

Is it Customary with You to Wear Shoes?

We believe that shoes are the most satisfactory outer covering for the feet, and contend that all gentlemen who wish to appear well in polite society should wear them. Now, the object of this dissertation is to call your attention to our $2.50 Shoes for Men. Of course, other shoe dealers have $2.50 Shoes; some pay $12.00 per dozen for them and others may pay $36.00. We think, however, the dealers paying the latter price are limited. We do not, neither do we pay the former. We claim our $2.50 Shoes to be the best that money can buy and that can be sold at that price. So sure are we of their good wearing qualities that we say, "Take these Shoes, wear them, and if they don't prove satisfactory, return them to us, and your money will be refunded." If you are curious, just see our Corner Window filled with these celebrated $2.50 Shoes. If this won't satisfy you, step inside, purchase a pair and examine them at your leisure.

BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Reports from Hood River indicate a very large crop of berries if nothing happens to them.

The local this afternoon was delayed for an hour on account of repairs being made on the high trestle.

Denver had a snowstorm Saturday, six inches of the beautiful being the result. Most of it disappeared by Sunday morning.

The best is always cheapest. Herrin makes the best cabinet photographs for only $2.50 per dozen. Chapman block, up stairs.

Three botanical students came up from Portland yesterday and sized up the flora of this neighborhood yesterday afternoon and this morning.

Messrs. Wm. Holder and J. Hosford are in the city, perfecting arrangements for the play "A Social Glass," to be given here by the Moro Dramatic club, Friday evening.

Seufert's upper wheels are beginning to get their work in on the salmon. About 3,000 pounds a day are caught. Five feet more water will show a large increase in the catch.

The weather the past few days has been perfect; there was no wind, the sun shone brightly and the air was perfumed by orchard blooms and lilacs. The Dalles just now is at her prettiest and that is handsome enough for anybody.

One hobo was brought up this morning for the recorder to measure out the amount of his repentance, which was the usually prescribed dose. The man whom the marshal had chained up Saturday, expressed a desire to work today, as he has demonstrated by experiment that work is not so wearing on his system as being compelled to stand still.

By special invitation of the literary society Dr. Doane will repeat his lecture delivered in Portland at the Willamette University commencement exercises several weeks ago. The subject will be "The Twentieth Century Physician." The society tenders a cordial invitation to everyone to be present. No admission will be charged. The date will be announced later.

The concert next Wednesday evening at the Congregational church promises to be the event of the season. A fine program by local talent, assisted by Mrs. Heald and Miss Smith of Hood River, will be presented. Mrs. Heald and Miss Smith are both from the famous Boston Conservatory of Music, and will be well worth hearing. The best singers of The Dalles, and everyone knows how good they are, will make the evening very attractive.

The bicyclists are getting decidedly numerous. Today at noon we noticed a herd of them, consisting of two ladies and six gentlemen, gliding gracefully down Court street. Ye weary reporter watched them until they whirled around the corner up Second street like a flock of birds, and then he lifted his feet one at a time, looked at the old-fashioned non-pneumatic half soles on his brogans, and pedaled himself along towards the courthouse, happy as a clam in the consciousness that the world and the follies thereof was at his feet.

Charles Teio was brought up from the Cascade Locks yesterday afternoon by Constable Trana, having been sentenced to jail for ten days for using obscene and abusive language. He had no sooner arrived than a telegram came to take him to Vancouver to testify in the case of the state of Washington against S. A. Anderson, who is accused of the murder of J. A. Bull, near Stevenson, a few months ago. Teio is said to be one of the most important witnesses for the state. He was taken down on the boat this morning.

The work of grading around the head of the draw at the high trestle is progressing rapidly. The find of petrified trees is much larger than was at first supposed. They are found in the new cut in abundance and some large sections of the trees have been taken out. The trees were evidently growing near the bluff, when a flow of lava came down over it surrounding the trees and completely sealing them up. The percolation of the surface water charged with sand and quartz finally caused the petrification. The waves of the lava where they overflowed one another are plainly visible.

The Moro Club.

The Moro Dramatic club will play here in the opera house, Friday, April 26th. The club is composed of some of Moro's most prominent people and their acting is highly spoken of by all who have heard them. The play is "A Social Glass" and is said to be full of dramatic scenes. The proceeds of the play will be given to the Sherman county public schools. Admission, 75 and 50 cents, children under 10 years, 25 cents. Reserved seats at Blakeley & Houghton's.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Mr. M. Herrick returned yesterday from Portland, after a brief business visit.

Mr. Ad. Edgar is in Portland visiting old time friends, of whom he has a very large number.

Mrs. Charles McMorris and daughter of Walla Walla, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Funk.

Sheriff Driver and W. K. Corson, who went to Antelope last week, arrived home yesterday morning.

Mrs. J. Barter and Mrs. M. Bulger, who have been visiting at their old home on 8-Mile for several days, returned to Portland this morning.

Mrs. Dr. Ford-Warner, an eminent physician of Portland, who was a guest at the residence of Mr. Smith French, returned home yesterday.

Mr. W. W. Wilson, steward of the Umatilla House, arrived home Saturday from a visit to Salt Lake City. He attended services in the Tabernacle and says that there were supposed to be 9000 persons present. The building has a seating capacity of 14,000.

Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, who is visiting the coast, and a party of friends, were expected to make the trip from Portland to this city today, coming up on the boats, but the arrangements have been changed. If the senator can spare the time without breaking into his other arrangements, he will make the trip tomorrow.

Rock Creek Shooting Affray.

A telegram from Arlington yesterday says:

"A shooting affray took place between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning at the residence of Harry Clay, on Rock creek, twenty miles south of here, resulting in the death of Henry Grider. Henry had been working for Mr. Clay for about a year, and had been looked upon as a faithful, law-abiding citizen. Recently, however, Grider seems to have gained the impression that he owned the ranch, and was going to run things to suit himself. He had made threats of killing Mr. Clay, and had been carrying a revolver for some time. This morning the two men had some little dispute about matters pertaining to the ranch, and, without provocation, Grider drew a revolver and fired two shots at Clay without effect. He was following him up, with the evident intention of killing him, when Mr. Clay ran into the house and procured a shotgun. He emptied one of the barrels into Grider's side below the left arm, killing him instantly. He then gave himself up to the authorities. He will be given a preliminary trial tomorrow morning. Mr. Clay has a fine ranch on Rock creek, and deals extensively in stock, having recently made a large shipment to Chicago. He is highly esteemed as a peaceable, law-abiding citizen. Although the shooting on his part was clearly in self-defense, the occurrence is greatly deplored by himself and friends."
