BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

License to marry was issued today to William Rankin and Annie Purser.

The Guild of St. Paul's church will meet at the vestry, tomorrow afternoon (Thursday) at 2:30.

A number of friends took possession of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Croesen's home last night, and made them glad they were alive.

Public meeting at the Salvation Army barracks Friday evening, to celebrate Washington's Birthday with music and songs. Everyone welcome.

Mr. David Garrison brought to this office this afternoon several varieties of wild flowers, picked on the hill back of town. The purple iris seemed to be the most abundant.

The regular Thursday evening party given by the Smith Bros. will not take place this week, on account of the masquerade. The party Saturday night will come off as usual.

The young people of the Congregational society will entertain their friends at the residence of W. S. Myers this evening, and you'll be sure to enjoy yourself if you are present.

With the season of '94 and its terrible floods past, and the Oregon legislature incapable of harm, the owners of fish-wheels can breathe easier and prepare to get even for last year's terrible losses.

Floyd Harmon's bear, which has been taking a sleep for a couple of months, is again alive. He had his appetite with him when he woke up, and he certainly looks as though the winter had not agreed with him.

The first wire of the new telephone was stretched this afternoon, the work being commenced at the corner of Washington and Third streets. It is expected that the line will be completed within a month, but at the very latest it will be in operation by April 1st.

A telegram from Salem this afternoon at 3:30 says: The house has indefinitely postponed all fish bills, and no changes will be made in the fish laws this session. This settles the attack on the fishwheels for another two years at least, and settles it right at that.

Mr. Eugene Gordon wishes to sell his household furniture, carpets, cooking utensils, etc. This is a rare opportunity to secure a bargain. Inquire at Pease & Mays.

The weather is warm and spring like, most too much so for the safety of the fruit. The buds are already beginning to swell. Our climate is, however, not very uncertain and wild flowers in February are not uncommon. So that while an early season always brings more or less risk to the fruit crop, the chances are largely in favor of it coming out all right.

A hunter near Sylvania, Georgia, writes to the Atlanta Constitution, a description of a strange animal he found in the swamp. It had a head and bill like an immense duck, a body like a lizard, legs like a turkey, only larger. It made a noise between the quacking of a duck and the hissing of a snake. The report does not state the brand of snake poison the hunter had with him.

Some of the papers submitted by the applicants for teachers' certificates were very fine, but there were two questions that not one applicant answered correctly. The first was "Who was the first territorial governor of Oregon?" One answer was Moody, which was as near correct as any. The other question was, "Who are the present cabinet officers." One answer was "All good men," which would entitle the applicant to be marked 2 on a scale of 10.

In McClure's Magazine for March the new remedy for diphtheria, which promises to reduce the most malignant of diseases to comparative harmlessness, will be described in its manufacture and application, and with numerous pictures, by Dr. Hermann M. Biggs and Dr. William H. Park. The writers, through their official connection with the New York City Board of Health, are personally engaged in the production of the diphtheria anti-toxine, and write, therefore, from the fullest information.

No Change at Salem.

The legislature varied the monotony of the joint session today by taking two ballots for senators, the result being the same in each. The votes were Dolph 41, Williams 29, Hare 10, Raley 7, Huston 1, paired McGinn and McClung. There remain but two days of the regular session, and the agony will soon be over, as it is not probable the session will be extended.

A. O. U. W. Notice.

All members of Temple Lodge No. 8, A. O. U. W. are requested to be present at the regular meeting Thursday evening. Arrangements for the funeral of our deceased brother, L. Newman, which takes place Sunday will be made.

C. F. STEPHENS,
Master Workman.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Mr. Charlie Early of Chenoweth, Wash., was in the city today.

Mr. Kenneth McRae of Dayville is registered at the Umatilla House.

Miss Aimee Newman, who left on the early morning train yesterday for Portland, was telegraphed the sad news of her father's death, and returned last night, accompanied by Mrs. Solomon.

Good Judges.

In New York state recently a dairy-fair was held, at which the celebrated Orange county butter, in all its golden beauty, vied with the products of the creameries and dairies of the greatest of butter-making states. To award the prizes a practiced dairyman, a way-up creamery manager and a professor of chemistry, the learned man of some agricultural college, were selected. They tasted, microscopically, smelled, cut, broke and examined the butter from all these boss buttermakers; and then they retired to consider their verdict, which was, that for color, flavor, grain, smell and appearance, the best butter on exhibition was that of entry 146. And it was oleomargarine that the heartless sinner fooled them with.

Pay Your Taxes.

I do not expect to hold the delinquent tax list much longer before advertising the property assessed for sale. All persons owing taxes had better attend to the matter at once and save expense of sale. I find also that quite a proportion of the lands upon which taxes are delinquent are under mortgage. It will be to the interest of mortgagees to look into the matter.
