BRIEF MENTION.

Additional Local on Fourth Page.
 Revival services are being held every afternoon and evening at the Methodist Episcopal church.

Three hundred sacks of barley were shipped by the Regulator to Vancouver this morning. The boat carried a full cargo.

The rehearsal for the second performance of "Damon and Pythias" will take place this evening at the Knights of Pythias hall.

Mr. Sherar's wool, which is now being shipped, is put up in extra large bales. Three large sacks of wool are compressed into a bale about the size of one sack.

The river at The Dalles has been stationary since June 12th. This is something very unusual for a river so large as the Columbia to neither rise or fall at this time of year.

S. H. Frazier dentist, is now located in Room 1, Chapman building, and is ready to do any work in dentistry. He will be pleased to see anyone wishing work done on the teeth. J17-1w.

The city election is progressing very quietly. Up to three o'clock only 138 votes had been cast. There is no contest except in the third ward where the friends of Ed. Phirman are voting for him for Councilmen. Geo. Ruch is receiving votes as water commissioner at large.

Work is being rapidly resumed at the Locks. Three hundred men are now employed, and more will be taken on. Forty-eight stonemasons are busy finishing the huge blocks of stone, and will soon have that portion of the great undertaking done. The pumps are rapidly emptying the canal of the water, and disclose the fact that no damage has been done by this year's freshet.

This afternoon Constable Trans of Cascade Locks brought to the court house a crazy man from the Locks. He says his name is Mike Cavanaugh, William Penson and Michael McGunnis, sometimes it is the one and sometimes the other. He is about 26 or 28 years old and has very violent spells. He absolutely refuses to eat and this, no doubt, is aggravating the malady.

City treasurer I. I. Burget Saturday night shipped to Messrs. Theis & Barroll the bonds which have been recently signed by the mayor and recorder. The bonds were sent to the First National bank of Portland, which will forward them to its Boston correspondent. The money was expected to arrive by the 1st of July and then all warrants against the city will be paid. It is no small task to figure the interest on all the warrants and no one envies Mr. Burget's position just at present.

There is some talk of having a fireman's parade on the morning of the Fourth; in the afternoon hose contests between the different companies of the city. In the evening an elaborate dance will be given. A committee of citizens is canvassing the town this afternoon, and meeting with good success. The Dalles should provide entertainment on the Fourth for our friends in the country, who may choose that day to visit the city. We can have a good celebration without any great outlay of money.

The Indian who was arrested at Sherar's Bridge, was discharged today from the county jail, it being shown that the weapon had been dropped in a scuffle and the Indian had picked it up. The weapon was an ugly-looking thing, however, consisting of a chunk of lead nearly the size of a baseball. Attached to the lead was a rope handle. Any one who ever came in contact with a blow from the thing would solve the mystery of the hereafter in the twinkling of an eye.

The Children's Day exercises, which had been postponed a week, were held last evening at the Methodist church by the members of the Sunday school. The altar was beautifully decorated, the principal feature being a large archway with golden gates, which were constructed by Mr. John Parrot. The exercises were most entertaining, every number being well performed. The last number, termed "The Golden Gate," was especially pretty, and Miss Ethel Deming, as guardian of the gate, did a difficult part well.

By request of many business men there will be a meeting of citizens held in the old court house this evening at 8 o'clock sharp to consider plans for the Fourth of July. Let everyone come and lend their support to making the project a success.
 FRANK MENESEE, Mayor.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
 When she was a child, she cried for Castoria.
 When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
 When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

A good boy, desiring to learn the printer's trade, can secure employment by applying to the Baptist Sentinel office. Jun13-1w

A Great Success.

The Regulator was crowded again yesterday with the friends of the Orchestra and merry picnickers. It was the second Sunday excursion which the boys have given and the large number that went shows how great is the popularity of the Orchestra and the Regulator. The day opened rather blustering and the boat made headway against a strong wind all the way down. At the Locks, in the morning, a slight sprinkle fell, just enough to lay the dust, and then the sun came out and made a pleasant day. Many of the passengers attended the dedicatory exercises of the new church, while others wandered over the government works and noted the progress that was being made. A large number who went yesterday were present on the previous excursion and found plenty to interest them again.

The picnic ground was the place of the greatest attraction during the afternoon, where the orchestra gave one of their famous concerts. They played for over two hours and held an eager audience attentive who would have willingly stayed longer. Some of the dancers used the platform and the trip of light feet kept time to the music. Great interest was taken in the program of sports and especially in the fat man's race. The uncertainty of the issue made betting a little risky and it was easily seen that this was no sure thing. The contestants who entered were Mr. Butts, Mr. Wakefield and Mr. Ostlund and a shout of admiration rose from the expectant crowd as they showed their gladiatorial forms. The interest was intense and when Deacon Butts forged ahead and won the race the crowd would have carried him off the track had he been a lighter man.

In the race for boys there were three entries. The prize was won by Orville Hendershott in an exciting finish. The sack race always amuses the crowd, and the frantic efforts of four boys to both make good speed and maintain their equilibrium was very funny. Bert Barrett reached the goal first and was adjudged the victor.

The boat left the Locks at 4:30, and made quick time coming home. The wind had gone down somewhat, and the boat going in the same direction with it made the up trip very pleasant. At Hood River a landing was made to put ashore those who had gotten on in the morning.

A large crowd was at the dock to welcome the steamer back to town, and soon the usual question, "Did you have a good time?" was asked and answered. Everyone replied affirmatively. Capt. McNulty was at the wheel and brought the steamer to dock, and many persons were heard to remark that it was a graceful act in Captain Waud to step aside and let the veteran captain be in his old-honorable position. Such an act of kindly thoughtfulness shows a gentleman and an appreciation of Captain McNulty's last words when he left the Regulator of his own accord: "Whenever I can be of any use to you, Captain Waud, blow three whistles as you pass Mosier and I'll come." The name of McNulty will be associated with the Columbia river for many, many years, and the younger generation of steamboat men do well to honor him.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Capt. John McNulty, the veteran steamboat man, came up from his farm at Mosier to go with Capt. Waud on the Regulator yesterday.

Mr. C. H. Clute, of the Portland Mercury, is in the city today on business connected with that paper. We enjoyed a pleasant talk with him this morning.

Mrs. Annie Oliver is in The Dalles visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sylvester. Mr. Oliver came up Saturday night, and returned this morning.

Mr. Max A. Vogt went fishing to Mosier and promised to bring the editor some fish—if he caught any. As the fish haven't arrived and he is a man of his word, it is safe to say that something must have been wrong with the bait.

Mr. Frank Clark went to Portland on this morning's train, where he will join his family and take a trip to the coast. Mrs. Clark and family and Mrs. Levi Clark were passengers on the Regulator this morning. They will remain some time by the sounding sea shore.

Mr. Thomas S. Lang is lying very ill at his residence on Fourth street. He has been unconscious several days, and is thought to be nearing the end. Col. Lang has been an important figure in the industrial and political life of Oregon, and his name is known all over the state because of his marked ability.

ladies going for the same purpose were Lizzie Ullrich, Mary Nichols, Nellie McDonald and Mary Leonard. The Dalles furnished a large contingent of both ladies and gentlemen for the meeting.

A Surprise Party to Mrs. Myers.

The annual session of the grand chapter of the Eastern Star for Oregon, which adjourned in Portland last Thursday evening, was a very successful one, showing an increase for the year of ten chapters and about four hundred members.

Mrs. Martha E. Kellogg, worthy grand matron elect, appointed Mrs. Mary S. Myers, of Columbia chapter, No. 33, at The Dalles, grand chaplain for the ensuing year, an honor worthily bestowed and fully appreciated by the members of the chapter. On Saturday evening a surprise party was organized, and a large delegation of the members of the chapter met at the Masonic hall and repaired to the residence of Mrs. Myers to congratulate her upon the high honor conferred. Mrs. Myers was completely surprised, and after the object of the gathering was made known to her and greetings exchanged, a pleasant hour was spent in social conversation. Some choice music was rendered by her accomplished daughter, Mrs. Eselman.

"May the event prove the stepping stone to Mrs. Myers' advancement to the highest position within the gift of the beautiful order," is the wish of all those who were present.

Resolution of Thanks.

We, the undersigned committee appointed to fence and make other necessary arrangement for the Kingsley cemetery, wish to thank the people of Kingsley for their liberality in furnishing us with money and labor to complete our work. The cemetery is now fenced and fixed up in good shape. We would suggest to those that have tumbled down tombstones in the cemetery, that they put them in position as it would improve the appearance of the place.
