STATE RIGHTS AND MR. DEBS.

We used to hear of a doctrine or theory called "States Rights." supposed to have been synonomous with democracy in its milder form, and with secession in its more violent stages. Centralization of government and all that tends toward a nation with a big N, was the bug bear at which all democratic guns were simed and discharged. But something has come over the spirit of the democracy during the past year, which renders it unfamiliar. Riet is actually suppressed by U. S. troops; rioters are summoned before U. S. courts; habeas corpus is denied the leader of a great union who has merely disobeyed and held in contempt the injunction of a U. S. court. And all this, too, under democratic rule and with a democratic supreme court.

The time has again come when a manwho runs amuck a United States government finds he has struck a reality, not a theory. Government authority means something when an individual, a labor union, a state or a confederacy of states, attempts to disregard it, and even democraby is learning that in order to have a government there must be a government; that when a mob seizes a railroad and interferes with commerce between states, or steals a train from U. S. officials, the exercise of government authority is necessary; and that a nation half of the prosecution M. Doyle, which is a theory is worse than uselees. MCKINLEY AT HOME.

In the Ohio state convention, held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, the McKinley forces were defeated by Foraker, who is the leader of machine politics in that state. This is not encouraging to Mr. McKinley's chances for the presidential nomination in '96; but the politicians of Ohio will learn, when the national convention meets. that the republicans of the nation outaide of that state will not be run by Ohio machine politics. Unless the silver wing of the republican party grows rapidly in influence between now and the convention, Wm. McKinley will be asked to lead the republicans of the nation to victory next fall.

Mr. McKinley's views upon financial, commercial and international questions are known and appreciated by the true republicans of the nation. An exceedingly plain man in his own life, his administration of the state government has been wise, economical and successful. McKinley republicans, as well as McKinley clubs, are today decidedly in the majority, and if their choice is selected by the convention, business confidence and activity will be at once restored.

We understand that the Astoria cannerymen are kicking lest our plan should so enbance the price of horses that they will be unable to secure their usual supply for canning purposes. Then the call of the department of Oregon and of J. W. Nesmith Post were read. Post Commander W. S. Myers read the ritualistic services of the G. A. R. The language of the service is beautiful and Mr. Myers read it in a way that stirred the feelings, not only of the veterans, but of the younger ones also to whom the war was not a memory but history.

After a prayer by Chaplain F. T. Esping, the decoration of the monument began. The veterans stood in a circle around the marble shaft that tells its mute story of patriotism and in turn each one laid a bouquet of flowers at its base, calling the name of the regiment in whose honor the offering was made. When the choir had again sung, the ladies of the Relief Corps encircled the monument while Miss Jennie Russell recited a patriotic poem. The exercises closed with the singing of "America," in which the audience joined.

In every respect the observance was wisely planned and carried out. The exercises were simple and impressive. The citizens of The Dalles feel grateful to present sheriff to make deed.

spirits take flight. It is time to accept the help offered in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine which was discovered and used by a prominent physician for many years in all cases of "female complaint" and the nervous disorders which arise from it. The "Prescription" is a powerful uterine tonic and nervine, especially adapted to woman's delicate wants for it regulates and promotes all the natural functions, builds up, invigorates and cures.

Many women suffer from nervous prostration, or exhaustion, owing to congestion or to disorder of the special functions. The waste products should be quickly got rid of, the local source of irritation relieved and the system invigorated with the "Prescription." Do not take the so-called celery compounds, and nervines which only put the nerves to sleep, but get a lasting cure with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"FEMALE WEAKNESS."

Mrs. WILLIAM HOOVER, of Bellville, Richland Co., Ohio, writes: "I had been a great sufferer from 'female weakness;" I tried three doctors; they did me no good; I thought I was an invalid forever. But I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and then I wrote to him and he told me just how to take it. I took eight bottles. I now feel entirely well. I could stand Mass Hoover.
