Passengers From the Wreck of the Colima.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—An Examiner special from Mazatlan says:

The steamer San Juan has arrived here with 21 passengers picked up from the wreck of the Colima. From them your correspondent has learned some of the particulars of the disaster, which they say happened on Monday at noon, when the Colima was about 28 miles out from Manzanillo and 10 miles from shore. All the rescued are badly bruised. They were picked up from pieces of wreckage and rafts, with the exception of A. J. Sutherland, who had clung to a boat after it had capsized five times and drowned the other occupants.

As all were afloat, lashed by the fiercest gale of years, and buffeted by the angry seas for about twenty-four hours, they are hardly yet in condition to tell a connected story of the wreck and the experiences of their escape, but many interesting particulars have been obtained.

The steamer was heavily laden, and had a large deckload of lumber. When the storm struck her she made bad weather of it, the captain having difficulty in keeping her head to the sea. The wind increased until it is said to have been the fiercest storm known along this coast in twenty years. The sea rose rapidly. Waves dashed over the vessel and started her deckload. As the waves rose and the storm increased, the manning of the steamer became impossible. At last, about noon, her head could no longer be kept up, and she was thrown on her beam ends. This wave struck her with such force that the steamer trembled as if she had run on a reef, and most of the passengers thought this the cause of the shocks. This gave rise to the first reports that the ship had struck on a reef.

Whether because of the heavy deckload, the shifting of the coal and cargo, or the force of the storm, the steamer would not right herself. The passengers were pretty badly stunned by being pitched about, but rushed upon the deck in a panic.

Here they met another danger. The gale tore parts of the deckload of lumber from its fastenings and whirled the heavy planks about with appalling violence. Many were struck and maimed. At least one passenger was killed by having his head crushed by a flying timber.

Bravery of the Officers.

In their terror the passengers made few mental notes of their surroundings at this juncture. The survivors say, however, that the officers of the steamer were brave and active. Captain Taylor stood upon the bridge, his first officer, D. E. Griffiths, with him. At an order Griffiths rushed aft to superintend the launching of lifeboat No. 5. Second officer George Langhorne was at lifeboat No. 3, and succeeded in getting it launched and filled with passengers. Then down went the ship, and Langhorne's boat was capsized. All in the boat are supposed to have been drowned.

Captain Taylor went down with the ship, sticking to his post. As the ship pitched downward he blew three blasts on the whistle, presumably as a signal of good-bye. Then he disappeared beneath the waves.

Favorable For Pullman.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Several months ago Attorney-General Maloney began quo warranto proceedings against the Pullman Palace Car Company, for the purpose of taking away the company's charter and terminating its corporate existence. In his information the attorney-general set up that the company "had violated its charter by buying real estate and building the town of Pullman, by erecting and operating the Pullman building in this city, by manufacturing bricks, and in other ways. Judge Baker handed down a decision today favorable to the company and to all its interests, but one. The court held the company had no right to own Pullman iron and steel stock. It is understood the company will dispose of its iron and steel company stocks.

Southern Rebels.

NEW YORK, June 1.—A special from Panama says: "A schooner is reported off the coast laden with arms destined for Ecuador, where it is said the rebels have gained important victories."

A special from San Salvador says: "The rebels captured Techachico after a severe fight, in which many were killed. La Democrata (newspaper), in an issue seized by the government, asserted the country is on the verge of the greatest revolution it ever seen."

Brazil and France.

NEW YORK, June 1.—A special from Rio Janeiro says the official gazette asserts a fight took place between French marines and Brazilian on May 15. Lieutenant Lumier ordered the imprisonment of Gabriel, and the latter resisted and shot Lumier. A French force burned the village of Cabralo, but the Brazilians returned and compelled the French to retire. The Brazilian government declares the French had no right invade neutral territory.

Any one who has ever had a stack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merrian's confectionery establishment. Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pains. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by Blakeley & Houghton Druggists.

It's Right Against Common Sense

to suppose that an imitation offers the customer any guarantee like the original does. Take Cottolene for example. THE FAIRBANK CO. discovered it, perfected it, and spent thousands in making its merits known. It is plainly to their interest to make and keep it what it is to-day—the most popular shortening in the world. But when you come these guarantees all disappear, and the housekeeper is at the mercy of an imitator who deals on others' reputation and who profits only by others' loss. To ensure having good cooking and healthful food stick right to COTTOLENE and let all imitations severely alone.
