Prospects Bright for a Revolution in Venezuela.

A CRISIS RAPIDLY APPROACHING

The Bluefields Fortifications—They Are Said to Be the Work of General Cabenas.

New York, May 21.—The World says: Private letters received here tell of renewed political disturbances in Venezuela, with prospects of another revolution. The plan of general amnesty, which was intended to draw back to the country all of its noted exiles, has proved a failure.

From New York there went General Praza, General Monagas, General Hernandez, General Sarris, General Puidlo and several others. General Guzman Blanco, the greatest of Venezuelan revolutionists, refused to be drawn from his retreat in Paris, although the new government offered to him every inducement.

By the last steamer General Monagas returned to New York and General Praza, who was formerly minister to Washington, will go next week. Nearly all the returned exiles will leave the country again.

Business in leading cities is poor. In politics there is chaos which is rapidly reaching a crisis.

President Crespo is reported to be getting ready to form a new cabinet.

A Private Enterprise.

New York, May 21.—A special to the World from Colon says: Referring to the recent work of fortifying Bluefields on the Mosquito coast, and the mounting of Krupp guns, a former government officer says:

"It is the work of General Cabenas, who regards Bluefields as his private property, and declares he will hold it against all comers, President Zelaya, included."

Minister Hazleton Resigns.

New York, May 21.—A local paper says:

The resignation of Seneca Hazleton, United States minister to Venezuela, is in the hands of the secretary of state. His resignation was offered last Friday, but there seems to have been some reason for a great deal of secrecy about Mr. Hazleton's resignation.

Ex-President of Honduras.

New York, May 21.—On the Atlas line steamer Ailes, which arrived this morning from Port Limon, was General D. Vasquez, ex-president of Honduras.

Examiner Carson in Charge.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Controllor Eckels today received a telegram stating the Merchants' National bank, of Seattle, Wash., had suspended. Examiner Carson was put in charge. The bank's capital was $200,000, and at the last report had assets amounting to $630,000 and a surplus of $25,000. It is understood one of the causes of the bank's failure was too great holding of real estate and securities upon which it did not realize.

The Whisky Trust.

CHICAGO, May 21.—The reorganization committee of the whisky trust today took action which will probably end the receivership within a short time. Resolutions were adopted providing for the sale of trust properties, either by the courts or by the board of directors.

Millionaire's Wife Forfeits a Bond.

CHICAGO, May 21.—A capias was issued this afternoon for Mrs. Warren Springer, the wife of a Chicago millionaire. Several months ago, Mrs. Springer was indicted for an alleged attempt to bribe a juror in a property-condemnation suit in which her husband was interested. When the case was called for trial today, the defendant was not in court. The capias was issued, and a bond of $5,000, signed by her husband, was declared forfeited. It is said Mrs. Springer is visiting friends somewhere in Ohio.

Seattle Bank Falls.

SEATTLE, May 21.—The first failure of a national bank in this city occurred this morning, when the Merchants' National bank closed its doors and it was announced that it would not reopen.

The bank was incorporated July 21, 1890, with a capital stock of $300,000. In explaining its failure, Angus McIntosh, the president, said this morning: "This misfortune is the inevitable result of the hard times and the inability of the people to respond to the calls made upon them. Our board of directors met this morning and decided, in view of the position of things, not to open today and to have the cashier notify the controller of the action taken. We can do nothing until the examiner comes in. The plan of consolidation fell through and this bank will simply liquidate. The bank will pay all its obligations and I do not think that this will absorb any of the capital stock. Our aim will be to call upon our stockholders and not to go through the hands of a receiver. The stockholders will be able to recoup themselves from the assets as fast as they are able to realize on them and they will be quite sufficient to make the stockholders whole again. I cannot give you an exact statement of the affairs of the bank until the examiner gets here, but I can say generally that there are no really bad assets, the only difficulty being that they are slow to realize on."

Are Too Fine For Worship.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—"The pastor of a large American church is more like the manager of a business concern than a preacher of the Gospel," said Rev. Eugene Dupuy is the pastor of the French Reform church, and he was telling the difference between the churches of this country and those in France.

"In this country," he said, "it is the business of the minister to draw crowds, yet he is so hedged in by the financiers of his congregation that on some questions he is not free to express an opinion. His position is not altogether comfortable. He dances on eggs between the choir and the organist; he perspires because of the lack of harmony and turning up noses of the various societies of the church; he is in a measure suppressed, walled in, and in this tied-up condition he must fight the devil. The churches are too comfortable, too rich, too fine for worship; and one trouble of it all is the pastors are being secularized. There is too much grand choir, stained-glass windows and lavishness. People don't give the attention to the service that they should; the cushions are too soft. I say fill them with peach stones and keep the congregation awake. Let us have stiff, straight-backed pews if it will make the community more Godly. Let the pastors fight for this even though they lose the most substantial financiers in their congregations."

An Imposing Building.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The Odd Fellows' temple in this city, which cost $940,000, was dedicated today with imposing ceremonies. This magnificent monument to Odd Fellowship is nine stories high and is the largest and costliest secret society building in the world. Offices of the grand officers of the state are on the ground floor, also an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,200. Beneath is a drill hall of the same size. On the second, third, fourth and fifth floors are 105 offices for rent. The remaining stores are to be devoted entirely to the order. Four lodgerooms are on each floor. On the ninth floor are two encampment-rooms which contain many new and novel features for conferring degrees. A roof promenade commands an excellent view of the city. All over the United States preparations have been made to bring delegations of Odd Fellows to Philadelphia, and it is estimated 20,000 will participate in the par-on packing house methods of lard rendering, and there will be less lard used. Many people realize that it is impossible now-a-days to procure old-fashioned leaf lard. They demand something better than the modern stock-yards product.

ade that will take place on Broad street this afternoon. The orders of Odd Fellows embraces a membership in this city of nearly 35,000; in the state, 115,000, and in the United States the membership, according to the last annual report, reaches nearly 1,600,000 in good standing.

Any one who has ever had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merriam's confectionery establishment. Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pains. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

Senator Hill Pleased.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—Senator Hill was pleased at the decision in the income tax matters and took no pains to conceal that pleasure. In relation to its general effects Senator Hill said:

"The supreme court of the United States is entitled to the thanks of the country for its decision against a law which sanctioned unequal taxation, and against an enactment which was clamored for only by populists, cranks and demagogues. That court has vindicated its wisdom and entrenched itself in the confidence of the people. Public sentiment was right in demanding that the whole law be set aside.

While in Stockton, Cal., some time ago, Thos. F. Langan, of Los Banos, that state, was taken very severely cramps and diarrhoea. He chanced to meet Mr. C. M. Carter, who was similarly afflicted. He says: "I told him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and we went to the Holden Drug Store and procured a bottle of it. It gave Mr. Carter prompt relief and I can vouch for its having cured me." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.
