"DONT SQUEAL, BUT ROOT."

The best text for a business sermon that has been presented in many a day is a sentence in the advertising matter of a Minneapolis firm, which reads: "If business is not good, don't squeal, but root." It is illustrated by a porker who has quite squealing and gone to rooting, with apparently good success. It is not a flowery, sentimental or elegant text, but, what is more to the point, it is practical and suggestive.

The disposition to squeal instead of root has never been so marked as during the past eighteen months of financial depression. Many men have expended so much force squealing that they had none left for rooting. They have spent their days in grumbling about hard times instead of making an effort to improve them. They have passed the hours in lamentation and let their business dwindle, while their more sensible competitors rooted.

There are many business men who have not only held their own during the hard times, but have really prospered. But they didn't squeal; they rooted. In good times or hard times those who succeed never squeal. Their time is so fully occupied in rooting that they can spare none of it for squealing. It doesn't matter what business one may be engaged in he will always find a loss in squealing and profit in rooting. In the long list of failures annually recorded in this county are found the squealers; the rooters haven't time to fail.

If business is not good, don't squeal, but root; and if business is good, there is still less reason for squealing and still more cause for rooting.—Grocers' Journal of Commerce.

THE NEW FISH LAWS.

A dispatch from Tacoma yesterday says:

"The joint fisheries committees of the Oregon and Washington legislatures today considered and adopted a bill which will be favorably reported to each legislature. It closes the Columbia river and tributary streams to fishermen eight months per year, and grades fishermen's license fees from $200 down to $2.50, according to the way the fish are caught." This is a good law, as it will serve to protect the fish, instead of, as at present aiding to exterminate them.

The Baker City Democrat mentions the fact that the Sumpter valley mills are emptying so much sawdust in Powder river that in order to get clear, clean ice, those engaged in putting it up have to go three miles above the city. The Oregonian of the same date mentions a vote of thanks to Fish Commissioner McGuire by the joint legislative committees from this state and Washington. As the putting of sawdust in the streams is against the law that Mr. McGuire is supposed to enforce, we opine that that vote of thanks was premature. What the fish commissioner needs is to have his work dispensed with.

The bill to prevent the catching of salmon in wheels, should be promptly and indefinitely postponed, and if the old law that provides that licenses must be obtained to fish and that none but citizens could get the licenses, is not strong enough another should be passed and enforced.

It is said that of the 153 clerks at Salem 111 are employed by the senate and 42 by the house. Just what work thirty senators can find for 111 clerks is the one thing that no one seems to know.

Mitchell Notes.

Well, Mr., Mrs. or Miss of THE CHRONICLE, I certainly sympathize with you when your local news have almost entirely failed, for my notes of this week are almost a failure, but in my perambulations for these, although I am old and gray and rheumatic I kept my feet under me and do not have to report bruises, if I must report failures almost. Take a little advice from one of some years experience, and do not undertake such a perilous descent until you have first oiled well your stiffened joints. And it might be well as a preventative to wear a pair of goggles, if your eyesight is poor, that you might better see your way.

We of this mountainous region are not seriously afflicted with stiffened joints, as I should judge not from the number of social hops the young people indulge in and dancing exercises that keep them every or every other evening during the week.

Our weather is excellent; no better could be desired. There is but little snow and a scarcity of cold. One night the thermometer fell to four below zero, and no wind for more than a week, a thing unusual for this section.

At present the general health, like the weather, is at the best. I can record but one serious case of illness; Mr. Magee is afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism.

Little Tommy Ware while coasting one day last week, was knocked down and run over by a coasting sled, bruising the muscles of one leg so seriously that he has not been able to stand on it since.

Robby Tanz's horse fell with him a few days since and bruised one leg so much he was quite a cripple a few days, but nothing serious.

The Central hotel is opened again, it having been closed since the death of Mrs. Boardman, the proprietress.

Mr. Pearson, who was badly cut by Phipps Luny last week, is able to return home.

The friends of Miss Laura Sasser will be glad to know she is spending an enjoyable time among relatives and friends. At present she is visiting friends on Gird creek.

Stock in general are doing very well. Nothing is being fed except a few old horses and cows and sheep.

The snow in the Shoo Fly country is about six inches deep. E. V. E. Mitchell, Or., Jan. 27, 1895.

Caution to Telephone Purchasers.

The Northern Pacific Railway company uses a large number of private telephones at various places throughout the length of its roads, which have been heretofore leased from the Bell telephone company, through whose territory the road runs. A few months ago, by circular letter from headquarters, the Bell telephones were ordered out and were replaced by infringing telephones of other manufacturers.

The change, in its usual course, came to the attention of the counsel of the company, who decided that the guarantees of the manufacturers were no protection, and it was hazardous to subject the Northern Pacific railway company to later litigation and the payment of large damages, so last week a circular was received by all offices discontinuing the infringing instruments, and the Bell telephones have been ordered replaced.

Any telephone set up in complete working order, embodies a dozen or more patents depending upon each other for a satisfactory and working whole, and therefore the expiration of one or two of these patents does not open to free use a complete or even a workable telephone. m-w-f.

Ten days loss of time on account of sickness and a doctor bill to pay, is anything but pleasant for a man of a family to contemplate, whether he is a laborer, mechanic, merchant or publisher. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas, was sick in bed for ten days with the grip during its prevalence a year or two ago. Later in the season he had a second attack. He says: "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with considerable success, I think, only being in bed a little over two days. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy." It should be borne in mind that the grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. When you wish to cure a cold quickly and effectually give this remedy a trial. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Lunn, of England, is in this country to promote the federation of Trinitarian Protestant churches. As the subdivisions of the great sects find themselves unable to come together, Dr. Lunn will probably find his task a difficult one in persuading the great sects themselves to come together.

Great Oaks

From little acorns grow, so also do fatal diseases spring from small beginnings. Never neglect symptoms of kidney troubles; if allowed to develop they cause much suffering and sorrow. Dr. S. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm is a certain cure for any disease or weakness of the kidneys. A trial will convince you of its great potency. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly, druggists.

Felix Adler, of the New York Ethical Society, recently speaking on the subject of public schools, said the school was the child of democracy. Education in the past was for the few, not for the many.

Mrs. Emily Thorne, who resides at Toledo, Washington, says she has never been able to procure any medicine for rheumatism that relieves the pain so quickly and effectually as Chamberlain's Pain Balm and that she has also used it for a lame back with great success. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

MALARIAL POISON

Results from atmospheric conditions, unclean premises, imperfect ventilation and more frequently from the deadly SEWER GAS. A general rundown and impoverished condition of the blood ensues, and if not corrected, Catarrh, Bronchitis, and even Consumption may be the result. S. S. S. promptly corrects all these evil effects.

Mr. J. A. Rice, Ottawa, Kan., writes: For three years I was troubled with Malaria, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was so reduced in flesh, that life lost its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but could get no relief. I then decided to try a few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.
