BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Gold is beginning to flow towards this country from England.

The United States senate now has a majority of republicans.

It looks as though the railroad commission would be abolished.

The legislature adjourns, or at least its pay stops at midnight next Friday night.

Miss Emma Morse of Portland is in the city, the guest of the Misses Rich.

The Smith Bros., inform us that Mr. Miller has resigned, and they will have a new violinist tomorrow (Saturday) evening.

The Regulator looks like she had just come out of a bandbox, for she is neat as an Easter bonnet and clean as the republican sweep last year.

The day has been a cloudy one, with some dark leaden-colored banks of clouds hanging over the mountains west of us. From all indications we are going to have some weather of the sloppy and windy variety.

James Williams and Thomas Moore, who pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary in the robbing of Leavins & Cates store at Cascades, were sentenced this morning each of them being given two years in the penitentiary.

Judge Bradshaw cleaned up the criminal and law docket this morning and discharged all jurors. This is one of the shortest terms of court ever held here.

There is some equity business yet to be settled, but the main expense has been cut off.

The case of T. G. Mitchell against O. D. Taylor was dismissed this morning, the court ruling that the action to recover for the value of the stock was not the proper remedy, and that if any cause of action exists, it is an action of damages.

Grand Master Workman Brannin, after a pleasant, and to the order profitable, visit here, leaves tonight for Arlington, where he will speak in behalf of the order. Mr. Brannin is an excellent gentleman, and a fine speaker. As a result of his lecture here there are already nearly a dozen applications for membership.

Mr. Eugene Gordon wishes to sell his household furniture, carpets, cooking utensils, etc. This is a rare opportunity to secure a bargain. Inquire at Pease & Mays.

The vote at Salem today shows no change. It was as follows: Dolph 41, Lowell 12, Williams 10, Lord 7, Hare 10, Weatherford 1, Raley 7. Paired Smith and Rinearson. The vote as we have said is unchanged except as to the unimportant part thereof. Senator Raley was given 7 votes by the democracy, and Lord's vote ran up to 7 from 5 yesterday.

Horticultural Bill.

The Moores horticultural bill which passed the house Monday creates a board of six members, one from the state at large and one from each of five districts as follows: 1st—Multnomah, Clackamas, Yamhill, Washington, Columbia, Clatsop and Tillamook. 2d—Marion, Polk, Benton, Lincoln, Linn and Lane. 3d—Douglas, Jackson, Klamath, Josephine, Coos, Curry and Lake. 4th—Wasco, Sherman, Morrow, Gilliam and Crook. 5th—Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Baker, Malheur, Harney and Grant. To hold office for four years. They shall have a secretary at not more than $1200 a year. The board is clothed with the necessary powers of regulating, inspecting, quarantining, disinfecting, etc., necessary to protect the fruit against the introduction and spreading of diseases and pests among fruit trees. The members are to be appointed by a board consisting of the governor, secretary and treasurer of the state. They have power to appoint quarantine guardians in each district when necessary and to pay them $2 per day. For the support of the board and prosecution of its work the coming two years, $12,000 is appropriated. It is considered by most fruit men a very good measure. It is practically the same as the Raley senate bill.

Real Estate Transactions.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Dufur Dolags.

Cold and cloudy, plenty of snow and some rain. Then a ray of sunshine with this altogether; The sloop and the slush that makes more mud again.

But it takes all of this to make up the weather. It is with much regret that we note the stay of winter. The last end of the eastern blizzard has struck us in the form of two bitter nights and a two-inch fall of snow that covered what bare spots there were. We long for the soft breath of the persuasive Chinook; but like spring, she is rather shy and distant. Wednesday old Sol put on a smile of summer radiance, and poked out his head from behind a dark cloud, warming the early birds, who returned thanks in a burst of summer song that made a painful contrast with the bare trees and snow-covered earth.

H. M. Pitman and L. B. Thomas have gone to The Dalles to attend examination.

Mrs. Adams and Miss Hitchcock of Portland are in town for a few days.

Rev. Jenkins has commenced a series of meetings in the U. B. church, the U. B. meetings having closed after two weeks of protracted effort.

A great deal of sickness is the result of the prolonging of winter, giving the doctors plenty of work, and making them glad while all else is sad. Mrs. Mary Vanderpool has been very sick with a bad attack of pneumonia, but is improving under the care of Dr. Kane. Miss Blanche Dufur, we regret to state, has been sick, but is a little better. Roy Peabody has been sick for three weeks with a form of typhoid pneumonia, but is far on the way to recovery.

Sunday night Johnnie Green was thrown from a horse and his collar bone fractured. Dr. Deitrich, with his usual dexterity, attended the injury.

The teachers' institute was held here and passed off pleasantly, but not a very large attendance, especially of teachers, on account of the impassable roads. But notwithstanding all this, the genial face of our superintendent was smiling, and a good program was carried out.

There is to be a band concert Feb. 22d, and all look forward to a musical treat for 25 cents, under the training of Prof. Helfritz.

We have a new addition to the town in the shape of another shoe shop, with a notice to the public that Mr. Helfritz will oblige his customers with a neat job in repairing and all work peculiar to his art.

Quiz.

Mays & Crowe's Regular Burglary.

The regular semi-monthly burglary of Mays & Crowe's store took place last night. This time the burglar fired one of Max Vogt's bricks through the front window, destroying about $10 worth of glass. The window was filled with pistols, knives, and such wares, including a bicycle watch, weighing half a pound, with ball bearing and pneumatic running gears. The thief took one pistol, a pearl-handled dagger, a spring-back hunting knife, and the bicycle watch. He would undoubtedly have taken more, but as the goods were marked in plain figures, he saw that they were marked down so low that he could get them delivered at his house cheaper than he could carry them home. The total value of the goods taken will not exceed six dollars.

Mr. Crowe remarked to us this morning that "Procrastination is the thief of time," from which we suspect he is not sure who took the other things, but is satisfied as to the fellow that stole the watch. The time-piece is set in a nickel frame, with air brake and aluminum piston rods and is geared up to 56.
