SPRAY NO. 1.

Winter Spray for San Jose Scale and Curl Leaf of the Peach.

- Lime, unslacked..... 30 lbs
- Sulphur, powdered..... 20 lbs
- Salt, Liverpool..... 15 lbs

The above is a very efficient remedy for the San Jose Scale and Curl Leaf of the Peach, and is an excellent fertilizer for the trees. It not only destroys the scale and prevents the spread of the curl leaf, but removes all lichens and keeps the bark soft.

In the case of curl leaf, the greatest good will result from the early spraying, as it prevents to a large degree the dormant spores of this parasitic fungus coming to life, and destroys any that may have started.

DIRECTIONS.

To be most successful, this spray should be applied just before the buds swell in the spring. It can be used at this time stronger than later, and should be thrown upon the trees when it is warm.

Use for winter spraying, 1 pound to 2 gallons of water; for summer work use 1 pound to 8 gallons of water. Maier & Benton, sole agents, The Dalles, Or.

BRIEF MENTION.

See The Dalles Dramatic Club In the great play Nevada, or The Lost Mine, At the opera house, Wednesday night, March 27th, Sure.

The weather bureau will on April 2nd commence sending out the regular weekly crop bulletin.

According to the report of the assessor, Portland has a population of 75,000 instead of 96,000 as claimed.

Enough Hood River people were in town today to make one almost think our neighbor had moved up here.

The weather today has been a regular bud starter. It has been beautifully warm and still, a perfect spring day.

New clothes were procured for Monahan today, and he will be discharged from quarantine this afternoon. Thus endeth the celebrated smallpox scare.

Wool is quoted at from 8 to 9 cents per pound, though but one small lot has come in. No outside buyers are on hand, and the price cannot be said to be fixed. Cattle hides are selling at 6 cents and sheep pelts at 5 cents per pound.

Word was received here yesterday afternoon of the death of Thomas Gerity, a former resident of this place, being employed for a number of years in the painters' department of the O. R. & N. shops. He died at Albina yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Driver arrested a hobo this morning, thinking he was a man wanted for robbery in California. He answered the description all right except as to age, and the sheriff, convinced he was not the man he wanted, turned him over to the city marshal. He had been begging on the streets.

Two weeks from today the salmon fishing season begins. The river is still low, but the wheels are so arranged that if the salmon run, some of the wheels will get their work in. The Winans Bros. will have two of their wheels ready to run by the 10th, and the third will be in running order soon after that time. The Seufert Bros. have all their wheels in good condition, and if the run comes all the canneries will be kept working up to their fullest capacity.

We notice an article in the Antelope Herald to the effect that Mr. Halloway had purchased a large number of sheep and cattle in that neighborhood. Stockmen are fortunate this year in having a number of Eastern buyers such as Mr. Halloway, Mr. Bastine and others, who bring their money with them, and pay prices that are well up to the limits that the expenses of shipping will permit. In a multitude of buyers is the stockmen's salvation, and this year they are getting all their stock is worth.

Ten bear skins were brought over from Camas Prairie yesterday and sold here. It is not generally known, even by our own people, that a large trade in furs is carried on here. The principal source of supply is the Camas Prairie and Mt. Adams sections of Washington, though the mountains south of us yield quite an assortment. Bear skins just now are quite the fashion, and command prices varying with their condition, and running from nothing to as high as $20 for extra quality, size and color. Coyote skins bring 50 cents each; wildcat, 40; fisher, $5 to $6; otter, $6; beaver, $1.50 per pound; mink, 75 cents each.

In the Snipes-Kinnersly Drug Co.'s window is a small painting that will repay more than a passing glance. The subject is an old man, a genuine disciple of the great Isaak Walton, all prepared for a day's sport on his favorite stream. His good rod lies across his lap, his creel hangs from his shoulder, while the necks of a couple of bottles of snake remedy, always necessary on such occasions, peep from a basket. The face expresses pleasure, satisfaction and patience, while the position conveys the impression that the old gentleman is confident that he is well prepared to enjoy a good day's sport, and knows the companions for whom he waits will be on time. The painting is the work of Mrs. Inez Filloon.

The Play Tonight.

Nevada, or the Lost Mine will be presented tonight to one of the largest audiences ever gathered in The Dalles. Nearly every reserved seat was taken by noon today, and we predict that the hall will be filled. The play is a good one, and the local club contains talent of a high order. The proceeds will be divided among the different charitable associations of the city, and those who attend will feel not only that their money has brought pleasure to themselves, but that it will give pleasure and comfort to others. Admission, 50 cents, children, 25 cents.

Up to Cloud Cap.

A party consisting of M. A. Moody of this city, Lieutenant Taylor of the Cascade Locks, A. M. Balfrey of Lyle, and W. A. Langelle of Hood river, went up to Cloud Cap Inn Saturday. That is they started Saturday and went as far as the elk-beds, which point is about seven miles from the Inn. At this point the snow was about three feet deep, mostly new snow. Leaving the elk-beds early in the morning on snowshoes the party struggled all day through the soft snow which was at least five feet deep at the Inn, reaching that place in twelve hours. Returning the party reached Hood River at midnight Monday. Mr. Langelle who has been in charge of, or located at the Inn since it was first built pronounces the trip the hardest one he ever made over the route.
