BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Additional Local on Fourth Page.

The weather report for tomorrow says cloudy and cooler.

The Fruit Union will ship a car of fruit tomorrow for the East. More will go to-night.

The Regulator office will be the most conspicuous building in town with its new coat of fiery color.

Passenger travel by boat and rail was light today. The Regulator was crowded with wool on her downward trip.

Prof. Le Compte will give an exhibition of fire-eating tomorrow night at Sam Thurman's lemonade stand.

The meals set out on the steamer Dalles City for 25 cents are a revelation to many who cannot understand how it can be done.

Two hundred and ninety boxes of fruit came up from Mosier yesterday and were transferred at The Dalles to an east bound freight.

Two hobos greeted the city recorder this morning with the usual alternative of a fine or a sentence in jail. They chose the latter.

A council of the Junior Order of American Mechanics was organized Saturday night in Kellar's hall. Twenty-two signed as charter members.

Captain Waud resumed his place in the pilot house this morning, after a week's vacation. Captain McNulty will go back to his farm near Mosier.

The steamer Dalles City is fast becoming the popular line for tourists. Last Saturday over eighty passengers went to The Dalles on this line of boats.—Vancouver Independent.

Another lot of victims for the sacrificial altar of the horse cannery, passed through The Dalles bound for Portland this morning. There were fifteen cars of horses on their way to be slaughtered.

A train of twenty-two cars loaded with tea for the Eastern states, passed through The Dalles this morning. The tea had just been brought to Portland by the steamer Asloun, of the new China steamship line.

The Regulator was inspected yesterday by Messrs. Frank McDermott and E. S. Edwards, government inspectors. The hull and boiler were found in first class condition and the other parts of the boat were satisfactory to the inspectors. The Regulator officials had no knowledge that the inspectors were coming and had made no special preparations for the examination. Mr. Edwards and Mr. McDermott have just returned from Snake river, where they made inspections of several boats.

A deed is on record in the office of the county clerk from O. D. Taylor and Sarah K. Taylor to George H. Williams of Portland, conveying for $1 and other valuable considerations, the two farms known as the Lair Hill place and the Rev. W. H. Wilson farm.

The cow belonging to Mr. J. T. Peters was stolen Saturday night and taken into the country. Tracks of the cow and horses were seen leading from the barn, which being traced up, led to the finding of the animal yesterday, by two small boys, who returned it to the owner.

A wedding took place yesterday in Dufur at the residence of G. W. Johnston. Miss Annie Neal and Mr. Samuel B. Johnston were the contracting parties and the ceremony was performed by Justice A. J. Brigham. Mr. Johnston is of the well-known Johnston Bros. at Dufur and Miss Neal is a granddaughter of Mr. W. L. Ward. The happy couple will reside on a farm near Dufur.

The excursion party which went to Bonneville Saturday, returned last night satisfied with having thoroughly enjoyed their jaunt. The young people were royally entertained and the hours of their stay passed all too quickly. It is said the young gentlemen who went along in the capacity of chaperones, were the victims of several practical jokes which considerably disturbed their equanimity but they all came back smiling.

Harvesting is now in full blast in all the wheat producing sections of Wasco, Sherman and Klickitat counties. Heading is in process near town and Sherman county the threshing machines are at work. From now on the farmers will work many long hours every day getting the products of their year's labor. The transportation companies are looking forward to handling a lot of grain, and this fall will be a busy season for merchants in The Dalles.

The famous trotter, Fred Hambleton, which several years ago was king of the turf in the Northwest, was shipped to Portland on the Regulator today. He belongs to T. H. Tongue of Hillsboro, but has been for a season at Goldendale. Mr. Tongue was offered for this horse $15,000 a few years ago, but refused the offer. One thousand dollars would probably buy the horse now. Young Planter, another horse with a pedigree, went down on the boat also.

Yesterday morning at 7:30 Henry Bills, Archie McCulley, Chas. Fritz, Bert Barrett, Will Crossen, Edwin Riggs, Harry Esping and Gus Bartell started on their wheels for a ride to Deschutes, a distance of about 17 miles. The first stop was made at Mr. Floyd's, on 5-Mile, where the riders were shown through the orchard and told to help themselves to the fruit. After a short rest the start was made again and after a ride up and down hills and across valleys, the Deschutes was reached at 9 o'clock. The boys were hospitably entertained at the residence of William Shelley, where they partook of a bounteous dinner, the result of Mrs. Shelley's culinary skill. At 2:30 p. m. the return trip began and a ride of an hour and ten minutes brought the cavalcade to Mr. Floyd's again, where a short stop was made and then a swim in the creek. The Dalles was reached at 5 p. m., making a total distance of 33 miles without an accident to mar the pleasure of the ride. From Floyd's the boys raced in to town and the bicycles were strung out for nearly a mile.

It is time to agitate the question of sending a hose team to the tournament at Vancouver. The Dalles proved last 4th of July that it has abundant material from which to choose a good team and one that with proper drill can carry off first honors. Only a little over a month intervenes between now and the day of the tournament, which will be held the first week of September. Let our Firemen take the initiative and the citizens will give all necessary assistance.

Real estate agents complain of the scarcity of dwelling houses. Demands are coming in every day more than can be filled and this is vacation time when a great many people are out of town. When school begins in the fall and the usual number of families move in from the country to give the children a chance for schooling, there will be a serious difficulty to obtain shelter. The population of The Dalles is increasing steadily and at a more rapid rate than most people imagine. Some neat little cottages, if they were built, would find speedy rental for a fair return.

Union Services at the Congregational Church.

Yesterday morning and evening the Methodist and Congregational churches joined in worshipping in the Congregational church. Good audiences were present both morning and evening and listened to able sermons by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Curtis. The morning text was from Isaiah, "Hearken Ye That Seek the Lord." The bible in many places calls to hearken and consider and this was a particular class called upon to listen. In speaking of blessings in disguise, Mr. Curtis used the illustration of a man confined in a dungeon into which came only a few rays of light through a small crevice. This was his only comfort. One day, hearing workmen as if repairing the wall and shutting out the ray of light, he cried out "Spare my crevice," but it was men come to open the prison and let in the full light of day. The application was made to people who often are affrighted and fear they shall lose their small light and with it everything, when the threatened change is only to let in a greater and richer blessing. The sermon was an able one and listened to appreciatively by the audience.

The text for the evening was from Matt. ix: 21, "For she said if I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole."

Christ is the one that the world to reach for if it would be healed from sin. Every garment of Christ connects with him and in drawing near to the Savior a kind word, a good deed, even a smile, a song, the word of a friend might be the garment that would lead to Christ. He then cautioned his hearers that being in a crowd would not touch Christ. There must be a reaching out after him. One of the features of the evening service was the bass solo by Mr. Eugene C. Price. Mr. Price's voice is well known to the people of The Dalles, and his singing last night showed it had lost none of its richness of former years.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. C. G. Roberts of Hood River is in the city.

Mr. B. F. Laughlin returned home Saturday from Ilwaco.

Ehren Korten left on the Regulator for a visit in Portland.

Mr. Franklin Irvine, a merchant of Antelope, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggs came home last night from Portland.

Mrs. Robert Pilkington of Antelope is registered at the Umatilla.

Mrs. Hendershot left yesterday for Portland for a few days visit.

Mr. A. J. Brigham, justice of the peace at Dufur, was in the city today.

Mr. H. B. Shannon, representing the Model Laundry company of Portland, is in the city.

Mr. J. B. Haverly, one of Wasco's substantial farmers, was upon our streets this afternoon.

Mrs. B. A. Hunsaker and family have removed from Heppner to their new home in The Dalles.

Mr. S. Farrell of Portland, a part owner in The Dalles Packing Company, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. S. P. M. Briggs and family returned on the midnight train for a visit to Portland and Chehalis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Keister, who have been visiting for two weeks in Walla Walla, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. G. C. Blakeley and Miss Rose Michell are still at Newport and will remain ten days or two weeks longer.

Mr. Julius Fisher left yesterday for Portland and the sea shore. He will take a two weeks vacation from work.

Mr. Simeon Bolton, deputy county clerk, returned this morning from Goldendale, to which place he went last Friday.

Mr. Emil Schanno went to Grants this morning in response to a request to examine some fruit, said to be affected with scale.

Mr. R. C. Wallis of Rufus is in the city. He says four loads of this year's wheat have come into Rufus and a good deal of last year's is coming in every day.

Mr. John H. Wigle was a passenger down the river on the Regulator this morning to spend his summer vacation. He will first go to Moffit Springs and then to the coast for some sea breezes.

Mrs. Long of Halsey, Oregon, came up on the Regulator Saturday to spend several months in Eastern Oregon to seek renewed health. She is visiting the family of W. H. Taylor in Dry Hollow.

Judge George C. Blakeley returned yesterday from attending the Press Association at Newport. He reports that everyone who attended had an enjoyable time and were well pleased with the hospitality of Newport.
