Reporters.

Additional Local on Fourth Page.

Mrs. Obarr will give a chicken dinner and ice cream tomorrow, all for 25 cents, at the Farmer's restaurant.

A carload of Mitchell & Lewis header trucks has just been received at the warehouse of J. T. Peters & Co.

The weather forecast for to-morrow is fair and warmer. The temperature at two o'clock today was 84 degrees.

The Regulator made a landing at Rockland this morning to put off some merchandise for Goldendale merchants.

Policeman Connelly picked up a gold bracelet last night in his wanderings around town. The owner can get it at The Chronicle office by proving ownership.

In Justice Davis' court today James Foster plead guilty to the charge of larceny of a monkey wrench from L. Clarke and was given 10 days in the county jail.

There will be a special meeting of the board of fire delegates next Monday evening at the city hall to appoint polling places for the election of chief which takes place August 5th.

The life of the circus performer when he is not in the ring, but in his dressing-room preparing for his "act," or when he is an ungarnished, every-day citizen, will be described, with abundant illustrations, in McClure's Magazine for August.

Some men were experimenting with a machine, to take gold from the river sand, this morning on the beach. The machine was a simple looking affair and although the men worked hard, the gold refused to come. Perhaps the silver men tinkered with the apparatus.

Several tourists came up on the boat last night and returned this morning.
It is yet a little early for the tourist travel to be at its height, but before the summer is over a large number of Eastern excursionists will view from the steamer decks the matchless scenery of the Columbia.

Since the circus and Fourth of July are past the city officers have had a relaxation in business. The popularity of the city jail has decreased and there is not the same rush for admission as several weeks ago. Last night the police gathered in one drunk and disorderly and one in common parlance called a "vag." Beside these Nightwatch Haslam arrested a man charged with stealing. The fellow had a monkey wrench and other articles in his hand to which there seemed no valid title.

No sooner is the wool rush over than preparations are begun for the wheat season. The large warehouses are getting ready for a busy time in the fall.
The Wasco warehouse expects to do a big business and has ordered a large consignment of grain sacks. Fifty thousand sacks are expected to arrive Monday and this will be but the first consignment.

Hay is coming into town in large quantities now and so far finds a ready sale. On account of the low price of wheat last season many farmers this year will cut their crop for hay and there will be a greater quantity harvested.
Some who intended cutting have concluded to let their fields ripen and be threshed for wheat as indications point to a fair price in the fall.

Tomorrow evening the Methodists and Congregationalists will hold union services at the Methodist church. A week from tomorrow joint services will be held in the Congregational church.
The plan of joining forces and holding alternate union services, if found to be suitable, will continue during the summer. Everybody is cordially invited to attend the union services.

James Hagan, the man who was shot during the melee Sunday morning, has sufficiently recovered to be again on the streets. He walks somewhat lame, but will soon be in good shape again. The wound was not as serious as at first thought. McDonald will breathe considerably easier now that he will not have to answer a charge of murder. He can consider himself lucky that his shots turned out so fortunately.

There are over 200,000 sheep on the range near Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams.
They will come back in the fall from the grassy slopes in good condition for the winter siege. The proximity of rich pasturage and a mild climate will make this section the centre of the sheep and wool industry, and because of its transportation facilities The Dalles will be the great market. All the more reasons why woolen and scouring mills should be established.

Fraser Lodge No. 16, I. O. G. T., at Three Mile, will give a Shadow sociable Saturday, July 27th. All are invited to take part. The ladies will stand behind the curtain and their shadow will be sold to the highest bidder. The party purchasing the shadow will eat supper with the owner, and as Three Mile ladies are known to bring supper for three and only two to eat it those who like a good lunch are sure to find it. There will be a short program consisting of recitations and musical exercises.

The country around the Cascades and Stevenson is proving very popular with Dalles people this season. A good many families are camping at these points and are delighted with the surroundings. There are many beautiful lakes and streams near the Columbia and in the dense woods are found many pretty spots. As the mountains on the Washington side are farther back from the river than in Oregon the country is much more level. Good hunting and fishing attract the sportsman and a pleasant camp by a quiet lake or laughing brook makes a life a dream for the lazy inclined, the mosquitoes affording just enough exercise to prevent a person becoming too sluggish.

The manager of the Oregon Fruit Union is busy today getting ready a carload of peaches and plums, which leaves tonight for the East. Early this morning a half of the necessary amount was on hand and a good deal of fruit came in during the day. Mr. Pinkham says this will be the first car of peaches to leave the state for the Eastern market and Wasco county again leads the parade.
For several years fruit growers have realized but little from their crops, but this season the prospects are better and there will be profits return to our fruit men.

The academy building is undergoing a thorough renovation. The roof and bel-try have been painted and the interior cleaned and varnished. New seats have been ordered for some of the rooms and many changes and improvements will have been made by the time school is ready to begin. The grounds are also being put in order. The situation is a beautiful one and too much care cannot be spent upon the surroundings. The academy park can be made a suitable place for out door meetings and money that is spent upon improvements will be for the good of everybody.

The Dalles and Pendleton.

The wool business at the scouring mill is about finished for the season, though the mill will continue to scour until September. The manufacture of soap in connection with the mill promises to be a flourishing industry. Besides using from 5,000 to 6,000 pounds a month, the company has sold three tons of laundry soap. This makes an excellent market for tallow, all the tallow obtainable during the winter being necessary for the summer run.—Pendleton Tribune.

This is the way things are done in Pendleton, and The Dalles should imitate its busy neighbor. The scouring mill has been the making of Pendleton just as the boat company has helped The Dalles. We possess every advantage that Pendleton has and more for we are the business centre of a greater area of country. Our transportation facilities exceed those of Pendleton and we have as much and possibly more idle capital.
Our business men are just as bright and their credit just as good. The experiment of the D. P. & A. N. Co. shows what we can do when we try. Let us be up and doing, for with proper effort the future before us is great. First we want a board of trade, chamber of commerce, commercial club, or any organization that can advance the interests of the town. This is the first step towards getting a woolen mill. We must have a pay roll.

The Macabees will meet tomorrow evening, at 8 o'clock, at Fraternity hall.
Important work. All are requested to be present.

Dr. Miller's Nerve Plaster for Rheumatism.

the large shipping firm of Balfour, Guthrie & Co. and has been traveling through Eastern Oregon and Washington, looking after the large wheat business in which that firm is interested.
He speaks of The Dalles as one of the very best towns he has seen during his travels.
