THE COMING PEOPLE.

The tide of immigration is already setting in from the East; a tide that promises to culminate in a regular wave. Two causes have combined to cause this—one the failure of crops in some of the western states; the other the fact, which is becoming tolerably well known in the East, that in Oregon the crops never fail, and want and suffering are unknown. This stream of incomers should be somewhat controlled by the people already here. Efforts should be made to divide it up, and to this end the fullest information should be given concerning the different parts of the state, so that the newcomer could suit himself, and select that portion of the state for a home best suited to his ideas. This, in such states as Illinois, Iowa, and the other prairie states, would not be necessary, because there is little difference between the different sections of those states. Here it is a necessity, because with our vast area, our mountains and valleys, our watered Willamette and our dryer hills and rolling plains of Eastern Oregon, our magnificent mountain range, dividing the state and giving us a variety of climate, and consequently of products, make it impossible to convey any idea of any one section of the state by a description of any other part.

Our resources are unlimited. The vast forests of magnificent fir, pine, cedar and hemlock offer opportunities to the millmen and lumbermen. The coast, counties, and those bordering on the lower Columbia, furnish unequalled facilities for the dairyman. The Columbia, and other streams that flow to the sea, contain mines of wealth in the fishing industries. The Willamette valley yields cereals as no other place on earth. The plains of Eastern Oregon, with their succulent grasses, furnish pasture for vast herds of sheep and cattle, and yield abundant crops of wheat. The section along the middle Columbia, and notably Wasco county, is the home of the apple, the pear, the prune, and all same fruits. Southern Oregon produces the small fruits in profusion, and at the same time yields from the earth an abundance of gold. Baker, Union, Grant, Wallowa, and the counties along the eastern border, are famed for their wonderful mines, that are only yet in a stage of development. Harney, Malheur, Crook and the interior counties send countless numbers of fat beaves and sheep to market, and wool in quantities that run up into the millions of pounds. And besides these there are hundreds of things that are possible. In the last named counties, for instance, the whole attention is turned to stock, because the distance from market precludes farming except in such limited form as will supply the local market.

The industries of Oregon are hardly begun to be developed, they are hardly named yet, and many that will eventually add to her wealth, have not yet been even thought of. With all these varied pursuits to choose from, the immigrant would easily select, but he must be told where to go. A million people can be distributed throughout the state and all would find homes and create their own employment, if a little knowledge is given them as to where to go. This should be furnished, and the stream of immigration divided up into a thousand smaller streams at this end of the route, as it was at the other in gathering itself for the trip across the continent. A little care and attention will accomplish this, and Oregon will get a portion of that stream which has heretofore been emptied into our sister state to the north. Wasco county can absorb 50,000 of them and have room for five times that many more and give every one of them a home. Shall we make an effort to get them, or shall we sit idle and see the stream flow by?

Kingaley Notes.

Very little plowing is being done in our neighborhood at this writing, and farmers are all complaining of being behind in their spring work. Miss Emma Ward has been engaged to teach the Kingaley school the coming term, commencing the first Monday in April. We predict a successful school. Geo. Friend resembles a defeated pugilist, his usually pleasing face being disfigured by numerous boils. However, George is not discouraged, but will build a neat and substantial dwelling as soon as lumber can be obtained. Hugh Morehead is gaining quite a reputation as a successful veterinary surgeon, having recently cured a valuable horse belonging to Mr. Thourbourn of a severe case of founder. Emerson Williams has been driving the Kingsley stage for the past week, excepting the few stormy days he coaxed Ed Wing to go in his place. 'Twas hard to see you leave in that snow storm last Friday, Emerson. Alex. McLeod had quite a distinguished passenger out from The Dalles last week in the person of Mr. "Punch" McKenzie. Alex. says he had more fun than a box of monkeys. Mr. J. C. Thrall will open his new general merchandise store on or about the 10th of April. "Jim" is an enterprising young man, and we wish him success in his new venture. E. L. Boynton and family have returned from the Willamette valley, and will be found at his old stand in Kingsley on and after July 1st. Mr. Davis Hix, who has been under the doctor's care for the past month with what was feared to be white swelling, is slowly improving. Last Friday Mr. Alex. McLeod was called to Grass Valley to the bedside of his son, William, who is dangerously ill. We did not learn the particulars.

Charges Against the Former Whisky Trust Directors.
 CHICAGO, March 25.—A sensational report was submitted to Receiver McNulta, of the whisky trust, today by experts, who for a month have been examining the books of the Greenhut management. Charges of juggling accounts, doctoring books and similar work, are made, and the report asserts that former directors and officers, by disposing of stock to themselves, have left a discrepancy of $1,924,120. The report states that 34,682 shares were sold by officers and directors to themselves at 45 cents on the dollar, and consequently almost $2,000,000 is due from them to stockholders of the Distilling & Cattle Feeding Company. General McNulta has called a conference of the interested parties to consider the matter. There is little doubt but that the experts' report will result in a hot fight between the present management and the Greenhut people. Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. La Grippe is here again with all of its old time vigor. One Minute Cough Cure is a reliable remedy. It cures and cures quickly. Snipes-Kinersly Drug Co. A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by Blakely & Houghton Druggists.

Prisoners Escape.
 FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 25.—Six United States prisoners escaped from the jail last night. Among them is Bill West, the notorious outlaw, who deliberately shot and killed United States Deputy Marshal Kinney, on the street in Miami, Indian territory. The others are horse thieves and general robbers. Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly.
