The Regulator will make a stop at Hood River going and coming tomorrow. This will give any one who wishes to go to Hood River an opportunity to do so.

A hand of sheep, belonging to Mr. Birney, crossed on the ferryboat this morning. There were 6,000 altogether, but only about half of them crossed today.

M. V. Harrison place at Hood River was sold today to A. S. Blowers for $2830. The sale was by the sheriff. This place is one of the most beautiful in Hood River.

Tickets for the play of "Damon and Pythias" next Tuesday evening have been reduced to 50 cents for reserved seats. General admission 25 cents. Tickets now on sale at Blakeley & Houghton's.

Mr. Kerr, of the sheep raising firm of Kerr & Backley, was offered ten cents a pound for their wool clip yesterday, amounting to 90,000 pounds. Mr. Kerr refused the offer, and said that they were in no hurry to sell. The prospect for a good market continues somewhat bright.

Scott Delaney, who was arrested near Antelope, was brought into town yesterday and examined before Justice Davis. The case was continued till Monday and the defendant put up a cash bail of $200. Huntington & Wilson appear for Delaney.

The thanks of those who attended the play last night are given to the engineer of the passenger train, who kindly observed the request of THE CHRONICLE and managed the locomotive in such a way that many in the opera house did not know it had passed.

Next Sunday there will be mass held in St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock in the morning. There will be no high mass on account of the dedication of the church at Cascades. Most Reverend Archbishop Gross will officiate and give confirmation at the close of service.

Meals will be served on the boat tomorrow for the small sum of 25 cents. This will please many who do not wish to take the trouble of a lunch. Mr. Frank Getz of the Columbia Candy Factory will be present with a fine stock of Candy, ice cream and berries with all kind of soft drinks.

The Regulator carried a large load of freight down the river this morning. Her lower deck was crowded, and her passenger list well filled. Beside a large amount of other merchandise, the boat carried fourteen tons of flour from the Diamond Mills, ten of which went to Portland, and four for way points. Besides all this, a large number of horses were aboard.

THE CHRONICLE's attention was called this morning to a pleasing innovation that occurred at the play last night. A young lady, who evidently has been other places and seen other things, brought out many expressions of praise by removing her hat at the beginning of each act. When the act was through she replaced it. It was a graceful thing to do, and that young lady doesn't know how many friends she made among the male sex last evening. Should this item come to her notice, THE CHRONICLE hopes she will not be offended, for it is only with a feeling of gratitude, and at the request of several who wish other ladies would do the same, that it is published.

The Nominations Last Night.

The meetings held in the various wards were well attended last night and good men chosen for office. In the first ward the meeting was held in the city hall. E. E. Saltmarsh was nominated for councilman. In the second ward Robt. Mays was nominated for water commissioner and A. E. Thompson, L. E. Crowe and Geo. Ross nominated councilmen. The Third ward meeting was held in the county court room. Jos. T. Peters was nominated water commissioner and Thos. Wood councilman.

The citizens have shown wisdom in selecting their nominees and THE CHRONICLE congratulates both candidates and citizens on the results of last night's meeting.

"DAMON AND PYTHIAS."

A MERITORIOUS PERFORMANCE LAST NIGHT.

The Opera House Crowded--Large Receipts--The Play to be Repeated Tuesday Night.

A fashionable audience, numbering several hundred people, greeted the players last night when the curtain rose on the first act of "Damon and Pythias." For several days there had been a great demand for seats and the crowded house last night told how great was the interest in the performance. Much was expected of Mr. Rasmus and those whom he has trained and we are safe in saying all anticipations were realized. The story of "Damon and Pythias," old as it is, has always a firm hold upon the sentiment and imagination. The spectacle of a friendship so true cannot fail to strike a sympathetic chord; and last evening all the strong points were brought out with impressiveness. The orchestra was present in full force and entertained the audience with choice music while the curtain was down. Prof. Birgfeld was at the piano and his place in directing was taken by Mr. Mark Long. As always the music was of the highest order. The audience, while at times was not as responsive as some audiences are, still were very appreciative and generous in their applause. All the members of the cast had worked hard and had taken a very great interest in the performance. Mr. Rasmus complimented them upon their fidelity. The cast was as follows:

- Damon..... W. Rasmus
Pythias..... R. H. Lonsdale
Dionysius..... N. J. Sinnott
Phyllis..... F. Menefee
Dionysius' Servant..... H. H. Biemel
Procles..... F. W. Wilson
Lucullus..... J. F. Hampshire
Pythias' Servant..... G. W. Crossen
First Senator..... C. L. Phillips
Second Senator..... L. S. Davis
Third "..... R. G. Davenport
Fourth "..... C. E. Bayard
Fifth "..... W. W. Smith
Sixth "..... T. A. Hudson
First Guard..... A. J. Ross
Second "..... D. Hookman
Third "..... G. C. Hills
Fourth "..... G. Bartelle
Fifth "..... F. Van Norden
Sixth "..... S. Frank
Damon's Child..... Constance French
Cainthe..... Miss M. Mitchell
Hermion..... Miss E. Mitchell

To those who enjoyed last evening's performance any extended mention is superfluous, but the theatrical reporter of THE CHRONICLE, who occupied a seat back among the "gallery" gods, could not help but notice some of the meritorious acting seen upon the stage.

Of Mr. Rasmus much was, of course, expected. His reputation as a dramatic artist of merit was already well established in The Dalles and last night only strengthened the favorable impression already created. In all the scenes Mr. Rasmus' acting was of the most natural and yet perfectly finished kind. His pathos in the scene with "Hermion" and the power he exhibited in the scene on the block alone caused the audience to set the seal of their approval upon his work. Not only is Mr. Rasmus an actor of merit but he is also a splendid teacher
