SOME OF THE OTHER SIDE.

The battle at Salem is over, and won or lost, according to the position from which it is contemplated. It is perhaps as well to let it pass into the quiet sleep of oblivion; but there are some assertions made that cannot be sustained by the facts. One of these is that the anti-Dolph legislators blocked legislation and prevented many economic measures being adopted. In so far as maintaining one side of the dispute is concerned, that may be true, but if true, is true of both sides. Let us take an example: The senate consisted of nineteen republicans, eight democrats and three populists. Of the nineteen republicans, three were against Dolph and sixteen, a clear majority of the entire senate, and enough to pass any bill, were for Dolph, yet the business of the senate was no better conducted than that of the house. When the appropriation bill was passed by the house, the $20,000 item for paying the railroad commissioners was struck out. In the senate that action, which was certainly in the interest of economy, was repudiated and the amount was put back in the bill by the senate, with its sixteen solid Dolph members. Who blocked that effort at economy?

Another statement, that the Dolph men elected McBride, is not any more fully borne out by the facts. That he was nominated by Cleeton, a Dolph man, is true, but when the vote was taken, those who were opposed to Dolph voted for McBride, to a man. So that when the election was accomplished, it was by a vote of thirty anti-Dolph men and seventeen of that gentleman's supporters.

It is useless to stir the matter up. It is settled, and we hope for the best. Recriminations and disputes are not going to assist in healing the sore spots, and the sooner the whole question is dropped, the better. Each side can find lots of things to kick about, and they are creditable to neither.

IT ADJOURNS MONDAY.

Congress is down to its work in great shape just now; but outside of the appropriation and deficiency bills, little will be accomplished. Next Monday the session will expire, and the democrats will step down and out; it is hoped to remain out for an indefinite time. We can cheerfully say, without mental reservation, and not being prompted by malice, prejudice or ill-will toward the soon to be late and sadly lamented democratic congress, that its like never before met in legislative meditation. It failed to do anything that it promised to do, and it did many things that it should not have done. It found the country prosperous, and it leaves it with its business stagnant and its industries sadly crippled. It has saddled an interest-bearing debt of many millions on the people. It has reduced the revenues of the government to a point that will cause still farther indebtedness, and it has violated every pledge made by the party by which it was placed in power. Every true democrat is ashamed of it, and every republican regretfully sorry that the pitiful puny microbes of desolation were ever allowed to inoculate the nation's capital with the seeds of dampness.

However, it dies Monday, and as it already smells to heaven, it will be buried deep, and while never forgotten, will be remembered only as a national disgrace.

DON'T REALIZE THEIR POSITION

The most amusing thing about the Chinese situation is the self-satisfied manner of the Chinese officials, and the confident manner in which they declare that Japan cannot do this, or cannot do that. They seemed utterly oblivious of the self-evident fact that Japan has their country at its mercy and can dictate the terms of peace. The latest statement is from Prince King who is credited with the following:

"He questioned very seriously whether Japan could claim possession of the territory she had conquered together with 400,000,000 taels indemnity. 'China,' he said, 'stands upon principle, and Japan upon power. If Japan will meet her in a friendly spirit, the conclusion of peace will be possible. If her demands are exorbitant China will continue the fight.' He added he did not think Japan could overrun all the Chinese provinces, even if the war was continued."

It is said that Governor Lord holds that the legislature having failed to elect railroad commissioners he has the right to appoint the successors to the present board. While we are unalterably opposed to commissions in general and railroad commissions in particular, we know of no reason why the present board should be superseded. They are all clever gentlemen, and can and will do all the work required of them as well as any one. If the commission is to be kept the present commissioners might as well be kept too. They know what is required by reason of their salary fitting them, and should be let alone.

We suggest that the 5th of March be declared a national holiday, or else that the November Thanksgiving be transferred to that date, for surely there is no one thing over which the nation ought to so sincerely rejoice as upon the adjournment of congress. That is something for which indeed, all could give thanks.

Officials Disbelieve the Rumor of Trouble at Bluefields.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Officials of the state and navy departments are disposed to discredit the story that there has been trouble at Bluefields. There is no warship nearer this point than the Atlanta, which has been at Colon several weeks. Her commander's report showed everything quiet at the port he visited. It is assumed he is in a position to hear as promptly as any one of the reported trouble at Bluefields. There are a few American vessels plying between Bluefields and the United States engaged in tropical trade, but Officials here cannot conceive any reason why they should be interfered with in a hostile way by any British man-of-war, and the belief is that if any ships have been disabled as reported, it must be the result of accident.

Dr. PIERCE'S Golden Medical DISCOVERY

Cures Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of Consumption, in all its Earlier Stages.

Although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain. The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. Address for Book, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

That the blood should perform its vital functions, it is absolutely necessary it should not only be pure but rich in life-giving elements. These results are best effected by the use of that well known standard blood-purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
