WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1895

BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Additional Local on Fourth Page.

The county court is in session today. Tomorrow the American eagle reigns supreme.

Come and hear the autoharp concert at Jacobeen's store tonight. Many of our business houses are gaily decorated for tomorrow. Let there be a big display of bunting.

The postoffice will be open tomorrow morning from 8 to 10. The window will not be open after the arrival of the noon train.

The Regulator left the Cascades at 1:15 today and will arrive here about 5:30. Quite a number will make the trip to Cascades this evening.

The staff and field officers will give a silver medal to the best individual soldier in the competitive drill tomorrow. The medal is now on exhibition in Garretson's window.

The Regulator leaves her dock tonight at 7 o'clock for Cascades. Returning she will leave the Cascades in the morning at 6 o'clock and reach here in time for the excursionists to see all of the Fourth of July celebration.

The funeral of H. G. Mathies, the late editor of the Sporting News and a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias, took place in Portland yesterday. Mr. Mathies had many friends in The Dalles who deeply deplore his untimely death.

The subject discussed at the tent tonight will be, "The Union of Church and State," in which the ideas tending in that direction in our own nation at the present time, will receive their share of attention. All are invited to hear these things.

The liberty car is being built near Peters' lumber yard and will be large enough to comfortably hold the forty-four children and gooddeas of liberty. The sight of so many pretty little girls never fails to be one of the most pleasant scenes in the parade.

The California winehouse has moved to town on Court street, between Front and Second, and its proprietor wants to inform his friends that he will sell wine there by the gallon at the same reasonable prices until further notice, when it can be had in less quantities.

Mention was made yesterday of some disturbance in the neighborhood of the courthouse late at night. The proprietor of the European fears lest it may be thought that the trouble was in that house and for their benefit we state the trouble complained of was upon the other street.

The Diamond Mills have resumed operations again. So many orders were received that their reserve of flour was quickly used up and they were compelled to start the machinery. The mills have done a great deal in keeping up the price of wheat and attracting farmers to this city. We are glad to see them prospering.

Monday was the banner day of the Wasco warehouse, more wool being received on that day than ever before. Over 500 sacks were received and the whole force was busy making room for the consignment. The baler is busy today on wool belonging to C. S. Moses and to M. Koshland. These shipments will go to Boston.

A large number of farmers are cutting hay this season instead of letting the grain ripen for wheat. A gentleman living near The Dalles sold twenty-five tons this week for $10 a ton, when last fall the price paid was between $7 and $8. Several large fields on the hill back from Chenoweth and on the Klickitat mountain, in sight of town, have already been cut for hay.

There is going to be some more fun among the Elks tonight. Several candidates from The Dalles will go down to Cascades by boat tonight and be inducted into the mysteries of the order. Those who went last time had a splendid time and the affair tonight promises a successful repetition. The Elks are royal entertainers and none but the best are chosen for the order.

The Chautauquas Assembly are making great preparations for their convention at Oregon City, which begins July 10th and lasts ten days. The list of orators who will speak is an unusually brilliant one and those who attend will hear distinguished men. Dr. F. W. Gunnarus of Chicago, probably one of the most eloquent pupil orators of America, will deliver a lecture on Savorola.

The usual runaway took place this morning. Noticing there had not been one for a long time, the horse that hauls the Pacific Express wagon started up the street and soon drew a crowd out to see how fast he was going. The wagon wasn't a racing sulkey, however, and the horse didn't go so fast but what a man jumped in the wagon, grabbed the lines and brought the impromptu runaway to a stop. The previous record remains unbroken.

The ball to be given by the Jackson Engine Co., on the night of the Fourth promises to be a very pleasant event. Every detail is being carefully arranged by the committee in charge and from the number of tickets that are being sold, a large crowd will surely attend. The music will be by the Orchestra Union and many will go just to hear them play, while those who dance can be sure of having splendid music. The ball will be a fitting close for the observance of the Fourth.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c.

A good joke is being told on a member of the police force. Last night an Indian in the east end of town, became somewhat obstreperous and necessitated an arrest being made. A policeman was quickly on the ground and captured him together with his horse. The problem of how to get him to jail was solved by the man with a star taking hold of the bridle and leading the horse with the Indian upon it down Second street. All went well till a shout of laughter caused the captor to turn around and see that his victim had given him the slip and that he was taking an inoffensive home to jail. The Indian, realizing how cheap was horseflesh, concluded he could sacrifice his pony better than he could his pride and so slipped from the horse and fled. His freedom was short lived, however, for he was soon recaptured and greeted the new recorder this morning in the police court.

A complaint was sworn out in Justice Davis' court charging Lee Morehouse with the larceny of a horse from Myron Taft and a saddle from Albert Roberts, on the Deechutes. Taft is the private prosecutor. Constable Urquhart received word last night that Morehouse had passed Hood River westward-bound, and was probably going to Cascade Locks. Mr. Urquhart went down on the Regulator this morning, and expects to bring his man back today. Morehouse is also charged with the larceny of some wheat from George Rice, but no allegation was made in the complaint.

The Harmony, a monthly paper published in The Dalles and edited by J. G. Miller, reached our table this morning. It is very attractive in form and contains many articles of real merit. The pages are devoted to musical topics and are enthusiastic in its support of The Dalles Orchestra. If the succeeding copies keep the high standard of the issue for June every lover of music should not fail to be a reader. THE CHRONICLE hopes its little neighbor will have abundant success and help to stimulate interest in the musical talent of this city.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Frank Huott went to Portland today.

Mr. H. W. French went to Portland on this afternoon local.

Miss Hilda Beck went to Portland this morning for a short visit.

Mr. T. J. Moffit, of Rutledge, Sherman county, is in the city today.

Mr. D. M. French and T. J. Driver returned last night from Portland.

Mr. J. A. Zumwalt, a farmer in the Wamic country, is in The Dalles today.

Mr. D. H. Roberts returned last night from Portland, where he made a short visit.

Mr. B. S. Huntington and family left this morning for a camping trip down the river.

Mr. O. M. Scott, formerly a resident of Sherman county but now a business man of Portland, is in the city.

Dr. Sturdevant, who has been absent from the city on professional business in the country, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. A. M. Williams and her daughter, Mrs. H. W. French, were passengers to Portland this morning on the Regulator.

Miss Myrtle Michell is visiting in Portland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mays. She is expected home in a short time.

Amos Underwood, a pioneer resident along the Columbia, was in the city last night. He is one of the oldest settlers along the river.

Miss Anna Smith of Hood River has been chosen a delegate to the national convention of the Christian Endeavor society, which meets at Boston.

Rev. I. H. Hazel, pastor of the First Christian church, accompanied by his wife, returned last night from a somewhat lengthy absence from the city.

Mrs. C. W. Garrison, daughter of Mr. Henry Williams of 8-Mile, came up from St. Helens on the boat last night to attend her brother, Frank Williams, who is still very sick.

Mrs. Frank Shoemaker of Hood River and Mrs. L. M. Shellaberger of Portland, who has been visiting near Hood River, came up on the Regulator last night and returned this morning.
