WILL SOON BE A CRISIS

A Newspaper Correspondent Talks of Hawaii.

THREE MAIN POINTS OF DANGER

Attorney-General of Hawaii, Expresses Views Similar to Those of the Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Julius A. Palmer, who went down to the Hawaiian islands to investigate the state of affairs there as special correspondent of the New York Evening Post three months ago, arrived here on the Australia. He believes that there will soon be a crisis and that the end can only be the restoration of the monarchical form of government. He says there never will be harmony until the monarchy is restored and Princess Kaiulani placed on the throne. In giving his reasons for this belief he said:

"There are three main points of danger to the government. The first is that Secretary Gresham has decided that Bowler is not an American citizen, and Great Britain had decided that Rickard and Walker are British subjects.

"The greatest fear of the Hawaiian government is Japan, and they do not scruple to say so. They are making arrangements to get in 5,000 Chinese coolies and send away as many Japanese. The government, when the Japanese coolies came in, gave an understanding that if Japan would supply them with coolies they would employ them. Now Japan will probably hold that this understanding is being violated.

"The third danger to the government party is in themselves. The democracy or American League, is taking umbrage at the new importation of Chinese.

"The financial condition is also one of the things that will bring on a crisis. May 1 the government advertised publicly that no bills must be paid except in three and six months credit.

"The loyalty of the natives to monarchy was never as strong as now, and it was the basis of the union of all parties in past years and there will never be harmony until that monarchy is restored in Princess Kaiulani and that would make peace at once."

Colonel Volney V. Ashford, attorney-general of Hawaii, who arrived on the same steamer, expresses similar views: "There is a perfect reign of terror in the islands. Informers are everywhere. People do not dare to speak in their own houses. There is everywhere a feeling of uncertainty, doubt and impending danger and ruin.

"Those who favored annexation have made up their minds that it is impossible. The missionaries, as we call most of the political party in power, have claimed to be in favor of annexation, but have never been really. The real annexationists mistrust them now.

"As for the future? Well, annexation is an impossibility, and all are about agreed on that. Thurston has gone back and it is publicly said that he is going to propose the restoration of a monarchy, with Kaiulani on the throne.

"A republic seems an impossibility, such a large part of the population are incapable of governing themselves. As long as this so-called republic can pay armed men to keep down rebellion, it will last, and no longer. What they are talking of now, and want first, is some sort of protectorate of the United States.

"They are afraid of Japan, and then they want some protection against any other foreign interference. Then, of course, what is next wanted is a monarchy. The natives are not all discouraged by the failure of the last movement. They would gladly make another attempt. I am not a royalist in principle, but under all the conditions existing there, I think it the only thing a monarchy would unite all the natives and be respected by all powers."

Dead Outlaws Avenged.

GUTHRIE, O. T., May 16.—Friends of Newcomb and Pierce, the territory outlaws who were betrayed by supposed friends and cowardly assassinated near Ingalls two weeks ago, have avenged the death of their comrades.

According to the story of a courier who came in today from Ingalls, O. T., John, Calvin and William Dunn have been kidnapped by a number of the dead outlaws' friends and lynched. At the time of the killing, local detectives took upon themselves the glory of the capture of the outlaws and put in their chains for the rewards that had been offered for their heads. A week ago, however, the Dunn, at whose house, near Ingalls, the outlaws stopped on the night of the killing, were charged with betraying them under the guise of friendship, and after the two desperados were drunk, riddled them with bullets as they slept. They had, it is said, been promised large sums of money by the detectives who had claimed the rewards.

The friends of Newcomb and Pierce openly swore revenge. The Dunn's barricaded their place, secured a supply of arms and ammunition and made their ranch a veritable arsenal. They laid low until Sunday, says the courier, when some of them were seen about the place, apparently void of fear, and believing that the expected raid was a bluff. That night the usual strict vigilance as kept by the brothers was relaxed, in further belief that they were free of molestation. This act, it appears, proved fatal, and the three brothers were easily taken by their enemies. Late Sunday night a body of heavily armed men drove up to the Dunn cabin, and, forming a cordon around it, called upon the brothers to come out and surrender themselves, the marauders having previously fired a volley into the air to awaken their intended victims.

When the Dunn, John, Calvin and William, saw the number of those without, they readily realized the worthlessness of making a fight, and were quietly taken. The women folk tried to dissuade the captors from carrying out their purpose, but were rudely pushed aside. The Dunn were placed upon horses, and, being told not to make an outcry, were hastily driven off towards the mountains. Since then nothing has been heard of the band nor its captives, and the general opinion is that the Dunn have been lynched, as the feeling against them was most bitter. Searching parties are out looking for the bodies, but as the desperados probably took the victims to one of their mountain rendezvous, the prospect of tracing them is very small.

Silver Convention.

SALT LAKE, May 16.—The silver convention met at 10 today with 21 delegates present. The committee on resolutions and plan of action not being ready to report, Congressman Mondell, of Wyoming, moved that a recess be taken until 2 p. m., but the motion was withdrawn.

Langenour moved that newspapers reporters be admitted to the executive session, but the motion was lost.

The conference then went into executive session and is discussing various methods proposed for carrying out the objects for which the conference was called. A number of interesting speeches were made, and while there are differences of opinion, indications all point to harmonious action.

Attorney-General Jones, of the state of Washington, arrived this morning, and was admitted as a member of the conference.

About the Income-Tax Law.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—There is a rumor in circulation today that the income-tax law will be declared unconstitutional when the decision is rendered next Monday, either by a vote of six to three or seven to two. Next Monday, it will be recalled, there was a rumor circulated that Justice Jackson had decided on Saturday last to vote for its constitutionality, and that his vote, with four others in favor of it, would result in a decision by a vote of five to four in favor of the law. If the actions of the treasury department officials and those at the head of the department of justice today can be taken as an indication, the probabilities seem to be that they have had an inkling that the law is to be declared unconstitutional on Monday. That they were worried is apparent.

While no one is able to speak authoritatively, the general impression is that the law will be declared unconstitutional and stricken from the statute-books. Of course the whole question hinges upon the vote of Justice Jackson, and certain parties close to this jurist assert positively that he will decide against the law. They say he has always been a federalist, and that when this legislation was first proposed in congress he openly expressed his disapproval of it.

Senator Allison Challenged.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 16.—The Central Bimetallic League of Iowa, of which J. Matthias, of Des Moines, is president, and J. Watts secretary have forwarded a letter to Senator Allison challenging him to come to Des Moines and debate with some advocate of free coinage of silver, to be designated by the league. The challenge is qualified by the statement that if Senator Allison believes in such coinage, then a debate is unnecessary.

General Weaver left last night for the West, where he will deliver 10 speeches for free silver. He will bring back with him General A. J. Warner, of Ohio, and Joseph C. Sibley to attend the big silver meeting here June 5.

Anyone who has ever had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merriam's confectionery establishment.

Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pains. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

The Wool Clip of the John Day.

HEPNER, Or., May 16.—O. S. Jackson, editor of the East Oregonian; S. P. Sturgis, cashier of the First National bank of Pendleton, and James P. Fee, judge of the sixth judicial district, came in yesterday evening from the John Day country. They report business throughout the John Day country in a flourishing condition, and state that the wool clip will be the largest ever shorn in that country.

While in Stockton, Cal., some time ago, Thos. F. Langan, of Los Banos, that state, was taken very severely cramps and diarrhoea. He chanced to meet Mr. C. M. Carter, who was similarly afflicted. He says: "I told him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and we went to the Holden Drug Store and procured a bottle of it. It gave Mr. Carter prompt relief and I can vouch for its having cured me." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

Snow Still on the Ground.

MILWAUKEE, May 16.—Frosts was general throughout the state again last night. Garden and fruit crops are being steadily wiped out. In northern part of the state snow that fell early in the week still remains on the ground. Wheat and oats suffer least. All other crops will have to be replanted.

J. A. Richardson, of Jefferson City Mo., Chief Enrolling force 38th general assembly of Missouri, writes: "I wish to testify to the merits of One Minute Cough Cure. When other so-called cures failed, I obtained almost instant relief and a speedy cure by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. Snipes-Kinerey Drug Co.
