A Visit to the Eye Specialist.

Not many people realize what a proper examination of the eye for glasses means. They are used to going into a store where spectacles are to be had, are shown a card and one glass after the other is tried until such as seem to suit are selected. A visit to the rooms of Dr. Lewenberg, the eye specialist at the Umatilla House, reveals a different modus operandi. The doctor darkens the room and by the aid of a little instrument resembling a mirror with a hole in the center, a ray of light is thrown from a lamp into the interior of the eye. By these means the entire organ is inspected and measured. Then daylight is let into the room. The doctor then goes to his case of lenses, technically called a trial case, compounds a pair of lenses such as he has determined in dark room, fits each eye separately and with it you can see as good as ever. All this without your aid. No questions are asked; that is all there is of it. The method of examination is different in different eye troubles, but in the patient is passive, it matters not if it be a child of tender years, or an adult. The trouble is read of your eyes like you read a book. Such proficiency can only be obtained by years of constant practice. When at the office there were a number of our prominent people waiting in the parlor for their turn for examination. We should advise all who suffer from defective vision to consult the doctor at the earliest opportunity. ** All druggists sell Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

CONCERNING PIANOS. Kimball's Methods a Menace to the Entire Trade.

[Chicago Musical News.] The following advertisement has been given a prominent position in the daily papers of Washington, D. C., and has been printed in the Chicago Musical News and the American Hebrew News, of Portland. We desire to call the attention of the public to it.

The unfairness of the assertions it contains needs no emphasizing, for they will appear at once to the sense of right inherent in every legitimate dealer in pianos all over the country:

Next Tuesday will be a special bargain day on pianos at our store. We have found some grand bargains in new Upright Pianos (not the celebrated Kimball pianos), and propose to give the public a chance to secure new pianos next Tuesday at manufacturers' wholesale prices.

The prices Tuesday next for these new elegant Upright pianos will be only $149 and $159 each. Part time given if desired. These pianos will be on exhibit at our store all day Monday, but no sales will be made from this lot until Tuesday, and will continue that day only.

W. W. KIMBALL, Co., Metzgerott Building, Cor. 12th and F. Sts. The Kimball Company may regard such methods as fair and honorable, but they are open to the severest criticism in attempting to destroy the piano trade in Washington after many years of honorable work to promote it.

The unfairness of the card lies in the assertion that the pianos which are to be sold at sacrificial prices are not made by the Kimball company. Therein is the poison.

This whole scheme is perpetrated to give the Kimball pianos a position to which their merits do not entitle them. Although the Kimball advertisement declares these are not Kimball pianos which are to be slaughtered it does not enhance the value of their own instruments.

Those who are familiar with the Kimball pianos know perfectly well that the makers can afford to sell them at just such ruinous prices as are quoted for other instruments in their possession at Washington.

What is there in the Kimball piano to justify this step? Nothing. The Kimball company make one of the cheapest pianos in the United States.

And after the Kimball piano is made ready for the market it is not then worth a place above a low rank.

When you come to think of it, can you name any genuine, first-class house that is selling the Kimball pianos?

The Kimball managers may consider they have made a brilliant stroke, but they are merely using gigantic power to foist a cheap make on 'the market.

The question is also one of a broader conception than mere local purview. Such advertisements as these cut at the root of the piano industry for they mislead private buyers.

We shall not let this subject stop here. It is fraught with grave danger to the entire trade, and, although the Kimball company is composed of schrovd schemers, they may find they have far overstepped the bounds of legitimate business dealing.
