CLEVELAND ON ECONOMY.

President Cleveland, it is now said, is going to write a book. "Oh! that mine enemy would write a book," said Job, for he felt that only in the joy of criticizing it could he balance up his accounts. It is understood that the subject of the work is to be upon the subjects of social and political economy. Horace Greely sent his name thundering down the ages a little piece by his unique volume entitled "What I Know About Farming." The work excited considerable interest, especially when the good old editor told about how a crop of bedquills should be harvested, and how the bed should be spaded for a new crop. Of course Greely, to have made his book agree with its title, should have had nothing between the covers. Mr. Cleveland does not intend to fall into that error, and is diligently reading everything he can find on the subject, and hopes to know something of the subjects by the time his successor shows up.

On political economy the president has some peculiar ideas, the leading one being the practice of the most rigid economy in using the platform on which he was elected, fearing possibly it might give out during his term. His book will be received with great favor by such Oregonians as Collector of Customs Russell, and such democrats as U. S. Marshal Grady and Surveyor General J. C. Arnold. One chapter should be entitled "The Economy of Borrowing Gold from a Syndicate," or "Who Scooped Six Millions."

The Manufacturers' Association is the name of a new organization the objects of which are to encourage Oregon manufacturers by using and causing others to use their products. The idea is a good one, and should receive the hearty support of the public. Some of the newspapers have been poking a little mild fun at the association because it was found that all those belonging to the association—about eighty, we believe, at the time—only one was dressed in Oregon made woollens. The fun is all right, being harmless, but the fact is one of the very strongest arguments why the organization should exist, and why its objects should be carried out. Oregon is blessed with unlimited and convenient water power and a vast quantity of first-class wool, and there is no reason in the world why a large majority of woollen goods used by us should not be manufactured within our borders. It will give employment to hundreds, save freights and add to the price the wool grower will get for his fleeces. Let our people carry out the idea of inquiring for Oregon products every time, and take them in preference to those imported, other things being equal, and it will stimulate industries wonderfully. We wish the association a great deal of power to its corporate elbow, and hope to see the experiment given a fair and full trial.

Senator Palmer thinks there is no outlook for the democratic party in Illinois. The senator is right, or at least partly so, for there is no outlook for the branch of the party to which Senator Palmer belongs. The democratic party is going to adopt a platform demanding the free coinage of silver, and Senator Palmer and Grover Cleveland will be virtually read out of the party. At the same time the republican party is going to insist upon bimetalism, which means practically the present conditions, with gold as the money of ultimate redemption, but with silver kept at a parity. In other words, the republican party will insist on making every dollar as good as every other dollar. This will make the issue. Cleveland, Palmer, and that wing of the democratic party, will vote the republican ticket, while the free silver republicans will vote with the democrats. There is no other solution of the problem, unless, indeed, a third party should be started, and it will not be done so long as either of the old parties will adopt a free silver platform. The fight must be fought next year, and both sides are already girding on their armor for the greatest political battle ever fought in the world.

The income tax cases are being argued before the full bench of the supreme court. The opinion prevails that Justice Jackson is in favor of the view that the law is constitutional, and it is expected that the former decision will be reversed.

Her Value Increased.

The financial value that accompanies artistic success is again illustrated in the case of Nordice, the great soprano, whose triumphs at Bayreuth last summer, were heralded far and near. Before her overwhelming European success, managers estimated her services at $600 for each performance, but the contract for this season calls for $1,200 per night for fifty nights. Sixty thousand as against $30,000 is a handsome increase. Her home in London is a beautiful example of taste and refinement. Chicagoans will be interested in knowing that she has a Kimball Piano in her studio, which she constantly uses, because, as she says, it is perfect for accompanying the voice.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A large shipment of these celebrated instruments will be offered for sale here in a very short time. Look out for them.

ON THE ROAD
 to recovery, the young woman who is taking Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In maidenhood, womanhood, wifehood and motherhood the "Prescription" is a supporting tonic and a nervine adapted to her needs, regulating, strengthening and curing the derangements of the sex. Why is it so many women owe their beauty to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? Because beauty of form and face radiate from the common center—health. The best bodily condition results from good food, fresh air and exercise coupled with the judicious use of the "Prescription."

If there be headache, pain in the back, bearing-down sensations, or general debility, or if there be nervous disturbance, nervous prostration, and sleeplessness, the "Prescription" reaches the origin of the trouble and corrects it. It dispels aches and pains, corrects displacements and cures catarrhal inflammation of the lining membranes, falling of the womb, ulceration, irregularities and kindred maladies.

"FALLING OF WOMB."
 Mrs. FRANK CAMFIELD, of East Dickinson, Franklin Co., N. Y., writes: "I deem it my duty to express my deep, heart-felt gratitude to you for having been the means, under Providence, of restoring me to health, for I have been by spells unable to walk. My troubles were of the womb—inflammatory and bearing-down sensations and the doctors all said, they could not cure me."
 Twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Wonderful Favorite Prescription has cured me."
