knowell was excused because he had no property but was living in hopes. At a late hour the case was going with a State-vs-Steeves-like slowness and the embryo lawyers were arguing at great length a point about as relevant to the issue as is a hawk to a handsaw.

PERSONAL MENTION.

WM. MICHELL, County Treasurer.

The Columbia Packing Co. are selling trimmed pork shoulders at 5 cents per pound for cash.

POPPING THE QUESTION.

General Information as to the Method Is Hard to Obtain.

"It is a strange thing," whispered a whimsical individual one night, after making sure no one else was looking, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, "that a married person always declines to inform an unmarried friend just how the proposal tableau was arranged. It has been a matter of much speculation to me as to the most popular and common tableau enacted on such an auspicious occasion. Every time I have asked a married woman how her husband asked her to be his, she has always blushed and given an evasive answer. 'It's been so long I have forgotten,' she sometimes answers, unthinkingly. If she had realized that she had referred to her age she would have expired.

"Another woman will answer: Why, John just asked me, and I said yes. On account of these different answers I have begun to think that, as comparisons cannot be made, an artistic proposal will never be had in this world. I have also begun to think why it is that these evasive replies are invariable. So deeply has the matter taken hold of me that, for the enlightenment of humanity in general, I am half determined to form an army somewhat after the fashion of Coeur de Lion—or Coxey—and march upon the hosts of the silent women and compel them to yield their secret."

"De gret trouble wif dese times," said Erastus Pinkly, "am dat 'nuff folks doan' un'stand' de ta'hiff' question." "Dasso," replied his companion. "Foh instance, you an' me wants free ror material." "Does we?" "Sut'ny. Spose'n de 'ysters as dey is brung f'um de bay didu't cost nuffin.' Dah you'd hab de freest kin' ob rorrest material, an' de intiah profit ob de 'yster bus'ness' ud go ter us gemmen wha does de shuckin.'"—Washington Star.
