OUR NEW SENATOR.

The long agony is over, the legislature United States senator to succeed Hon: J. N. Dolph. The choice does not meet not been considered by the public. If it as passed. Mr. McBride's physical condition permits, he will prove an energetic senator. We give below a brief sketch of the new senator, taken from the Oregonian of yesterday:

George Washington McBride is a native son of Oregon, having been born in Yambill county in 1854. He is a son of Dr. James McBride, who was well known as one of the earliest and sturdiest pioneers of this state. Mr. Mc-Bride was educated in the common schools and at Willamette university, Salem, and the Christian college (now the state normal school) at Monmouth. In 1867 his parents left Yambill county nominated by the republicans for secre- gists. tary of state, and was elected. His popularity is attested by the fact that the deteated. Mr. McBride performed the he was re-nominated by acclamation in Sarsaparilla. 1890, and re-elected by a handsome majority. He served out the full term and retired the first of the present year to give way to his successor.

Mr. McBride comes from an old and very well-known Oregon family. He has several brothers, who have achieved leading positions in the law and in medicine. One brother is Judge T. A. Mc-Bride of the fifth judicial district. Another brother is John R. McBride, formerly congressman from this state, and Drug Co. now a prominent lawyer of Spokane. A third, Dr. McBride, is a leading phy- In Our Great Grandfather's Time, sician in Wisconsin.

It was Mr. McBride's, early purpose to become a lawyer, and with that end in view, after leaving school, he entered the law office of Judge J. C. Moreland of this city. He remained three years, but during a great part of the time he suffered much from bad health and did not make the progress he desired. Mr. McBride did not, however, give up his design until his physical condition rendered it absolutely necessary. He then engaged in mercantile pursuits in Columbia county, where he had large property interests. During much of the time he was secretary of state Mr. Mc-Bride battled with physical weakness, cleansing laxative, thereby removing ofbut his will is strong, and he was able fending matter from the stomach and to be almost constantly at his post of duty and personally to administer the manifold duties of the office. It is well bowels, toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as known that the office of secretary of headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, state has never been conducted more biliousness, pimples, blotches, eruptions, boils, constipation, piles, fistulas and satisfactorily to the people than during maladies too numerous to mention. Mr. McBride's two terms. Recently he made a journey to New York for the purpose-so it was stated at the timeof placing himself in the hands of eminent physicians, it appears with very satisfactory results.

Mr. McBride is often called an "Oregon boy." With the exception of two years spent in San Francisco, he has always lived in Oregon. Personally he possesses a charming address, which has doubtless had much to do with his political success. Mr. McBride is not married.

A MAXIMUM RATE BILL.

The $20,000 item in the appropriation bill was cut out of that document before it passed, so that although the railroad commission was not abolished, no money was provided for paying its members. The position is a fat one, and it is quite probable the old commissioners will undertake to hold over and get paid by the next legislature. This would be a dangerous thing for them to attempt, as the chances will be largely against them getting money. There is nothing to prevent them holding over, however, and taking their pay from the railroad companies. We believe the latter would willingly pay their salaries for the protection and benefit they derive from the board. commissioners pronounce them so; and the roads cannot be compelled to fix them or suffer punitive damages should they kill a few dozen citizens through gross negligence concerning these defective portions of their roads.

The railroads have need of the commission, the public has not. What the people want, and what, if they will do their duty as citizens, they will have two years from now, is a maximum rate law, both as to passengers and freight. This is a republican government, and it needs no useless commissions to stand between the laws and the people. Let the railroad companies be given a fair maximum rate bill and then make them has adjourned, and ex-Secretary of obey it. That is all the people need, State George W. McBride is elected and it won't cost a cent for commissioners either. Since the above was in type, we are with general approval, but we believe told by Mr. Mays, who has just returned that that fact is due to the surprise from Salem, that the $20,000 for the occasioned by the election of McBride, railroad commissioners was put back in who was a horse so dark that he had the appropriation bill, and is a part of
