BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Senator George C. Perkins of California has been elected to succeed himself. There will be preaching in the Christian church tonight. All are invited to attend.

Delinquent taxes are coming in briskly, but there are still a large number owing for '92 and '93.

Jos. T. Peters & Co., have cord wood, which is desirable in all respects and respectfully solicit your orders.

A telegram from Salem this morning announced the death of Alexander McNeil at the insane asylum there last night.

The assessment for school district No. 12 is completed. The total value of property assessed is $1,280,370, which is $133,000 less than the assessment of last year.

The telephone and telegraph wires have been used freely lately, the extra business being questionings, remonstrances and pleadings, all directed towards some of our legislators.

There was a battle royal in the East End yesterday between two irate individuals, who were old enough to know better. The fight was Marquis of Get-there rules, but neither of them was much hurt.

In giving the vote for senator yesterday we stated that Speaker Moores received the twenty-two votes cast by the anti-Dolph republicans. It should have been F. A. Moore, one of the members of the supreme court.

The committee appointed by the city council to recommend any needed changes in the city charter has not yet reported, and unless a special meeting is called, cannot report until the regular meeting, February 3d.

The supreme court has decided that the purchase of the refineries of other sugar companies by the American Sugar company was not a contract in restraint of trade, and that such action did not create a trust. Sugar is king.

A letter was received from Mr. John Woods, a former resident of this city, and who is now in the evangelistic work, stating that he expects to arrive here tomorrow and commence a series of meetings with the Methodist people tomorrow night.

Wm. Fay, a resident of this city, and Wm. Rogers of Hood River were sent to the asylum yesterday. Fay was born in Kansas, and has an idea that he has invented a flying machine, while Rogers is simply morose and of suicidal inclinations.

There will be a meeting of the legal voters of school district No. 12, at the Court street brick schoolhouse, Saturday afternoon, next, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of voting a tax. The financial statement is being prepared by the clerk and will be published tomorrow.

"I have made up my mind to keep out of politics until I have a sack," remarked a Pendleton young man after reading the dispatches relative to the senatorial elections in Washington and Oregon, "and then I'll get in and buy a seat in the United States senate."

Brother Jackson, of the Pendleton East Oregonian, is a versatile chap. Monday as receiver of the Pendleton National bank he declared a dividend of 25 cents on the dollar, and then went out in the street and had a fight. It is to be hoped that in the latter he settled in full.

In explanation of the position of the senatorial election at Salem it may be said that Dolph was not elected yesterday, because he did not receive a majority of the votes in both houses. Under the provisions of the constitution, the senate and house will meet in joint session at noon today and if Senator Dolph then has a majority, which his present vote will give him, he will be elected.

The death of Alex. McNeal, which we note elsewhere as occurring at the insane asylum, happened near Brooks station. It seems that he escaped from the asylum Monday night. His death was caused by exposure, his body being found yesterday evening. He was about 50 years of age and was sent from this place in December 1889. The unfortunate man leaves a wife and several children, and one brother, all at present residing here.

The Tittell sisters will be here Monday and Tuesday, putting "Frou Frou" and "My Uncle's Will" on the boards the first night and "M'liss" Tuesday. These charming young actresses are quite well known to many of our people, having played the leading parts at Cor-dray's, in Portland, for several years, though never before appearing before a Dalles audience. The Orchestra Union deserves to be liberally patronized and encouraged in their efforts to present to The Dalles a series of first-class plays. Be on hand, and get your reserved seats at Blakeley & Houghton's.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TWO VOTES SHORT.

Dolph Lacks That Many of Having a Majority--Moore Gets Seventeen.

In the joint session today the anti-Dolph movement gained strength and cut the senator's vote down three votes from yesterday. The ballot resulted as follows: Dolph 44, Moore 17, Hare 10, Lord 5, Bennett 8, Williams 1, Hermann 4; absent 1.

The joint session was to be reconvened at 3 o'clock.

Boyd Items.

Saturday eve the MacCulloch Literary Society, which meets at Liberty schoolhouse every Saturday evening, had a very interesting time. One of the chief features was a speech by J. D. Bell on the question of Woman's Suffrage, which was recently the subject for debate in the society. A lecture on Astronomy, by an old teacher, was appreciated by all. The subject for debate next Saturday evening is "Resolved, That Water is More Destructive Than Fire."

Sleighriding and coasting are receiving a fair share of attention from old and young. Poplar Grove school, under the management of P. P. Underwood, is in flourishing condition. Sixteen young folks, between the ages of 11 and 23 years, are making things lively about there, especially when they can't agree whether the plow or the printing press is the more useful invention; or whether Decatur commanded the American fleet in the war with Algiers or in the war with Tripoli, or whether he ever commanded any fleet at all, or not.

We will not chronicle any weddings until the lilies bloom, and hope to report no deaths on account of the sweeping broom.

J. B. Havelly killed a half dozen nice hogs Monday.

Mr. Mahn's orchard is getting a long and much-needed pruning, and the old pioneer is as spry as usual.

Nobody is much sick and no one been drunk for quite a while. May we have some more sleigh-rides? Avy.

The Common Schools.

The Recorder is opposed to any and every form of taxation where the few are benefited at the expense of the many. It is therefore opposed to state aid being given to any institution of learning except our common schools, as in the latter institutions is where at least 90 per cent of our children receive all the schooling they ever get, and as our public school system is now such that it affords all the youth of the state the means of securing an education that will fit them for the ordinary vocations of life, we consider that every dollar expended by the state for educational purposes should go to them, and that every dollar of the people's money that is appropriated for the higher institutions of learning is robbing 90 children out of every 100 for the benefit of the other 10. If all the money that the state expends for school purposes was given directly to the common schools, it would greatly increase their usefulness as educators of the masses, and if any child desired to pursue his studies beyond where the common schools reach, he or his parents should pay for it and not deprive nine other children of part of their rights for the benefit of this one.—Elgin Recorder.

A Merry Party.

Miss Heppner entertained about thirty of her young friends at her home, last evening. As a result of a very lively game of progressive domino whist, Mr. Charles Clark succeeded in securing first prize; and after much vexation, Mr. Fred Wilson won the booby, a bright looking little owl. Refreshments were then served, after which came music and dancing. When the hour arrived for departure, all expressed themselves as having passed one of the most delightful evenings of the winter.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. R. Winans came up from Hood River today.

Dr. Sanders, who has been visiting in the East for some time arrived home this morning.

He—I wonder when you will be able to set as good a table as my mother does? She—By the time you are able to provide as good a table as your father does, my dear.—Burlington (Ia.) Gazette.

"Say, Jack, what is the capital of Switzerland?" Jack (who has just returned from abroad)—Why, the money they get from travelers, of course.—Boston Bulletin.

Chauncey M. Depew is in hot water. He said the other day that most preachers abused the half-rate privilege, and now the preachers demand that he eat his words.

"Father," said the boy, "what is insolvent?" "Insolvent," was the reply, "is merely a long word used to describe a short condition."—Washington Star.

Ex-Governor Waite tells the people of Chicago that out in his state some of the bankers charge as high as 24 per cent interest, and he complains he doesn't like it.
