BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

J. O. Ward was yesterday appointed postmaster at Kingsley.

Jos. T. Peters & Co., have cord wood, which is desirable in all respects and respectfully solicit your orders.

Gold is going out of the treasury at the rate of over a million dollars a day, and the reserve is now down to about sixty-five million.

There has been a tremendous landslide on the California and Oregon, and it will be several days before trains are again running on that line.

A long box looking exactly like it contained a deceased man has reposed on a truck in front of the express office all day. What gives the thing a gruesome kind of ghastliness is the card tacked thereon containing the address, which is "The Portland Meat Co."

Mrs. Hopkins, formerly Mrs. Dunn, at one time a resident of this city, but now of Hood River, was to have been brought here this afternoon to be examined as to her sanity, but a telegram from Commissioner Blowers stated that she was too sick to be moved, and that she would probably live but a few days.

State Commissioner Butts made all the residents on the hill happy yesterday by having the steps on Court street and those on Laughlin cleared of snow. The latter is where we exemplified the truth of Virgil's assertion about the easy descent to Avernus. The remarkable thing in our case was that we found that classical region before we struck the bottom.

Maier & Benton's delivery team, getting tired of standing in front of the store yesterday, suddenly lit out for home. There was a wild jingling of bells that made the wary pedestrian get off the crosswalks. The run was devoid of accident, and arriving at home, the horses jumped the fence taking the sleigh with them, and stopped at the stable door without a particle of damage having been done.

The Chinese New Year begins tomorrow and the red coated firecracker and bamboo-bound bomb will wake the echoes and delight the small boy. The Chinese year, this year, will have 383 days which are grouped into 13 months, as follows: January, 30 days; February 29; March, 30; April, 29; first May, 30; second May, 29; June, 29; July, 30; August, 29; September, 30; October, 29; November, 30; December, 29. Last year the new year began February 17 and contained but 12 months. Every third year contains 13 months.

A Timid Chinook.

Yesterday about noon a timorous chinook fluttered its downy pinions over the waste of snow, as if afraid to tackle so large a contract, but by night the breeze that followed the Japan gulf stream, starting perhaps from the rose-garlanded cottees of Cathay, was sweeping merrily up the gorge of the Columbia and whistling a rollicking tune to the big firs as they nodded and whispered to the warm caresses. But this was not for long, for by midnight, altho' a light breeze still came out of the west, it was so cooled ere it reached here that the snow ceased to thaw. This morning the sun rose clear and beautiful and the day has been a foretaste of spring.

The Tittell Sisters.

A slight change has been made in the program for the plays Monday and Tuesday evenings next. Monday night "Drifted Apart" will be on the boards, and Tuesday night a double bill, "My Uncle's Will" and "Frou Frou," instead of "M'liss." It does not matter what play is put on, those who attend will spend an enjoyable evening, for the repertoire of the Tittell sisters contains nothing that is not interesting. They deserve a packed house, and we hope they will have it on both evenings.

Real Estate Transaction.

The following deed was filed for record today:

He—I wonder when you will be able to set as good a table as my mother does? She—By the time you are able to provide as good a table as your father does, my dear.—Burlington (Ia.) Gazette.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Last week the schooner Albion broke her anchor chains at Florence and was run ashore in a fierce gale. It was loaded with lumber, which was thrown off, and the schooner was not seriously injured.

THE SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

Dolph Gets His 44 Votes and the Balance Go Scattering.

The situation at Salem remains unchanged. The legislature met in joint session today at noon and cast one ballot, which was practically the same as that of yesterday. It was as follows: Dolph 44, Moore 19, Bennett 8, Moody 4, Lord 2, Williams 1, Kincaid 2. Governor Moody it will be seen received a neat complimentary vote, so did Kincaid.

The situation shows that as far as the republican anti-caucus republicans are concerned they are not concentrating on any one candidate, and that the movement now is simply against Dolph. The democratic and populist vote will never go to Dolph, but would, with one possible exception, go to almost anyone to beat Dolph. We believe that a combination would have been formed today, if it were not for that one democrat. In voting for Judge Bennett, Senator Cogswell stated that he did not indorse the opinions which Senator Huston attributed to Judge Bennett, though he would vote for him. Cogswell has always had the reputation of being quite close to Senator Simon, and it is predicted that if a combination should be formed against Dolph, Cogswell would vote for him, thus making a tie. Dolph's danger lies in the defection of one vote, for as we understand the situation, a combination can and will be formed as soon as the bolting republicans gain one more vote. Every influence possible is being brought to bear by both sides, and the end may be quite remote.

No Cards of Thanks.

There has a custom grown up in Oregon, that came from nobody knows where, of the relatives of deceased persons publishing a card of thanks to neighbors, friends and the public for the sympathy and aid extended during the illness of the deceased. With all due deference to those who follow the custom, we would suggest that it is not good taste. The thanks are uncalled for, and unnecessary. In a Christian community, the care of the sick and the burial of the dead with proper and becoming respect and decency, are not things to return thanks for, for they are the simple duties of the friends and neighbors, acts performed for others that others will repay by performing similar services for them. Let the card of thanks cease to appear.

A Secret.

If all the ladies knew the simple secret that a bad complexion is due to a disordered liver, there would be fewer sallow faces and blotchy skins. This important organ must be kept active and healthy to insure a clear and rosy color. Dr. J. A. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm as a purifier, beats all the creams and lotions in existence and will produce a more permanent effect. Removes bad taste in the mouth, offensive breath, yellow tinge in the skin, wind on the stomach and that dull, bilious feeling which so surely indicates the torpid liver. Price $1.00 per bottle.
