BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Read M. Honnywill's ad. on front page of this issue.

Elder J. W. Jenkins preached yesterday at the Methodist church.

Maine raised more corn to the acre last year than any other state in the union.

A slight fall of snow last night was not needed, but it came just the same, and some more of it came today.

Jos. T. Peters & Co., have cord wood, which is desirable in all respects and respectfully solicit your orders.

The sheriff sold property of C. P. Fogh and wife this afternoon to satisfy a mortgage in favor of Chas Burchdorf.

A young man named Travers, a recent arrival at Hood River, died there this morning. He was about 25 years of age and leaves a wife to mourn his loss.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c.

The next attraction at the Baldwin Opera House will be the Tittell Sisters, on Jan. 28th and 29th. "My Uncle's Will" and "Frou-Frou," first night and "M'liss" second night.

But one deed was filed for record today. It was from Miss Helen Mead, of Los Angeles, Cal., to H. H. Benedict, of the same place, and to the following described property: The s¹/₂ of sec. 21, T¹/₂ P¹/₂ N. R. 14 E.; consideration, $5.

In going through the swinging doors at the postoffice, follow the rule about teams passing on the highways, and keep to the right, otherwise you may get your nose bumped, or what is much more unjust because it is no fault of the other fellow's, may lump somebody else's.

M. V. Harrison, special tax collector, arrived up from Hood River today, and will be found at the county courtroom until Saturday noon. There are now $30,000 of delinquent taxes on the roll, which the county court is determined to collect. A prompt settlement will probably save considerable costs and much annoyance.

The crop report of the statistician of the department of agriculture for 1894, issued Jan. 10th of this year, shows that South Dakota, although appealing to the country for aid, raised enough to more than supply its own people. Of corn, the product was 1,490,345 bushels and of wheat 15,934,255 bushels.

Dr. Brosius and Constable Olinger of Hood River came up on the local this afternoon, bringing with them W. D. Rogers, a young man of that place, who is insane. He was examined as soon as he arrived by Judge Blakeley and Dr. Brosius, and will be sent to the asylum tomorrow. His hallucination is that his relatives want to injure him and he has a suicidal tendency.

Testimony is being taken at the office of Huntington & Wilson before referee J. M. Huntington, in the case of Peter Gotfrey against W. S. Myers and T. J. Driver as sheriff. The suit is brought to enjoin the enforcement of a judgment in the case of Myers against Gotfrey. The contention is that the date in the copy of the summons served on Gotfrey was different from that in the original summons. As the copy in dispute is lost there are a number of affidavits filed to prove what it contained.

The crop report for the year 1894, issued by the department of agriculture a few days ago, gives the following as the values of the year's crop: Corn, $544,719,162; wheat, $225,902,25; oats, $214,816,920; barley, $27,134,127; rye, $13,394,476; buckwheat, $7,040,238; potatoes, $91,526,737; hay, 468,578,321; tobacco, 27,760,739. One would hardly think that the oat crop of the United States was nearly as valuable as the wheat crop, or that the hay was double the value of either, yet such is the case.

A Small Runaway.

There was quite a lively runaway yesterday afternoon, the team belonging to Ward & Kerns. A tug came loose, and when the gentleman who was driving passed the lines over to the lady who was enjoying the ride with him, while he got out to fasten it, he little thought that the sleigh ride was going to end right there, but it did. One of the horses kicked with one foot, doing no damage, except to shatter the confidence of the lady who had the lines, who dropped them and jumped out. The horses lit out for the stable. The damage was slight.

Snow, and Old Recollections.

In the winter of 1851-52 the writer hereof, with three other young men, were prospecting in California, and finally brought up at Mississippi Bar, North Yuba, where we located a river claim of 1200 feet of river bed. We built a log cabin and sent one of our party, Gideon Brooks, to Marysville, 57 miles distant, for a year's supplies, while the other three finished the cabin and opened bar diggings. Mr. Brooks, who went after the provisions, got snow-bound, and so were we, as there fell about nine feet of snow on the level, and as we knew nothing about snow-shoes, we waited for a thaw. In the meanwhile we lived on beans straight, as that was all we had. No salt, no sugar, no flour, no tobacco, "no nothing" but beans, on which we lived for twenty-eight days, by which time the snow and everything else but the everlasting taste of beans had lost their terrors, and we determined to get out, as death was preferable by any other route than the bean line. So we started. We waded, rolled and traveled in the creek beds until we got three miles, late at night, to Hampshire mill, where we were met with the cheerful information that they had nothing to eat but beans. As we were not anguishing for that kind of diet, we followed their advice to keep on, which we did to Pine Grove, about two miles further, where we arrived at about midnight, weary, wet and hungry for anything but beans. The landlady kindly got out of bed and went to work getting us one of the finest suppers it was ever my good fortune to surround. There were bacon, hot biscuits and coffee, to which you may be sure we did ample justice.

Next morning, finding we could buy supplies, we stocked up. For flour we paid $1 per pound, bacon $1.25, coffee $2, tobacco $2, powder $3 for one pound can, lead 75 cent per pound, and gun caps $3 per hundred. After making our packs of 75 pounds per man, we started down the mountain, and arrived at our cabin at about 6 p. m., pretty well tired out, but in good spirits. One of the boys remarked: "Wait until spring and we'll take out the dust," which we did to the amount of $3,000 each.

PIONEER OF 1849.

A New Enterprise.

Mr. Douglas S. Dufur of The Dalles, Or., and Fred D. Hill of Portland, Or., will form a co-partnership on the 1st of February, 1895, for the purpose of conducting an expert Stenographing, Type-writing, and Mimeographing business. In addition to the above they will also conduct a general real-estate, fire-insurance, abstract of land titles, collection, loans, and conveyancing business, and will open their office in the Bettingen building, corner of Court and Second streets. Both are young men, well and favorably known in this community.

Mr. Dufur is the present incumbent in the recorder's chair, and his ability as a type-writer and business man is sufficiently known in this community.

to need no further comment or recommendation.

Mr. Fred D. Hill, is the ex-official stenographer and type-writer for the government at the Pine Ridge Indian Agency, and he is a pronounced expert stenographer and type-writer, having recommendations from some of the leading men of the United States.

This firm will endeavor to conduct their business on a fair and square basis, and all matters entrusted to them will receive prompt and instant attention.

These young men deserve a share of the public patronage in their line of business, and we have no doubt but that they will make a grand success of their new undertaking, as such a business as they intend to engage in will be a great benefit to the business man and lawyer of this country. They have our best wishes in their new enterprise.
