BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Additional Local on Fourth Page.

The weather forecast for tomorrow is stationary and Thursday cooler.

The upper river and the Columbia are falling. This is what the fisherman want.

Parties having bills against the Fourth of July committee are requested to present them to the treasurer, Henry J. Maier, at once.

Rev. C. P. Bailey of Prineville will preach in the Calvary Baptist Church tonight at 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

The Taine Class met last evening at the residence of Mrs. Wilson. The ladies passed a pleasant evening reading and discussing Taine's lectures on Carlyle.

At the tent tonight the discourse will be an answer to the question asked by the Phillipian jailer, "What Shall I do to be Saved?" The question is as vital now as it was then.

A meeting of the Redmen will be held at their wigwam tomorrow night. All members of Wasco Tribe, No. 16, are requested to be present, as important business will come before the lodge.

Eight cars loaded with telegraph poles and supplies passed through The Dalles today. The poles are for use between here and Portland. Workmen will start from Portland and work this way, replacing the old poles with larger new ones.

A gang of men are at work on the railroad east of Seuferts, blasting and making improvements on the roadbed. The expenditures which the railroad company is making will be for its permanent good and reflect credit on the management.

The Regulator was well loaded with wool on her downward trip. This shipment is by Mr. J. H. Sherar and the bales are extra large ones, three sacks being compressed into one bale. There is a large amount of wool awaiting consignment by the boat.

During the wind this morning the new circus bulletin board on Second street, near Pease & Mays' warehouse, blew down and the lions, tigers, tight rope walkers and bicycle riders lay in the dust. Workmen were quickly employed to straighten it again.

John Parrott, who was one of the men nominated for marshal by Mayor Menefee but lacked confirmation, thinks some of contesting the election of Mr. Blakenev. Mr. Parrott claims there was a mistake and that he was legally elected. He purposes of bringing contest proceedings.

An east wind has been blowing all day. Some have been anxious of its effects on the growing grain. The wind has been cooler than generally at this time of the year and unless it is long continued we doubt if any damage is done. The day has been hazy, which will aid in protecting the crops.

The work at the high trestle is now completed and trains are running over the new grade. The rails have been taken off the bridge and laid on the grade and passengers will no longer hold their breath as the train passes this point. The company have shown wisdom, as this piece of the road, before the change, was one of the most dangerous on the road. The bridge will probably be torn down and the timber used in other places.

Last evening the Independent Workers Lodge, I. O. G. T., held a pleasant session at their lodge room and under good of the order, decided to hold a social in their hall next Monday evening. The secretary was instructed to send an invitation to the three lodges in this district, Fairview, Frazier and The Dalles lodges, asking them to join in the social. A nice musical and literary program will be given, followed by ice cream and cake. A good time is expected and everybody invited, including those who are not members of the order as well as those who are. A small admission will be charged and the proceeds used for the good of the temperance work.

Last night about 9 o'clock, W. A. Jackson died at the Columbia hotel. Mr. Jackson had been sick with asthma for four or five years, but was not confined to his bed till about two weeks ago. Since that time he grew steadily worse and his death was momentarily expected. The deceased has been a resident of The Dalles for a period covering fifteen years, but a portion of the time was spent at Albina, where he was employed in the carshops. He leaves a wife and one child in Portland, besides a stepson, George Galley, in this city, who have been notified of his death. The body has been taken to the undertaking parlors, where the funeral will be held.

Change in the Regulator's Time Card. Commencing Wednesday, July 10th and until further notice, steamer Regulator will leave The Dalles for Portland at 8 a. m., instead of 7 a. m. Steamer Dalles City will leave Portland at 7 a. m., instead of 6 a. m.
