BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

"A Social Glass" tonight. At the opera house tonight, "A Social Glass."

Vignettes from "Life," at the opera house, Wednesday evening, May 1st. Come and see C. D. Gibson's beautiful American girl in her most attractive toiletts.

Quite a number of teams arrived from Prineville yesterday and are loading freight for that place today. Among them we notice G. W. Cantrell, J. G. Cantrell and John Dorsey.

Misses Annie and Laura Thompson treated about seventeen of their young lady friends to a picnic on one of the loveliest spots on the bank of Mill creek today. Mr. Richmond started out early this morning with the wagonette loaded with a jolly crowd of girls, and as the day has been perfect, no doubt the first picnic of the season was as happy a one as will be had this summer.

The members of the More Dramatic club arrived today, and every arrangement has been completed for putting "A Social Glass" on the boards tonight. This club has presented the piece a half dozen times and to appreciative audiences. Their acting is said to be fine, and indeed only the most flattering notices have followed each presentation of the play. The Orchestra Union will furnish the music for the occasion.

The city council met last night, but as near as we can learn ran against a stump. It was intended to have the charter amended so as to provide for bonding all the indebtedness up to the time the bonds were issued, but through some oversight the new charter only provides for bonding the indebtedness up to January 1st. As this would leave about $4,000 of debt unprovided for, some of the councilmen objected to issuing the bonds. Just what course will be taken is not yet determined upon.

Additional Arbor Day Reports.

District No. 5, R. S. Andrews teacher, spent the time with the pupils in clearing the grounds, as they already contain many native trees.

In the city schools exercises were not generally held, as the grounds had heretofore been filled with trees. At the new school at East Hill, however, a dozen trees were planted and a nice program rendered, with many visitors present. At the Academy Park school the trees, which had so long been neglected, were thoroughly pruned, adding much to the beauty of the grounds.

District No. 18, Miss Lida Johnson teacher—Each pupil planted a tree, for which they are to care, and had the following program; Reading, "Law of Arbor Day;" song, "Gay and Happy;" recitation, "Beautiful Things;" recitation, "A Puzzling Question;" "Song of Dedication;" recitation, "The Cunning Old Crow;" "Chorus of the Flowers;" recitations, "The Little Seed," "Little by Little," "Trees," "Work and Play;" song, "Invocation."

District No. 26, J. B. Gorham teacher—Cared for trees already planted, planted a dozen more, and the teacher took occasion to impress upon the minds of the pupils the importance of the day.

District No. 56, Viento, Miss Katie Davenport teacher—Decorated the school room with a profusion of flowers and evergreens, and had a literary program consisting of recitations, songs, etc. No trees were planted, as kind nature had done this work for them already. A speech, emphasizing the observance and remembrance of the day, closed the exercises.

Indigo Social.

Remember the Indigo social this evening, given under the auspices of the Epworth League, in the lecture room of the M. E. church. The following program will be rendered:

- (Individual Piece. (Nocturne. (D)ecclamation. (I)ndigo. (G)allop. (O)ur Quartette.

At the close of the program refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Frank Fulton is down from Biggs. Mr. F. N. Jones, of Sherars Bridge is in the city.

District Attorney Jayne is registered at the Umatilla.

H. E. and J. W. Moore and E. A. Griffin are in from Nansene.

Win. Curtis, who came home from school to wrestle with a case of grip, returned to his studies at Forest Grove this morning, having thrown it.

Rev. W. C. Curtis went to Portland this morning. The little birds are smiling to twitter that his visit means more than just a day or so in the city, and that in fact before he returns he will be called upon to make a running splice that will tie the two of The Dalles' young people together for life.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

THE MARKETS.

Clapp & Co.'s weekly market letter is hopeful in tone, and thinks the financial outlook is getting much brighter. It says: "The air that was lately leaden seems charged with buoyant sentiment, and ambitions recently hopeless seem now but stepping stones to higher elevations." It also mentions the fact that cotton has gone up from 5.54 to 6.87 and asserts that it will soon sell above 7 cents.

The wheat outlook is brighter for the grower. Of winter wheat the crop is now estimated, even with the most favorable weather, at not less than 10 per cent below last year's product, and the indications are that prices will be much better than in 1894. Of course it is too soon yet to make anything like a correct estimate of the crop as everything depends upon the weather in the next two months. That the crop will not be nearly up to that of '94 is, however, assured. This condition exists in countries growing 85 per cent of the world's crop. It is estimated that 83,000,000 bushels of wheat have been fed to stock since last harvest, thus disposing of a large part of the surplus.

Beef is going up steadily, caused by a general shortage. Low prices caused the slaughtering of many cows and the destruction of entire herds by those who were discouraged and getting out of the business. The result is a large deficiency in the present supply. Better prices will prevail for several years, at least.

Mutton feels the effect of the rise in beef and has a strong tendency upward. Prices run from $2.50 to $3.25 per head. The winter has been a good one for the sheep industry, and the flocks are in prime condition, better than they will be in a month from now unless we have rain, as the pasturage will die out. The lambing season has been favorable and the crop a phenomenally large one. The wool is also extra good, the staple unusually long and without a break.

The local market is well supplied with seasonable vegetables, and in produce there are no changes since last week.

Sunday School Workers.

The program has been issued for the Tenth Annual Convention of the Oregon State Sunday School Association, to be held in the First Congregational church, Portland, May 7th, 8th and 9th. The topics for treatment are all in line with the convention theme, "Better Things." While the entire program is designed to be of interest to every attendant, each one is certain to find something of special value in his particular line of Sunday school effort.

The primary department is given the prominence that it demands, as being of perhaps the first importance. Three papers on various points in primary teaching are provided for, as well as a conference of all primary workers. At this conference the matter of a state primary superintendent will undoubtedly be brought up, and if it meets with favor the state association will be asked to add such an officer to the list for the ensuing year. Normal work will be fully treated, and the question of the adoption of a uniform state course and the appointment of a normal superintendent will have attention. Such vital topics as grading, singing and the home class department will be ably presented; the Chautauqua work will also have consideration. The singing during the entire convention will be under the direction of Rev. H. W. Young, of Portland. On Wednesday evening the program will include organ selections by Miss Francis Jones, one of Portland's best organists, and a quartette by Miss Bloch, Mrs. Shillock and Messrs. Wintler and Montgomery. A feature of the convention will be the five simultaneous conferences, at 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, of primary workers, secretaries, superintendents, teachers of boys and teachers of girls. The special interest of each delegate will determine which one he shall attend. In each conference only such topics and problems are to be considered as concern teachers or officers of that particular class.

Indications already point to a very large attendance. This is a mass convention, and the invitation is extended to all Sunday school workers in the state. Entertainment will be provided for such delegates as send their names to A. A. Morse, chairman, 334 Weidler street, Portland. Attention is called to the necessity for taking a receipt from the agent at time of buying railroad ticket to Portland, if reduced rate for return trip is desired. The Southern Pacific company has effected a change in its manner of handling excursion fares which makes this imperative. This is also required by the O. R. & N. Co. The return rate is one-third of regular fare on Southern Pacific, and one-fifth on O. R. & N. The secretary, F. R. Cook, Portland, will furnish additional information on request.
